

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. Mr. W. W. Old presented the following report of the committee appointed at last Council [JOURNAL 1889, p. 27] to consider the expediency of appointing legally incorporated Boards of Trustees, subject to control of the Council.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON BOARDS OF TRUSTEES.

The committee appointed by the last Council [JOURNAL 1889, page 27] “ to consider the expediency of appointing one or more Boards of Trustees to be legally incorporated for the purpose of holding, subject to the direction and control of the Diocesan Council, all invested funds now existing, or hereafter to be accumulated for the benefit of the various church charities of the Diocese,” beg leave respectfully to report :

That they have had several meetings, all the members of the committee

being present, at which they considered the matters submitted to them, and as a result of their deliberations they submit to the Council the following as the form of a charter which will best serve the purposes in view, to be applied for at the next session of the General Assembly :

“An act to incorporate the Council of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Virginia, for the purposes therein mentioned.”

WHEREAS, The members of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Commonwealth of Virginia, have contributed and raised certain funds for the support of their disabled Clergy, the widows and orphans of their deceased Clergy, and the Episcopate of said Church, and desire from year to year to continue such contributions for these and other charitable purposes ; and,

WHEREAS, also, The Council of the said Church, which is known as “the Council of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Virginia,” which by the constitution thereof is entrusted with the administration of its affairs, has no legal authority to receive, invest or dispose of the said funds or the proceeds arising therefrom, and to that end have asked that a law may be passed incorporating the said Council, for the purpose alone of receiving, holding and administering the said funds, according to the design of the said contributors.

Now, therefore, be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Virginia :

1. That the persons who now constitute and may hereafter constitute the Council of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Virginia shall be and they are hereby incorporated and made a body corporate and politic, by the name of “The Council of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Virginia,” and by that name they and their successors to be elected, appointed and qualified according to the form and effect of the constitution and canons of the said church in said Diocese, for the time being, shall have perpetual succession, and by that name be capable of suing or being sued in any court of law or equity, and shall have and use a common seal, and shall have all the general powers incident to bodies corporate, or which may be necessary or proper to carry into effect the objects of this incorporation.

2. That the said corporation shall have full power and authority to take and hold subscriptions, gifts or contributions in money or otherwise, for the purpose of providing for their disabled Clergy, the widows and orphans of their deceased Clergy, and for the support of the Episcopate in the said Diocese, and for any other charitable purpose, and the same to invest or distribute and apply, for the purposes aforesaid, as may from time to time be deemed most expedient, and shall likewise have full power and authority to appoint an executive committee or committees, or board or boards of trustees, by whatever name or names they may be designated, to administer said funds in such manner and form and with such authority as the said corporation shall from time to time prescribe.

3. That if this act shall be accepted by the Council of the Protestant

Report of Committee on Boards of Trustees.

Episcopal Church of said Diocese, at their next annual meeting, the said Council shall proceed to adopt such rules and regulations in regard to the said funds and their administration, as to the said Council shall seem expedient, which rules and regulations may be amended, modified or altered by any subsequent Council of said Church in said Diocese.

4. That nothing herein contained shall enlarge, restrict or in any manner affect the power or authority, which the said Council now has or may exercise, or claim over the said Church within said Diocese, or the members thereof, but all such powers and authorities, which are or may be lawfully claimed or exercised, shall remain in like condition, and none other, as if this act had not been passed.

5. That the said Council shall have the power to surrender this charter at any time after its acceptance, upon a vote of a majority of both the Clergy and the Laity composing said Council, voting separately, at two consecutive annual meetings thereof.

6. That this act shall be in force from its passage.

In submitting this form of charter, your committee deem it proper to say a few words in explanation of their action.

The resolution under which they have acted required them "to consider the expediency of appointing one or more boards of trustees to be legally incorporated, etc." The form of charter they recommend provides for the incorporation of this Council, and that it shall appoint the board or boards of trustees who are to manage the trust funds of the Diocese. In this way the whole control of these funds will be in this Council, and the trustees appointed to manage them will be subject to its legislation and control, according to such rules and regulations as it shall from time to time prescribe. This they think desirable, and they consider it better than to have one board of trustees incorporated to manage all the several trust funds, which might lead to some confusion and possible embarrassment, and would be more objectionable than the plan proposed, or several boards of trustees, one for each trust fund, which would require as many separate charters as there are trust subjects, and would be even more confusing and embarrassing. Your committee have aimed to submit a plan which will place these trust funds, legally, directly in the hands of this Council, so that it can have the most direct control over them, and itself be the incorporated board of trustees holding the legal title; and, after consulting the various plans for managing such funds as they exist in several of the Dioceses, they considered that adopted by the Diocese of Maryland as the most practical and direct, and took as the model of the charter proposed, the charter granted by the Legislature of that State incorporating the Convention of that Diocese. This Council can, when incorporated, appoint committees or boards of trustees to manage these several funds as they are now managed, and prescribe the rules and regulations for their management and control through appointed agents.

Report of Committee on Boards of Trustees—Referred to Special Committee.

The question has been raised, however, and we beg to call attention to it, that as the Council, as such, is known only during its sessions, possibly some change should be made in our constitution, whereby the Lay members elected to our Council shall continue to be the Lay members representing their several and respective Parishes until their successors are elected.

Your committee therefore submit the following resolutions :

1. That the Council adopt the form of charter as proposed by the committee, and that a committee of Laymen be appointed by the President, who shall apply on behalf of this Council to the General Assembly of this Commonwealth at its next session to have the same passed.

2. That a committee of Clergymen and Laymen be appointed by the President to take into consideration and report such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the management and control of the trust funds which this Council may hold by virtue of said charter ; and also what changes, if any, are necessary to be made in our constitution to effect the purposes of the said charter.

FREDERICK F. REESE, Chairman,

W. B. MARTIN,
WM. W. OLD.

It was moved to amend by striking out the word “consecutive.”

Bishop's Report.

God has wonderfully blessed our beloved communion in this Diocese. Many events have occurred and changes taken place, which it might be not unprofitable to recall and dwell upon, but, not wishing to detain you longer than is necessary, I proceed to give account of quite a large amount of work which I have been enabled to do during the past year.

1889, May 14th.—In St. Paul's Church, Lynchburg, confirmed four.

May 26th.—Emmanuel Church, Franklin, Southampton county, preached, confirmed five, and celebrated the Lord's Supper, the Rev. A. Smith, D. D., of North Carolina, kindly assisting in the services. This church was then vacant, but has since been supplied with a Minister from the Seminary.

June 3d.—Was prevented by high water and damage to railroad tracks from leaving home, and so missed thirteen appointments in the Northern Neck.

June 10th.—Assisted the chaplains in their examination of candidates for orders in the Divinity School, Petersburg.

June 14th.—St. James, Ashland, preached, and confirmed five.

June 16th.—Preached morning and night in the Church of the Epiphany, Danville, and confirmed thirty-seven.

June 18th.—Attended the annual meeting of the Trustees of the Divinity and Industrial School, Petersburg.

June 19th.—Assisted in the chaplain's examinations at the Theological Seminary.

June 23d.—Assisted by Rev. Dr. K. Nelson, consecrated St. Paul's Chapel, Fairfax county, preached, and confirmed ten. This is one of a number of pretty and comfortable churches in the neighborhood of the Seminary, where services are regularly conducted by the students, under the rectorship of Dr. Nelson. In the afternoon of the same day preached in Meade Chapel (colored), Alexandria, and confirmed four.

June 24th.—Preached in Trinity Chapel, another of the Seminary Missions, and confirmed four.

July 3d.—St. John's, Warsaw, preached, and confirmed eleven; and in the afternoon, after sermon by Rev. R. A. Castleman, confirmed eleven in St. Paul's Chapel, Westmoreland county.

July 7th.—Read morning prayer, baptized two children, and preached in St. Peter's, and in the afternoon preached in Payne's Chapel, Westmoreland. These churches, then vacant, are now in charge of their former Rector, Rev. Wm. C. Latané.

August 11th.—Preached morning and afternoon in Christ Church, Luray, baptized an adult, confirmed four, and celebrated the Lord's

MINISTERS DECEASED.

Four of our brethren have been taken from us by death during the past year. June 28th, 1889, the Rev. George A. Smith departed this life at his home in Alexandria, in the 87th year of his age. He had long been in feeble health and unable to perform any regular ministerial duties. He was the first alumnus of our Theological Seminary, and the senior Presbyterian of the Diocese. His character and life have recently been so beautifully and faithfully portrayed by the Rev. Dr. Slaughter, that it would be worse than useless for me to attempt to add anything to what he has written.

The Rev. John Cannon Hobson was ordained Deacon in June, 1885, and soon after took charge of St. John's Church, Petersburg, where he labored most acceptably for about a year, and then became Rector of Lexington Parish, Amherst county. Here he struggled bravely against feeble and declining health, until he was entirely disabled for any duty, more than a year before his death, which occurred in Richmond, February 15th, 1890. A noble young man, admired for his talents and beloved for his character, he was called away from his earthly labors to his eternal reward almost at the commencement of what promised to be a faithful and most successful ministry.

April 1st, 1890, at his residence near Halifax C. H., suddenly departed this life the Rev. Wellington E. Webb, aged seventy-three years. This zealous and indefatigable brother had labored in many places in this Diocese, and in at least four different Dioceses of our Bishop's Report.

Church, his ministrations being mostly in feeble or unorganized Parishes. For many of the last years of his life he had devoted himself chiefly to work among the colored people, not without a good measure of success. He had given the land, built a church and established a flourishing school for them at his home, and was in the midst of his active and successful labors when called to his rest. "Inasmuch as ye did it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye did it unto me."

The Rev. Richard H. Phillips, after spending several of the earlier years of his ministry in Maryland, returned to his native Virginia and was known in the Diocese for more than thirty years as the successful Principal of the Female Institute in Staunton. It is impossible to estimate the great work he did for Christ and our Church through the many girls whom he educated and sent forth as Christian women through all parts of the South. Compelled by failing health several years ago to resign the charge of the Institute, he subsequently removed with his family to Norfolk, where he died, April 7th, 1890, in the eightieth year of his age.

It would not be right for me to omit to briefly record here that Mr. Cassius F. Lee, often a member of this Council and a deputy to the General Convention from this Diocese, closed his long, exemplary and useful life in Alexandria, January 23d, 1890, after having attained the age of more than four-score years. Mr. Lee had been Treasurer of our Education Society and of the corporation of the Seminary and High School almost from the beginning, and these institutions never had a more devoted, constant and faithful friend. Those who were associated with him in their management will long and greatly miss his presence and counsel.

MINISTER DEPOSED.

The reports from our different literary and benevolent institutions will show that they have done well the past year. The Episcopal High School and Virginia Female Institute continue to prosper under the management of their able and accomplished Principals. The unsurpassed advantages of our Seminary for the theoretical and practical, intellectual and spiritual training of candidates for the ministry were never, I believe, more widely appreciated than they are now. It appears from the last catalogue that its fifty-nine students represent as many as fourteen different Dioceses of our Church. Kind friends have contributed the means to greatly improve the comfort and appearance of the buildings, and the beauty and attractiveness of the grounds, and very much is due to the Rev. Dr. Suter and Professor Crawford for their agency in accomplishing this good work.

The last General Convention passed a canon—not only, as it seems to me, unobjectionable, but admirable—for the revival of what, I believe, is universally admitted to be the apostolic Order of Deaconesses in the Church. It was thought advisable to take advantage of this legislation, and to begin without delay to gather a fund to establish in our own Diocese a Home, where such women as should offer themselves for this service might make adequate preparation, both technical and religious, for their important work. Accordingly a charter was obtained from the last Legislature of the State incorporating a board of trustees, by the name and style of “The Bethany Institute,” “for the purpose of establishing and conducting an orphan asylum and hospital, and for educating women in the care of the poor and the sick, the religious training of the young and others, and the work of moral reformation.” The first offering for this object came from an interested and liberal minister of another Diocese, and a few other contributions have been received. Thus has been made an humble beginning of what I believe will prove in time to be, by the blessing of God, one of our most important agencies for doing good to the bodies and souls of men. I ask for the Bethany Institute the prayers and the money of all who desire to promote the work of women in the Church of Christ.

A committee was appointed by the last Council to report on the subject of legally and securely investing our various church funds. This is a matter of great importance, which should be attended to without delay, and I hope we shall hear from the committee. The title to much of our Church property, I suspect, is imperfect, if not worthless, and should be looked into and, if necessary, perfected. In at least one Diocese, if I have not been misinformed, there is a corporation which holds, as trustee, the title of any church property, of whatever kind, that may be entrusted to it, and perhaps we might find it practicable and expedient to make some such arrangement.

The two evangelists, Messrs. Norwood and Meade, have diligently prosecuted their important work during the past year. One of these is supported by the Richmond City Missionary Society, and the other by the Missionary Society of the Diocese. This latter Society has been wonderfully sustained the past year, and will report a larger amount of contributions received than ever before in the history of the Diocese. In order to increase the Society's funds, the Executive Committee resolved last January to appeal to the children of the Church for contributions during the six weeks of Lent. By request of the Committee, I addressed to them a letter asking them to support one of the evangelists, thinking that by placing before them a definite object which they could easily understand their interest would be increased, while the general missionary work would be just as effectively aided. It was supposed that this was as much as the children could be expected to accomplish, but their enthusiastic interest was aroused, and, to our great surprise and delight, when their contributions were received, they amounted to the grand sum of at least three thousand dollars. I make this indefinite statement of the amount, because it is impossible to tell exactly how much the children gave, as their contributions, in many cases, were not separated from those of the people. The result of this experiment so impressed the Executive Committee that they resolved to make the children's Lenten offerings for evangelistic work a permanent institution. They will ask the Council to sanction a plan to divide the Diocese into three or four districts, appoint an evangelist for each district and depend on the children to support two or three of the ministers engaged in this work. I cordially recommend the plan, and hope it may receive your approval.

The work among the colored people is, all things considered, making remarkable progress, as the following statement will show. There are now in the Diocese five Postulants, one candidate for Priest's orders and thirteen ministers. There are eighteen churches or chapels ; six preaching stations where there is no church ; three rectories ; twenty-six Parish schools, with fourteen hundred and sixty-seven scholars ; twenty-seven Sunday-schools, with two thousand, one hundred and seventy-nine scholars ; about twelve hundred communicants, and one hundred and eighty were confirmed last year. I do not pretend to be accurate in these figures, but think they are not above what is true. Legislation is needed for the benefit and protection of this people and their interests. Such legislation will be proposed to this Council, and ought to receive earnest and patient consideration. Nearly every colored minister is laboring by mere sufferance in the Parish of another minister, who can, at any time, put a stop to his work. Moreover, we are under obligation not to cast our colored brethren off from us, but, if possible, to strengthen the ties which bind them to us. They ought to have some voice in the legislation which affects them, and some means by which the influence of their laity may be felt among them. The 13th canon, which was adopted some years ago, is inadequate to the accomplishment of these ends, even if the execution of it is not impracticable. Now that the Constitution of the Diocese is practically settled, as I suppose, it is hoped that the Council will take the time and trouble to improve the canon law.

Looking at the state of the Diocese, as it may be seen from the episcopal, parochial and other reports, there is nothing to discourage us, but very much to excite our gratitude to the Giver of all good for the past, and to inspire us with increased earnestness and devotion to our work for the time to come. I have great faith in the future of Virginia and of our beloved Church. If the laity will only faithfully hold up the hands of their ministers, and the Clergy will conduct the services as ordered in the Prayer Book, and preach the pure and simple gospel and live unworldly and godly lives—then, I am persuaded, that great will be the growth and prosperity of our Zion, and grand the work we shall be privileged to do for the glory of God and the salvation of our fellow-men.

BISHOP RANDOLPH'S ADDRESS.BRETHREN OF THE CLERGY AND OF THE LAITY :

You will observe in the report of the Bishop and in the record of my own work that the churches in the Diocese have with very few exceptions been visited during the year since the last Council. But for the engagements in attendance upon the sessions of the General Convention, which occupied the month of October, it is probable that every church in the Diocese would have received a visitation. It will be gratifying to you to know that the vacant Parishes, though suffering from the absence of regular ministration, maintain their coherence and their devotion to their own Church. The visits of our faithful and most efficient evangelists, the fidelity of our Christian women and laymen, and the hold of the Prayer-Book upon the hearts of the people, have kept them alive and kept them together. In Smithfield, at Surry Courthouse, at Brandon, at Martinsville and Rocky Mount, and many others which I could mention, which have been vacant for more than a year past, I was touched with the evidences of religious feeling and the earnest longing of the people for pastoral care and regular services. May I express the hope that our city churches will continue to help these country Parishes liberally and lovingly. There is no danger, in my opinion, that the sinews of their effort will be cut by the largest aid we can give them—they are doing their best to help themselves. The following is the record of my work during the year :

CHURCHES CONSECRATED.

On Sunday, June 9th, 1889, I consecrated Grace Church, Massie's Mills, Nelson county. The Rev. J. W. Ware and the Rev. J. J. Norwood were present, and assisted at the services. The approximate cost of the building is $3,000. The architect is a member of the congregation. The timber and the variety of woods used in the construction of the church were procured from the mountains that surround the locality, and all the work was done by native workmen. In architecture and in workmanship it is an exceptionally handsome building. I visited this church and Trinity a few weeks after the sudden death of their Rector, the Rev. Davis M. Wood. The manifestations from all classes of the love they bore him, and grief for his loss, furnished a touching illustration of the power of a faithful pastor and preacher over the hearts and minds of the people. After a vacancy of more than a year, the rectorship of these churches has been filled.

On Sunday, December 1st, 1889, I consecrated Emmanuel Church, Buckingham county. The Rev. Everard Meade was present and assisted in the services. Previous to my visit Mr. Meade had held frequent services in this church, and the candidates for confirmation were presented by him.

On March 5th, 1890, I consecrated Christ Church, Pittsylvania county. The Rev. Dr. Dame, Rector of Epiphany Church, Danville, preached the consecration sermon. To his ministry and missionary activity this church owes its existence.

On Wednesday, the 9th of April, 1890, I consecrated Grace Church, Charles City county. This is a mission off-shoot from Westover Church. The work has been blessed in establishing an Episcopal Church among a people who were strangers to it until within a few years ago. There are several churches in process of construction in the portion of the Diocese which I have visited, which will probably be ready for consecration during the coming year. It is gratifying to know that these new church enterprises are, for the most part, conducted with financial prudence and economy. The work is done with funds that are in hand, and, as far as possible, contingencies are provided for and debt is avoided. Notwithstanding the depression in agriculture which we share with the rest of the country in this period of transition from an unequal to, it is hoped, a just distribution of the burdens of government among all classes, the country people in the Episcopal Church in Virginia, Sunday-school children and congregations have worked and given more to their churches than ever before in the history of the Diocese. In the month of June, 1889, I attended the meetings of the Trustees of the Seminary and High School and of the Education Society of Virginia. On Friday, June 28th, 1889, in the chapel of the Theological Seminary, I ordained to the priesthood John Cary Ambler, Charles Gauss, John Points Tyler. At the same service I assisted the Bishop of the Diocese in the Holy Communion. During the year I officiated in Parishes where there was no minister, at two funerals, and baptized four children and three adults, and administered Holy Communion five times. I believe that personal mention of bereavement to the Diocese by death, except in reference to the clergy, is not the custom in the reports of your Bishops or in the JOURNALS of our Councils. I must ask the liberty of departing from or of making an exception to this custom. On the 12th of August, while visiting churches in Fairfax county, I received tidings of the death of Daniel K. Stewart, of Henrico county, after a prolonged illness. Among the struggling churches and the self-denying ministers in this Diocese, I know of none who ever appealed to him in vain. He gave nobly and humbly and gladly ; he gave wisely and judiciously. His simple desire was to use his talent of wealth for the promotion of the Kingdom of God, as represented by his own Church, and in every field of Christian charity. Amid the perils of wealth he lived close to Christ. His life was a benediction to the Diocese ; his death a bereavement. May God bless his memory and keep it green.

In the month of October, 1889, I attended the sessions of the General Convention in New York city. The good feeling which prevailed in the deliberations of that body, the absence of the spirit of party, and the general disposition to legislate in the interests of, and for the good of the whole Church, the tendency to suppress questions that contained in them the seeds of dissension and alienation, are subjects of congratulation, and may be interpreted as answers to the prayers of the faithful Christian people throughout the Church. The question which, in my opinion, was fraught with most serious dangers to the Episcopal Church, namely, the proposition to repudiate the name "Protestant" in its title, was practically abandoned by its advocates. The work of the revision of the Prayer-book, which occupied the deliberations of the Convention for the larger part of its sessions, has, in the main, and upon all important questions, reached its conclusion. There remain fifty-two resolutions of change proposed by this Convention to be made known to the Dioceses, and to be submitted to the next General Convention in 1892 for final action. I suppose it will be our duty at this Council to appoint a committee to examine these resolutions of proposed alteration, and submit the results of their investigation in order to obtain an expression of opinion on the part of the Diocese. These resolutions, with few exceptions, as far as I have observed, refer to questions of change in words or minor details which seem to be rendered necessary by alterations already adopted, and which contain no principle which need provoke discussion or diversity of opinion. One marked exception to this is the proposal for an alteration in the confirmation service, which, so far as I can see, would lead to serious doctrinal error in our conception and in our teaching of the meaning of that service. A general review of the work which has been accomplished in the revision of the Prayer-book and which is now a part of the liturgy and the law of this Church, will, I am sure, tend to allay the anxiety which our people of various shades of opinion have felt during the agitation of the subject. The alterations, when finally incorporated into the new editions of the Book of Common Prayer, will be comparatively so few in number, so obvious in meaning, so entirely in harmony with the doctrine, the ritual and the traditions of this Church, as to commend themselves spontaneously to the good judgment and favorable criticism of its members. The rubrics have been made clearer; general directions for services simpler and more direct, so as to lessen the probability of doubtful interpretations leading to diversity of opinion and of practice. A few beautiful prayers, additional anthems of praise from the Word of God, greater variety and appropriateness, perhaps, in the selection of Scriptures to be read in the regular and special services, and you have the sum and substance of the alterations already adopted and those proposed for final adoption. Apart from the work accomplished in the alterations and additions already made, perhaps a greater good has resulted from the free discussion and the exchange of sympathies among the Clergy and laity throughout the Church upon the contents of the Book of Common Prayer. During the ten years when the translation of the Authorized Version of our English Bibles was in progress, there was a manifest revival among English-speaking people all over the world in the critical and devotional study of the Word of God, growing out of the loyalty of the heart of Christendom to that Word, in view of the possible results of that undertaking. Our effort at Prayer-book revision has had, I think, a similar result in the education of the masses of our own people, and of intelligent members of other Protestant churches, into a knowledge of the riches of our liturgy and of the fidelity of our worship and our standards of belief to the Word of God. This result has been attained at some cost, not, however, at the cost of the introduction of a single form or ceremony or expression embodying the principles of the Anti-Reformation party, which has troubled the peace of this Church for more than half a century, but only at the cost of some pain and apprehension of an opposite result on the part of many of the best and wisest members of our Church, and that is only one of the pains of progress.

Upon the question of the relation of our Church to the work in behalf of the negro population, the General Convention again expressed by its action the constitutional principle of the right and the duty of the Dioceses to legislate for themselves. It is difficult to maintain our intellectual respect for those who, as a condition of their co-operation in carrying the Gospel of Christ to an ignorant and half-civilized people, demand of any Church or any body of Christians that they shall embody in their constitution and laws a political ideal of liberty, fraternity and equality, which, in its practical application, would place insuperable barriers to the work and paralyze the missionary impulse. If the work is done, it must be done by ourselves. We will try to do it under the conviction that God has given it to us to do. We will give, as we may, the labor and the sacrifice for its accomplishment. Our friends throughout the country must trust us as brethren, and help and pray for us in our efforts to educate and to Christianize the negro race, and may God bless us and them in the discharge of our great responsibility.

I must say this before I close: I am standing now where I stood when I preached my first sermon and entered upon the duties of my first charge. In days of peace and in the time of war I ministered in this Church—so young, without experience, and the people so good and true and helpful. My experience then and ever since impels me to say to my brethren of the Clergy, that duty to their families and to the Church of Christ may seem to call them away from the old Diocese to other fields of labor; but, go where they may, they will never find a truer people, a more loving people, than the men and the women of the Episcopal Church in Virginia.

reference, access is provided by the formation of a convenient "Annex" in one of the rooms of Aspinwall Hall, fitted up for the purpose.

Room has thus been secured for the due display of the large accession of more than 4,000 volumes—the valuable donation of the late Dr. Colburn (2,700 volumes), together with that of friends of the late Dr. Giesy (1,500 volumes).

The work of selection and removal was accomplished during vacation, under the superintendence of the venerable Dean of the Faculty, who took special pains, by carefully inspecting every volume separately, to guard against unjust discrimination in the weeding process.

It may be proper to mention that the Librarian instructs his assistant to make himself familiar with the contents of the shelves in the several compartments to such an extent as to be able, without prolonged search, to lay his hand upon any book that may be called for. This he regards as no very difficult attainment on the part of a properly qualified custodian of a collection of limited numbers, obviating the necessity of a register of the exact position of each several volume for the independent use of others. To the Librarian alone, or his substitute, pertains the right (strictly speaking) of taking down any book from its proper place and returning it thither.

CARL E. GRAMMAR.

ABSTRACT OF ANNUAL REPORT TO TRUSTEES (1890).

Right Rev. F. M. Whittle, D. D., LL.D.,

President of the Board of Trustees :

RT. REV. AND DEAR SIR:—As Principal of the Episcopal High School I have the honor to submit the following report :

 Report of Standing Committee of the Diocese.

The whole number of boys entered this session is one hundred and two, the maximum attendance having been ninety-seven. * * * *

The general work of the school has been as before, though there has been added for advanced students a course of Christian Evidence and of psychology of much value. Systematic exercise in the gymnasium for all the pupils (under direction of one of the masters) has proved highly beneficial. The Rev. Prof. Kinloch Nelson, D. D., of the Theological Seminary, has continued that faithful pastoral care of the boys which has long merited our gratitude. Besides his one Sunday night service monthly, and one weekly during Lent in the School Chapel, several of his colleagues have officiated there, and we have had two admirable Sunday-night addresses by laymen from a distance. The Friday night devotional meeting with the boys has continued to be acceptably maintained by Mr. Wm. Cabell Brown, of the Seminary Middle Class. Our daily services at the school have had the advantage of skilled assistance, instrumental and vocal, from without, and an affectionate observance of the ecclesiastical year has, as usual, been constant. Sunday morning we attend the Seminary Chapel. Seven boys have been confirmed during the session, the whole number of communicants being thirty-three. My thanks are due, as before, to the Associate Principal and my other assistants for loyal and efficient co-operation in every effort made for the improvement of our common charge.

Respectfully yours,

L. M. BLACKFORD.

Rev. H. B. Lee, from the Committee on the Diocesan Missionary Society, presented the following :

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE DIOCESAN MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The Committee on the Diocesan Missionary Society, to which was referred the resolution of Rev. Henry T. Sharp, relative to the supply of vacant Parishes, having considered the same, submit the following report :

The resolution is as follows—

Resolved, That each active clergyman in this Diocese be requested to give his services for seven consecutive days of the current year to some vacant church within the bounds of his convocation.

In view of the many difficulties connected with the practical operation of the proposed resolution, the legal objections which might be urged against it, and the superior opportunities of the different Convocations to acquaint themselves with the best methods of dealing with the subject, we would respectfully recommend that the whole matter be left to the different Convocations, with the recommendation that they use their best efforts to meet the wants of the vacant parishes, in conjunction with the Diocesan Missionary Society.

The Committee on Clerical Support were given leave to meet during the session of the Council.

Rev. Dr. Gibson presented the report of the Managers of the Widows' and Orphans' Fund.

REPORT OF MANAGERS OF WIDOWS' AND ORPHANS' FUND.

The Managers of the Widows' and Orphans' Fund are glad to report a slight increase in the contributions of the Churches during the past year. In the year ending May, 1889, the amount given was only $812.82. This year they have given $1,125.26. But the contributing churches were only seventy-four, out of more than two hundred that are in the Diocese. If all our congregations would contribute annually to these widows and fatherless ones, who ought to be the objects of the tender care of the whole Diocese, it would secure an amount in some measure adequate to the relief of their wants, and also enable the Board to comply strictly with the Rule of Management enjoined upon the Board by the Convention of the Diocese at their formation in May, 1860, requiring them to reinvest "one-half of the annual interest and dividends of the Fund as soon as collected," to be "made a part of the Capital Fund" until it reached the full amount of $60,000; the remaining half only to be used for distribution. This wise regulation the Board, under the sanction of the Council of 1870, were obliged to disregard, in order to relieve the then "existing suffering." That "suffering" still continues, and we have felt ourselves constrained to appropriate almost the whole of "the interest and dividends" of the past year, amounting to $1,288.88, to the urgent necessities of our beneficiaries. Out of the whole distributable income of the Board the past year, viz, $2,414.14, they have applied $2,410 to the relief of seventeen suffering families.

Report of Committee on Endowment Fund.

We call upon all the congregations of the Diocese to help us to do better next year.

The Capital Fund is only $23,142.

Respectfully submitted,

CHURCHILL J. GIBSON, Secretary.

The appropriations are as follows : To the families of the Revs. Weddell, Steptoe and Hobson, $200 each ; to those of Rev. Drs. Murdaugh and Meredith, $175 each ; to those of the Revs. Pendleton, Stringfellow and Gregory, $150 each : to those of the Revs. J. P. McGuire, Caldwell, Ward, Okeson, Hoxton and Wood, $125 each ; to those of the Revs. Wharton and Fisher, $100; to Mrs. E. B McGuire, $60.

The subject of the amendment to Article II of the Constitution [JOURNAL 1889, p. 73,] which was approved by the last Council and referred to the Vestries for their approval, was then brought up for final action in this Council.

The proposed substitute for amendment to Article II of the Constitution was then adopted so as to read as follows :

PROPOSED SUBSTITUTE FOR AMENDMENT TO ARTICLE II OF THE CONSTITUTION.

ARTICLE II.

under ecclesiastical censure or process shall be entitled to a seat in the Council, and no Minister shall be entitled to a seat unless he has been canonically connected with the Diocese for the six calendar months preceding.

SEC. 2. The Council shall also be composed of Lay members, consisting of one delegate for each Parish or Church entitled to representation, chosen by the Vestry thereof, except as hereinafter provided. Every such Parish or Church having more than one officiating Minister canonically settled, shall be entitled to send as many Lay delegates as it has Ministers, and in every case the delegate or delegates shall be communicants in the Church : Provided, that only such colored delegates shall be members as are specified in Section 3 of this Article.

SEC. 3. The Council shall also be composed of the Colored Ministers having a seat and voice in the Council on the 17th day of May, 1889, and of two Clerical and two Lay delegates from the Colored Missionary Jurisdiction of the Diocese, as the same is now or may hereafter be constituted by Canon.

Rev. Jno. K. Mason offered the following :

Resolved, That the Bishop of the Diocese, or, if it be out of his power, the Assistant Bishop, be and is hereby most earnestly requested to close the religious services of the Council with an address, on Sunday night, and that we make this request because persuaded that this closing service greatly promotes the spiritual good of the Clergy and laity of the Diocese.

Mr. F. H. McGuire moved to lay the resolution on the table. Lost.

Pending consideration of the resolution, the hour of two o'clock arrived, and the Council adjourned until 4 P. M.

THURSDAY, 4 P. M.

The Council reassembled.

By unanimous consent, the Secretary read the following telegram of greeting from the Convention of the Diocese of Texas :

WACO, TEXAS, May 22, 1890.

To the Secretary of the Episcopal Convention, Fredericksburg, Va.:

The Council of the Diocese of Texas sends fraternal greetings to the Council of Virginia.

R. M. ELGIN, Secretary.

The Secretary was directed to make a suitable response.

The consideration of the resolution offered by the Rev. John K. Mason was resumed.

Rev. H. B. Lee offered the following as a substitute.

2d. That all members who can do so are earnestly requested to remain.

The substitute resolution was then put, and was carried unanimously.

Rev. Dr. Sprigg moved that so much of the Bishop's address as refers to the division of the Diocese be referred to a committee consisting of the Bishops, six clergymen and eight laymen, to report to the next Council.

The motion was carried, and the following committee appointed :

HISTORIOGRAPHER'S REPORT.

A PROBLEM IN THE HISTORY OF VIRGINIA WAITING A SOLUTION.

There are few traditions more widespread and more deeply imbedded in the popular creed than the tradition that many of our old Colonial churches and private mansions are built of imported bricks. This belief has been handed down by word of mouth from sire to son for so many generations that it seems to some an impiety to question its truth, as implying a reflection on the veracity of the fathers, from whose loved lips it has been so long heard. It is in the nature of those heir-looms which, though having no intrinsic value, are precious in our eyes, because, from the mysterious association of ideas, they call up images of honored ancestors. It has blended itself, too, with our literature, which sees in these old edifices so many links connecting us with the fatherland. They become a sort of Campo Santo, like that mound of earth in Pisa (Italy) said to have been brought by the Crusaders from the Holy Land, and which the citizens of that classic city have surrounded with arcades of white marble, adorned with Etruscan and Greek bas-reliefs and other sculpture and fresco paintings by the earliest Italian Masters. Under a like inspiration our orators, poets, artists, tourists, and writers in magazines and newspapers have encircled these venerable relics, not with material sculpture and painting, but with a halo composed of the gems of their own genius, which may make them live as long as the Campo Santo in story and in song. Some persons, by the light of this halo, have seen in the lone tower of Jamestown the relic of the identical church in which the primitive Virginia apostle, Robert Hunt, first read the Liturgy and preached the Gospel in "His Majesty's Ancient Colony and Dominion of Virginia"—in the face of the demonstrable fact that the first church of brick at the old metropolis was begun in 1638, according to Governor Harvey, and was burned by Bacon in 1676, so that the present ruins cannot possibly represent a church older than the one reported by Sir John Harvey. No one was more under the power of this spell for many years than the present writer, and even now, when his enthusiasm has been chilled by the frost of four-score winters, all his sympathies and tastes incline him to assign to the old churches and mansions the greatest possible antiquity which will consist with the hard facts of history. As the patriarch Moses wished that all the Lord's people were prophets, so would I, that these venerable relics were, as Bishop Meade said, con amore, of the Rosewell Palace of the Pages, "all of English brick," but of which Dr. Channing Moore Page, of New York, who has diligently, in England and America, scanned all the pages, now says has no known foundation in fact. Let me not be misunderstood. I do not dogmatically affirm that no church or mansion in Virginia was built of English brick. I cannot prove a negative proposition. It devolves upon those who hold the affirmative to produce the proof. I only say that I have for two years sought diligently for such proof in vain, and if anyone has found it I shall gladly welcome it as a consummation devoutly to be wished. In the meantime allow me to say that, if it be true, it would seem to have been a work of supererogation, in view of the historical fact that brickmakers and bricklayers, and all the materials for the manufacture, have been in the country from the day of the first landing of immigrants at Jamestown. We have a series of historical tracts running through the Colonial era, giving the details of ships and their contents. In the very first company which landed at Jamestown, April 14, 1607, were fifty gentlemen (so called) who did no manual labor, and among the mechanics were Will Garnett and "Old Short," bricklayers, and Edward Brinto, brickmason. In 1609, five brickmakers and layers are mentioned in "Nova Britannia." In 1612, in the New Life of Virginia, printed by His Majesty's Council, it is said: "We have made a new settlement eighty miles above Jamestown, on high ground, where we have pure air, fresh springs, and open ground. The spade-men fell to digging, the brick-men burned their bricks, and we have built decent houses, the first story of brick."

Mark, this was only five years after the first landing. In 1613 brickmakers were sent over to build the projected University at Henricopolis, which classic name has degenerated into the prosaic one of "Dutch Gap." Not to weary with details, brickmakers are mentioned in 1618-19-20. "In 1621 brickmakers and layers were sent over for enclosing the public house at Jamestown. After the Indian massacre in 1622, when so many of the College people were slain, the company ordered that the brickmakers should be held to their contract to go on with the buildings." In a "New Description of Virginia," printed in 1649, it is said: "The Virginians have lime in abundance, stores of bricks made, and houses and chimneys made of brick and covered with shingles, the brickmakers not having the art of making tiles which will not shrink." This was the era of the finishing of the first brick church at Jamestown. Other proofs of like import might be adduced, but these will suffice to establish the point that brickmakers and layers were in Virginia from the beginning, and that houses were built of bricks and burned on the ground as early as 1612—five years after the foundation of the Colony.

Historiographer's Report.

Now, let us look at the question from another point of view, and bring the ships in which these bricks must have been imported, if imported at all, to bear upon the issue. In the public archives at Richmond are lists of vessels and their invoices, in which are enumerated in detail the items composing their cargoes, and there is no mention of bricks. But it is said that they might have come as ballast, to which the answer is obvious—that as all the iron and other metals used in the Colony for more than half a century had to be imported, there is no need of looking further for ballast. If there were, we have only to think of the guns with which each vessel was armed; the guns for manning forts; the crowds of immigrants, with their furniture and house and farming utensils; groceries and other stores for the Colonists, including cattle, goats and horses; to say nothing of the beer, wines and stronger liquors, which our ancestors thought “necessary to make the water of the country wholesome”; the dry-goods for themselves, and the many other articles for the Indian trade, and we shall not have much room left in these frail little vessels for the tons of bricks for houses and churches, when bricks were manufactured every day in the Colony at much less expense than they could be imported.

Once more, changing the point of view, let us look at some of these churches of whose origin we have certain knowledge. In Culpeper county there is a church whose historical name is “Little Fork,” now called by many “Oak Shade.” From my boyhood I was taught to believe that its bricks were English just as devoutly as the people of Mecca believe that the famous black stone of the Caava was contributed to that edifice by the Angel Gabriel, and this is the current creed now. But the old Vestry book, since brought to light, gives the particulars of its building, and proves that it was erected in 1776, when there was no intercourse with England. In Fairfax county there is a group of churches and mansions with a like reputation. Among them are Pohick and Christ Churches, so intimately associated with Washington, who was vestryman and pew-holder in both of them.

These churches were finished about the same time (1773), and the excellency of these supposed English bricks has been celebrated in story and in song, and yet the Vestry-books, which give particulars of their building, prescribing the size and style of the bricks, make no allusion to their importation. Twenty years before they were built, the Truro Vestry-book, which I lately exhumed, describes the burning of bricks for the Glebe-house, near Accotink; and this is only mentioned because the Vestry rejected the first kiln, and required the contractor, Mr. Waite, to burn another of better bricks, making him pull down a wall which he had begun. This was in 1752, and it is hardly credible that twenty years after this date bricks should have been imported. At Mt. Vernon there is a stable at whose reputed English brick pilgrims to that shrine gaze with admiration, and yet Bressot, in his “Reminiscences,” says that Washington told him that these bricks were made at Mt. Vernon.

Historiographer's Report.

At Woollawn, the elegant seat of Lawrence Lewis, is a splendid mansion with like reputation, and yet I found on the place the remains of the kiln where they were burned, with fragments of the same kind of bricks. A like search would probably reveal like results as to Gunston, the grand old "Hall" of the grand old man, George Mason, whose memorial is written in letters more durable than brass or bricks. Near the site of King Carter's beautiful Christ Church, Lancaster, are visible marks of a brick kiln. At Williamsburg the first church of brick was finished in 1683, and that having become ruinous, the Parish Church was built between 1710 and 1715, by the joint acts of the Vestry, of the General Assembly, and of Governor Spotswood, who furnished the plan. It was finished in 1715. That it was built of Virginia bricks there can be no doubt, in view of the fact that Henry Cary, superintendent of public buildings, presented to the Council, in 1708, the following bill, viz: 150 loads of wood at 12 shillings per load; moulding and burning 70,000 bricks at 3s., 6d. per M. This was for the Governor's house, and it having been built many years before the building of the Church, its bricks were doubtless burned by the same contractor. This is the more probable, because at Hampton some years later, we find the same Henry Cary contracting for burning the bricks for St. John's Church, which has hitherto been religiously believed to have been made of imported bricks. The following entry on the records of the court, kindly copied for me by Mr. J. Heffelfinger, settles that question, and it will be a surprise to many, as it was to my accomplished friend, Dr. Palmer, who had fondly hoped that old St. John's would never lose her English laurels. Here is the minute: "Elizabeth City County, June 17, 1727, Jacob Walker and John Laurence are appointed to lay off an acre and a half at the upper end of Queen street for building of the church thereon. It is agreed (that) by the Minister, church wardens and the court to supply Henry Cary with wood from the school land at sixpence per load, to burn bricks for the church."

I cannot pay my respects to all the Colonial churches, but I must not pass by St. Luke's, Isle of Wight, which claims to be the oldest of them all now standing. This claim is founded upon an inscription written with a pen of iron on one or more bricks, bearing the figures 1632. In the absence of civil and church records, this must be accepted as the date of its erection. It is now being restored under the auspices of Rev. David Barr, and when all its storied windows in memory of historic people shall have been put in, it will be our Virginia Westminster Abbey. It stands on a ridge of sand, bordered by clay, out of which its bricks were doubtless made, as the accomplished architect, Mr. Edward Neville Stent, superintending its restoration (an expert in such matters), is of opinion that the bricks are not English but of American making, and the venerable Dr. Purdie, the most antique pillar of the Parish, says, he has no faith in what he calls the "fabulous tradition" of their being imported, which is ignored by all local antiques. Not being willing to rely wholly upon my personal researches, I have appealed to some of the most famous experts in the history of Virginia for light upon the vexed question. Among these are Mr. R. A. Brock, the able Secretary of the Virginia Historical Society, whose Herculean labors have cleansed our Temple of History from much useless rubbish which has hitherto hid the truth and beautified it with many gems dug from the mine. Dr. Wm. S. Palmer, who has for many years been breathing the dust of the archives of the attic, in the Capitol, until he has imbibed an antique flavor and "attic" elegance with which he has illumined the pages of our history. The Rev. E. D. Neill, who has ransacked the British Museum, as well as our American depositories, and added "Virginia Vetusta" and "Virginia Carolarum" and many other things new and old to our Virginiana. Mr. Alexander Brown, who has, with self-denying toil, penetrated the deepest sources, collecting and collating many rare and curious documents from abroad, and garnered them in his "Genesis of the United States"—a reservoir from which future students will derive supplies in their weary wanderings through the tangled wilderness of history. I have interrogated all these, and the reply of each has been like the "Sheriff's Return," non est inventus—"not found in my bailiwick." If no proof of the truth of this tradition which can stand the test of historical criticism, can be found, it will not be necessary to conclude that it is a case of conscious invention. Such traditions have some fact—basis—upon which they are built. This may be the fact that some church furniture, as fonts, blocks of Bristol and Portland stone, pieces of carved wood, and, perhaps, some ornamental bricks were imported. This we know from the Vestry-books and other sources, except as to the ornamental bricks, of which there is no proof known to me. On the contrary, a writer in the Century Magazine says, that the old black glazed bricks in the churches and other houses of Philadelphia, said to be imported, were in fact made on the spot. From the known genesis of legends, whose tendency is to fill up the gaps and enlarge the dimensions of oral tradition, it is easy to conceive how these fragments might be built into fabrics by the devout creative imagination—distance in time, like distance in space, lending enchantment to the view. Thus, in Italy, there are many Madonnas believed by the populace to have been painted by St. Luke. The root of this legend is the fact that there was an early Italian painter named Luke, and in process of time a freely creating fancy encircled the head of the artist with a halo and he became St. Luke, the Evangelist. If no authentic evidence shall ever be adduced of the truth of the current creed, it will be an impressible example of the untrustworthiness of mere oral tradition which floats in the air without touching the earth. It will, too, make us value more highly the written Word of God, as furnishing a sure and steadfast anchoring ground for the Ark of Christ's Church, that it may not be driven about by every wind of doctrine, although the oral tradition be uttered by as many tongues as Fable ascribes to Fame.

Report of Committee on Sunday-Schools.

Mr. J. Churchill Cooke, from the Committee on the Accounts of the Managers of the Widows' and Orphans' Fund, reported the accounts correct and sustained by proper vouchers.

Rev. H. T. Sharp presented the report of the Committee on Sunday-schools:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON SUNDAY-SCHOOLS.

The Committee on Sunday-schools beg leave to make the following report :

The present number of teachers is, white, 1,594 ; colored, 135 ; Indian, 8 ; total, 1,737, a gain of over the number reported last year. The present number of scholars is, white, 11,710 ; colored, 2,019 ; Indian, 133 ; total, 13,862, a gain of since the last Council. Scholars confirmed last year, 331 ; this year, white, 397 ; colored, 36 ; total, 433, a gain of 102. Offerings last year, $6,890 ; this year, white, $7,591.43 ; colored, $317.10 ; total, $7,908.53, a gain of $1,018.53 over last year.

Your Committee are impressed with the failure of many congregations to realize the supreme importance of this work, and their unreadiness to adopt improved methods of Sunday-school management.

Your Committee would suggest the consideration on the part of Rectors, superintendents and teachers of those features of interesting and effective schools now to be named :

1. The formation of a Bible Class in each school, to be a net to catch older scholars, as they become unwilling to remain in lower grades ; to train teachers, and to supply the places of teachers temporarily absent.

2. The use of blackboards for word studies in connection with the lesson, and for pictures illustrative of the instruction given. Where no one can be found capable of making crayon drawings on the blackboard, lithographs might be used. These can be ordered through any bookseller.

3. The formation of a children's choir. In order to have good music it is imperative that at least some of the children should be taught to sing by note, under the training of a competent musician.

4. A uniform lesson for the school.

5. A weekly teachers' meeting for the study of the lesson.

6. Regular and frequent visiting of the scholars by the Rector, the superintendent and the teachers.

7. A Sunday-school institute on the afternoon of the first day of the Council.

Your Committee therefore recommend the adoption of the following resolution :

Resolved, That a committee of three Clergymen and two Laymen be appointed to take such steps as shall be necessary for the organization of a Report of Committee on New Parishes.

Diocesan Sunday-school Institute, and to make proper arrangements for the meeting of this institute on the afternoon of the first day of the Council of 1891, of which they shall give due notice beforehand.

Signed,

HENRY T. SHARP,	J. HEFFELFINGER,
JOHN B. NEWTON,	R. O. EGERTON,
ARTHUR S. LLOYD,	MARTIN P. BURKS.

The report was received and its resolution adopted.

The Bishop appointed the following committee to make provision for the Sunday-school Institute :

Rev. B. D. Tucker,	Mr. W. W. Old,
Rev. W. L. Gravatt,	Mr. W. B. Martin,
Rev. A. S. Lloyd.

On motion of Rev. Dr. Gibson, the next Annual Council was ordered to be held in Grace Church, Petersburg.

Rev. E. Valentine Jones, from the Committee on New Parishes, presented the following :

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON NEW PARISHES.

The Committee on New Parishes having considered the application of the congregation at Wakefield, Sussex county, to be separated from the other congregations of Albemarle Parish and organized into a Mission Church under Canon XII; and also petition for Emmanuel Church, Slaughter Parish to detach a certain portion of territory from St. Thomas' Parish, Orange county, and attach the same to Slaughter Parish, Culpeper county, and finding that all canonical provisions have been complied with, therefore recommend that the petitions be granted.

EDW. VALENTINE JONES, Chairman.

The undersigned, a committee appointed under provisions of Canon X, to effect a separation of the congregation at Wakefield from the other congregations of Albemarle Parish and its organization into a Mission Church under Canon XII, respectfully request the Council to set them apart as a Mission Church, under provisions of aforesaid canon, having obtained the approval of the above Parish, also that of the ecclesiastical authority of the Diocese.

Petition from Slaughter Parish, &c.

PETITION FROM EMMANUEL CHURCH, SLAUGHTER PARISH.

Whereas, The Vestry of Emmanuel Church, Slaughter Parish, in the County of Culpeper, has complied with the requirements of Canon X in giving the notices required by the said Canon to the Bishop of the Diocese and the Vestry of St. Thomas' Parish, Orange county, that they would make application to the Council to be held in Fredericksburg on the 21st of May, 1890, to detach that portion of St. Thomas' Parish included within the following boundaries, and attach the same to Slaughter Parish, Culpeper county, bounded as follows: Commencing at a point where the county road crosses the Rapidan river at Peyton's Ford, and running thence eastward with said road to a point opposite the dwelling-house on the Trimmer farm, thence southward and around said dwelling-house, so as to include the same, thence in a straight line to a point in the Stevensburg road at the mouth of the road to Nason's Station, thence with the said road to Nason's Station to the lot owned by the Trustees of Emmanuel Church, Slaughter Parish, thence around the boundary of said lot to the old Plank road, thence east down the old Plank road to Rhodesville, thence northward a straight line to the Rapidan river at Somerville's Ford, thence up the river to the point of beginning. Therefore, the vestry of Emmanuel Church, Slaughter Parish, respectfully petition the Council to detach the territory included within the foregoing boundaries from St. Thomas' Parish, Orange county, and attach the same to Slaughter Parish, Culpeper county, for the following reasons, to wit:

That such territory is immediately contiguous to Emmanuel Church, Slaughter Parish, and contains within its bounds a large proportion of the communicants of said church, and also the rectory, and your petitioners humbly pray, &c.

G. MOSLEY MURRAY,

Rector.

FIELDING L. WILLIS,

Registrar, Slaughter Parish.

The Committee, by permission, withdrew the portion of their report relating to the petition from Wakefield, and that petition was withdrawn.

The petition from Slaughter Parish was granted by the Council.

On motion of Rev. W. T. Roberts, the report of the Committee on Sunday-school Instruction Books was made the order of the day for Friday, after the existing orders are disposed of.

Rev. B. M. Randolph presented the report of the Committee on Parochial Reports :

Your Committee would emphasize the fact that their labors are much increased by carelessness in making reports. Inaccurate reports, imperfect reports, and reports coming in after the main work of the Committee is completed, delay and complicate an already laborious task.

We would respectfully recommend that dilatory and careless Clergymen be hereafter appointed as the Committee on Parochial Reports.

Respectfully submitted,

Rev. Dr. Dashiell moved that 5,000 copies of the Constitution and Canons be printed.

Proposed Amendment to Canon XX.

Rev. T. W. Jones moved, in amendment, that the Constitution and Canons be printed in the JOURNAL.

Rev. Dr. Sprigg moved that the whole subject be postponed to the next Council. Lost.

The amendment offered by Rev. T. W. Jones was adopted.

Rev. Dr. Powers proposed the following amendment to Canon XX.

The Committee on amending Canon XX, recommend that it be amended to read as follows :

The Vestries of the several Parishes or Churches shall, quarterly, or at every annual Council, as each Vestry shall determine for itself, pay to the Treasurer such sums as may be apportioned to them respectively, for the purpose of defraying such expenses as may be authorized by the Council.

PIKE POWERS,
C. R. HAINS,
R. H. BAKER,
JOHN W. GREEN.

The amendment was adopted. Ayes, 99 ; noes, 15.

The Council then adjourned until Friday at 10 A. M.

FRIDAY, May 23d, 1890.

The Council assembled for Divine service at 10 A. M.

Morning prayer was read by the Rev. W. M. Dame, of the Diocese of Maryland. The sermon was preached by the Rev. Nelson P. Dame, on the 11th verse of the 5th chapter of the 1st Epistle of St. John.

After Divine service, the Council met for business, and was called to order by the Bishop.

The minutes of yesterday's session were read and approved.

The order of the day was then taken up, being the report of the Executive Committee of the Diocesan Missionary Society, which was presented and read by the Rev. Dr. Powers :

Report of Executive Committee of the Diocesan Missionary Society.

REPORT OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE DIOCESAN MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The Executive Committee of the Diocesan Missionary Society of Virginia respectfully report : That they have aided in the course of the past year Parishes in thirty-eight counties, viz: Albemarle, Alleghany, Amherst, Botetourt, Brunswick, Campbell, Caroline, Chesterfield, Essex, Fairfax, Fauquier, Gloucester, Halifax, Hanover, Henrico, King George, King William, Greensville, Lancaster, Louisa, Loudoun, Madison, Mecklenburg, Matthews, Middlesex, Montgomery, Nottoway, Orange, Prince Edward, Princess Anne, Pittsylvania, Pulaski, Rockbridge, Southampton, Tazewell, Warwick, Westmoreland, and York, with an aggregate of fifty-nine ministers, some of whom were aided only a part of the year, because of their resigning, or taking charge of their Parishes after the meeting of the last Council. We have also aided seven colored ministers, and have made special appropriations to the amount of $200, and an annual appropriation of $100 to Rev. Job Turner, Missionary to Deaf-Mutes. The amount thus appropriated, according to the Treasurer's report, is about $9,000, besides which we have paid the salary of the Rev. Everard Meade, Evangelist, the travelling expenses of both Evangelists, and other incidental expenses necessary to our work. We began the Council year with a balance of $2,588.50 in the treasury. The amounts received from churches, Sunday-schools, and other schools, and children in families, according to the Treasurer's report, is $12,906.71 (May 19), of which more than $3,000 was given by the children, in many cases avowedly, and, doubtless, in most cases, really, in response to the Bishop's letter to the children. This is the largest amount we have ever received, and considering the depletion of the country Parishes, by deaths and removals, the low prices of farm products, the disasters of the last season, and the poverty of the country people, it speaks well for the zeal and liberality of the churches, and verifies the old adage, "Where there is a will there is a way." It also shows what the Sunday-schools and the children not in Sunday-schools can and will do, especially when appealed to by such a letter as that of the Bishop of the Diocese. In a number of cases the offering of the Sunday-school was larger than that of the congregation, and as the children's money must have come largely from the parents, we rejoice that while the parents were thus gratifying their children and obeying the impulses of their own parental affections, they were doing what would be likely to form in their children the habit and the love of Christian giving. In furtherance of this most desirable end, we suggest that the churches which have Sunday-schools, and all ought to have them, should pay for Sunday-school libraries and papers, and all other Sunday-school expenses, so as to leave the children free to give their money to missions or other religious objects outside of the Sunday-school, and thus be trained to help others as well as themselves. We also recommend the suggestion of the Rev. F. Stringfellow, in a recent number of Our Diocesan Work, that the families connected with vacant churches take mite-boxes and put their offerings in them every Sunday, whether they have services or not, and hand the proceeds to the Evangelist when he comes around, or to some other minister, for the Diocesan Missionary Society or some other Christian object as they may elect. If these suggestions were adopted and faithfully carried out, the contributions to the Diocesan Missionary Society, Education Society, Disabled Clergy Fund, Widows' and Orphans' Fund, Brazilian Mission, &c., we are persuaded would be largely increased. The Evangelist, Rev. Everard Meade, reports sixty-eight vacant churches in the Diocese, and we may safely say that if all these churches had ministers they would pay them an average of $100 a year. Why not give this to the Lord's work? And this would make a total of $6,800, besides what is given by all the other churches. Country people often have little or no money, but they have what will bring money. Ladies in the country sometimes send in the proceeds of Sunday eggs and of a portion of their butter, and if all the female members of the church in the country would do something like this, it would be a substantial help to the work of the Lord, and the Lord would bless them. Our missionaries are, as ever, faithful and zealous, almost all of them working one or more mission points besides their regular Parish work, and some of them preaching at five or six different places. We are sure that no one feels any poorer for what he has given to the Lord the past year, and we bless God that the people have been able to offer so willingly and after this sort. But the temple of the Lord is not yet done, nor the walls of Zion built up, and we hope and trust that the zeal and liberality of the past year are but the pledge and forerunner of better things yet to come.

Report received—Resolutions adopted.

PIKE POWERS,
Sec. D. M. S.

Resolved, That in view of the large and liberal contributions made by the children of the Diocese in response to the Bishop's appeal, the Executive Committee of the Diocesan Missionary Society be instructed by the Council to employ, under the direction of the Bishop, at his discretion, one or more additional Evangelists to be supported by the Society, and that the children be requested to continue their Lenten offerings by mite-boxes for the special work of the Evangelists, and, as far as possible, for the general work of the Society in aiding needy Parishes."

The report was received and its appended resolution adopted.

Rev. T. G. Dashiell offered the following, which was carried :

Resolved, That this Council tender its thanks to the Rev. Dr. Powers for his efficient services in so ably editing "Our Diocesan Work," and that the Resolutions, &c.—Report of Committee on Report submitted on Wednesday.

Clergy and laity be requested to do all in their power to increase the circulation.

Rev. John J. Clopton offered the following :

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Diocesan Missionary Society be authorized to issue 12,000 copies additional of the June number of "Our Diocesan Work," and that the expense connected with the same be paid from the treasury of the Diocesan Missionary Society.

Mr. John G. Williams moved to insert 5,000 instead of 12,000 copies.

The amendment was approved, and the resolution as amended was adopted.

Rev. B. M. Randolph offered the following :

Resolved, That the Executive Committee of the Diocesan Missionary Society shall apportion vacant churches into districts of about ten to fifteen vacant churches, and locate Evangelists in charge of the same, to the number of five evangelists.

Mr. John L. Williams moved that the resolution be referred to the Executive Committee of the Diocesan Missionary Society, to be acted on according to their discretion.

Rev. J. W. Ware moved to lay the whole matter on the table, which was carried. Ayes, 78 ; noes, 37.

The next special order was then taken up, being the report of the committee appointed to consider the report presented on Wednesday by Mr. W. W. Old.

Mr. R. Taylor Scott presented the report as follows :

REPORT OF COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO CONSIDER THE REPORT
SUBMITTED ON WEDNESDAY.

The committee appointed to consider the report submitted by the committee appointed at the last Council "To consider the expediency of appointing one or more Boards of Trustees, to be legally incorporated for the purpose of holding, subject to the direction and control of the Diocesan Council, all invested funds now existing or hereafter to be accumulated Report received, its resolutions adopted—Committee appointed.

for the benefit of the various Church charities of the Diocese," report that, with the aid of the said Committee, they have, as carefully as the time allowed would permit, examined and considered said report.

In the judgment of this committee, the proposed Charter presents serious and grave legal questions, which should be maturely and deliberately considered.

Article V, section 17, Constitution of Virginia, provides, "The General Assembly shall not grant a charter of incorporation to any church or religious denomination, but may secure the title to church property to an extent to be limited by law." What the judicial interpretation of this fundamental law will be is unknown.

The title of the act to effect the incorporation is, "An act to incorporate the Council of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Virginia, for the purpose therein mentioned."

Though "the Council" be not the Church, it is part and parcel of its "Ecclesiastical Organization." It is composed of Clergy and lay-communicants, and presided over by the executive head of the Church, and thus organized the legislature of "the Church." The Charter should be free from doubt and uncertainty; if tainted with "illegality," the consequence, will be loss of "the Funds" it was designed to make secure.

Therefore, your committee recommend the adoption of the following resolutions:

Resolved, 1st. That the report of the committee aforesaid, be recommitted to a committee of nine; which committee shall be composed of the Clergymen and Laymen, who compose the said committee, to which shall be added one Clergyman and five Laymen, to be appointed by the Bishop, who shall report thereon to the next Council.

Resolved, 2d. That the Charter and report of the committee be printed in the JOURNAL.

Your committee regret the delay consequent upon this action, but in point of fact, no time will be lost; because, unless called in "extra session," there will be no "General Assembly" before the meeting of the Council, to which the report of the proposed committee will be made.

Respectfully submitted,

C. WALKER,
SAMUEL J. C. MOORE,
FRANK NELSON,
R. TAYLOR SCOTT,
C. J. FAULKNER.

The report was received and its resolutions adopted.

The following committee was appointed:

Report of Committee on Sunday-school Books.

Rev. B. D. Tucker,
Rev. A. S. Lloyd,
Mr. W. W. Old,
Mr. W. B. Martin,
Mr. R. H. Baker,

Mr. R. Taylor Scott,
Mr. Wm. H. Murdaugh,
Mr. E. A. Hatton,
Mr. F. H. McGuire,
Mr. Joseph Bryan.

The next special order was then taken up, being the report of the Committee on Sunday-school Instruction Books, which was presented by the Rev. W. T. Roberts.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON SUNDAY-SCHOOL BOOKS.

The Special Committee on Sunday-school Books, appointed at the Council in Alexandria, enlarged and continued at the next Council, and again continued at the last Council, begs leave to report as follows:

Your committee was charged with two duties, to-wit:

1. The Editing of Bishop Burgess' CATECHISM ON THE CHURCH CATECHISM, the middle grade in the Course of Sunday school Instruction Books on the Church Catechism adopted by this Council, and—

2. The Selection of a List of Sunday-school Library Books, suitable for the Sunday-schools of the Diocese of Virginia.

The editorial work of your Committee on the Catechism of Bishop Burgess is before you in the printed report which has been distributed on the floor of this Council. To this particular matter much time and attention has been given. It is now for the Council to say whether a new edition, with the additions indicated in the printed report, will be an improvement on the old, and whether such an edition shall be forthcoming for use in the Diocese of Virginia. Your committee could do no more than they have done towards bringing out a new edition, unless they had been authorized by the Council to draw upon the Treasurer of the Diocese to meet the expense of so doing. As it is, they will have to ask the Council to pay the bill for printing their report. In no other way could the work of the committee be intelligently brought before the Council. And whatever may be thought of this part of their work, your committee feel obliged even now to put on record their deliberate and matured judgment of the value of Bishop Burgess' book as an Exposition of the Church Catechism. Its wise conservatism, its lucidity, its reverence for Holy Scripture, and its skill in elucidating the text of the Church Catechism, in the very words of Scripture, are beyond all praise.

In the discharge of the second duty imposed upon them, your committee have, first of all, to record their conviction (1), of the real value of a Library as an aid to Sunday-school work, when such a library is judiciously selected. Especially is this true of the country, where there are no public and few private libraries. Here it is that the child prizes most highly the book he has gotten at the Sunday-school, and it often proves a source of profit and pleasure to both child and parents during the week that follows. Nor is it by any means a rare occurrence for a single good book to influence some life permanently for good, and through that one life, so influenced, to exert a widespread influence over other lives, which, in their turn, perpetuate and broaden a never-ending stream of influence which makes for righteousness, all of which can be traced back to the teaching of a single little book as its parent source. Bishop Meade writes of Wilberforce's Practical View, "It gave a direction and color to my whole life"; and his last venerable and most accomplished biographer remarks, in immediate connection with this testimony of Bishop Meade to the powerful influence of a single book on his life, that, "It is curious that Wilberforce derived his religious impulse from his aunt, who got hers from Whitefield; and thus is brought to light a chain connecting two centuries and two continents, through an influence flowing from George Whitefield to William Meade, the future Bishop of Virginia.

The conviction, therefore, of the value, both possible and real, of a good Sunday-school library, as an aid to Sunday-school work, is clear and positive in the minds of your committee; and since, as a matter of fact, the library forms a part of the equipment of every Sunday-school in the Diocese which can afford it, its absence constitutes a want to be supplied at the first opportunity in the case of all other Sunday-schools. Your committee would also record just here their conviction (2), of the prime importance of raising the standard of these libraries and of making them just what they ought to be. That the average Sunday-school library is below the standard which a proper regard for the children of the Church requires, is a fact which has come under the observation of almost everyone who has had anything to do with Sunday-school libraries. What reader of Sunday-school books has not at times sympathized most heartily with the boy who did not want to be good, because all the good boys died and went to heaven? The boy's revulsion against that kind of goodness which invariably kills was natural and healthy; and the books which tell of goody-goody boys and girls, who never existed outside of the books themselves, and which cause a revulsion against goodness in the minds of bright, strong, real boys who love their bats and their balls. enjoy life and want to live, are unnatural and unhealthy, and ought to be forever excluded from the model Sunday-school library. Beside such weak sentimental booklets as these, others which are sensational in style and others still which are secular in their spirit ought also to find no place in the Sunday-school libraries of the Diocese. It is unnecessary to point out more in detail the defects which characterize the average Sunday-school library. Its defectiveness and its inadequacy to meet the demands of the Diocese to day are just the points assumed by this Council when it appointed the present committee. And, after careful study of the subject, your committee deliberately put themselves on record as believing that no more useful in this line could be done for the children of the Church, gathered together in the Sunday-schools of the Diocese than to select for them, and by Conciliar "action to prescribe for their use only standard Sunday-school library," consisting of such books as are morally healthy, intellectually stimulating and doctrinally in accord with the standards of this Church.

It was the desire and has been the effort of your committee to recommend to this Council a library composed of one hundred books of this character. It was their desire and intention to recommend these books on their merits, as they appeared to your committee upon a careful examination of the contents of each book. With this end in view, they procured publishers' catalogues and select lists of Sunday-school libraries, and wrote to these several publishers requesting them to furnish them with their books for examination. With the single exception of Mr. T. Whittaker, however, who promptly complied with our request, and from whose publications more than twenty-five volumes were selected after careful examination, the other publishers refused to furnish their books without heavy charge. Your committee were not authorized to incur any expense, and so, for sheer lack of means, were compelled to abandon the idea of procuring the necessary books and selecting from them volumes to the number and of the character desired. Possibly some other committee might be able to accomplish this feat without money. This committee cannot. And if the only thing the present committee feel justified in doing is unsatisfactory to the Council, let it appoint another committee which can get books free, or let it make an appropriation for the purchase of books to be examined. To give an idea of the amount required for this purpose, it may be well to note that the Bishop Doane List of Approved Sunday school Books, the selection of which is put forward with the greatest flourish of trumpets by our Church publishers, consisting of 190 volumes, costs $136.25 net.

Under these circumstances your committee could do no more than select and classify one hundred books and present them, without any special examination of their own, except in the case of the twenty-five volumes selected out of Whittaker's publications, to the Council as a provisional and tentative list, and as the basis of future work along this line. We say as the basis of future work, for we hope the Council will not let this matter drop here. Its work in the future along this line will be simply the perfecting of the present confessedly imperfect list. The JOURNAL will give it permanent form. It will there be always open to the inspection and criticism of every Clergyman and layman in the Diocese who feels any interest in Sunday-school work. Whenever any book in the list is discovered to be unworthy of a place therein, or whenever a better book is suggested, let the inferior book be stricken from the list and let the superior book be inserted in its place. In this way, in the course of a few years at the most, we can get a standard Sunday-school library, one in every respect adapted to our Sunday-school wants and in every way worthy of the Diocese of Virginia.

Report of Committee on Sunday-school Books.

We would further suggest, as the name of our beloved Bishop carries so much weight with it everywhere, and is so potent with the children in particular, that he be requested to act as chairman of the committee to whom the continuation of this work is committed, and that the list, when finally settled and endorsed by the Bishop, be called the BISHOP WHITTLE SUNDAY-SCHOOL LIBRARY.

We give in conclusion, as provisional and tentative, the following classified list of one hundred books, arranged under the several heads of History, Biography, Missions, Natural History, Books of Travel and Description, the Prayer-book and the Church Year, Story-books or Fiction, and Miscellaneous :

Report of Committee on State of Church.

On motion of Rev. John K. Mason, a vote of thanks was presented to the committee, and especially to the chairman, for the above report.

Rev. Dr. Grammer presented the report of the Committee on the State of the Church.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON THE STATE OF THE CHURCH.

The Committee on the State of the Church respectfully present their report:

The Church whose state is investigated may be viewed either as an organic body, the condition of which may be evidenced and determined by statistics, or as a living body with a moral and spiritual character, and capable of spiritual health and growth.

1. The condition of the Church as disclosed by the information laid before this Council is such as to call for devout gratitude to the great Head and Lord of the Church, who has continued to us His wonted grace and favor. The exhibit made by the Episcopal and Parochial Reports of 1,602 confirmed, eight churches consecrated, fourteen new candidates for the ministry, and a clear gain of four ministers after all deductions for death, deposition and removal, affords a very cheering and stimulating evidence of growth. Our educational institutions are in a prosperous condition. The Seminary has been greatly improved without and within, mainly through the generosity of friends outside the Diocese; and the report of the Dean assures us that the spiritual tone pervading the students is most healthy and encouraging. The other Institutions of the Diocese present equally cheering evidences of prosperity. New enterprises are opening. New zeal is awaking all over the Diocese. More men and more money are urgently needed to enable the Church to enter in and possess a land that seems to be opening for us on every side, and more of God's spirit to quicken us forward in the building of the spiritual temple.

The reports of our Diocesan Missionary Society, moreover, show an increased spirit of liberality in our churches, and an enlarged capacity for giving, that calls for devout gratitude. A new mine of wealth seems to have been suddenly opened to the missionary work in the freshly awakening interest and activity of the children of the Church. But to these grounds of hope and courage there is one very serious and threatening drawback in the increasing number of vacant churches and of Parishes dependent on the missionary treasury. With about fifty of our Ministers receiving aid from this source, and several self-supporting Parishes besides without pastors at all, the situation is such as to require new measures. And for the inaugurating of such new measures, happily, God's goodness seems to be supplying an increase in our missionary funds. The contributions to Diocesan Missions have been larger than ever before. But a very few years ago it was thought to be a great audacity of faith in the Council to resolve to raise $10,000 for the year. Now the sum easily exceeds $13,000. And we feel justified in recommending to the Council this year to undertake to raise $15,000.

In regard to our work for the colored race, it is gratifying to hear, through the address of the Bishop, that it is in a healthy and growing state. We urge upon our people as well as our pastors, to give this important work their sympathy and fostering care.

2. We turn, secondly, to a less cheerful view of the state of the Church. It is unwise and unsafe to estimate the Church wholly by its organic growth and prosperity. It is not alone an institution, it is a living body inhabited by a living and divine Spirit. It possesses a character. It has an aim, a destiny, a mission, and is healthy and prosperous, or otherwise, only as it is fulfilling, and is fitted to fulfill, its end and mission. That mission is not itself self-extension and self-exaltation. The Church that saves its life shall inevitably lose it. Its aim and mission is Jesus Christ, His glory, His work and His kingdom. And in the more or less successful pursuit of this high aim is to be sought the true measure of its health and prosperity. In inquiring, then, about the state of the Church, we are to look at its doctrine, discipline and worship.

As to doctrinal teaching and preaching, we are happy in the belief, on not unreasonable grounds, and without any undue elation of pride, that in a part of the Church is preached a more pure and wholesome gospel of Christ than among us. That reviving breath of the Spirit of Christ that has passed over this Diocese during and through the fervent and faithful ministrations of Bishop Moore and his contemporaries, and Bishop Meade and his contemporaries—under whose ministry of reconciliation the Church has been uplifted from an almost extinct condition—stamped on the Virginia Church a character which it has not wholly lost. God grant its sweet savor may never pass away.

But there have sprung up among us, as well as in other parts of the Church, errors of doctrine, the prevalence of which must, in the next generation, prove fatal to the tone and character of that teaching and preaching which has always obtained in this Diocese. Errors rarely come to a harvest or ripen their fruits in the same generation, or come in the same soil in which they are sown. Springing up in hearts and lives that are already established in religious character, they are often for a time harmless enough, and rather lie barrenly in the mind as mere variations of religious thought than enter into the life and religious character. The fruits of error are to be sought for in the next generation, in those who with unformed character and convictions grow up under their influence. We must wait awhile, then, to see the corrupting effects of those erroneous beliefs gaining some currency in our Church, that deny immortality to the wicked, and aim a future probation and the possibility of repentance after death. If we realize as we ought our responsibility to the Church that is to come after us, it becomes us to be exceedingly cautious and tender of teaching doctrines which will be held by them, not as variations of fresh thought, but as living truths, and transmitting as an inheritance to our children teachings which our fathers have never committed to us.

As to discipline and worship, your committee must restrict themselves by saying summarily, that in the nature of the case there cannot be a maintenance of sound doctrine, purity of worship, and innocency of life, where discipline is despised. Disregard of canons, of rubrics, of vows, of legitimate authority, of old-established usages and orders, and the general prevalence, instead, of self pleasing, self-will, and self-rule, must obviously make impossible, not to say the continuance of sound doctrine and righteous living, but the continuance of very organic government itself, which being government by law and authority assumes the faithful administration of law and authority. We feel constrained to utter here a note of warning to the Diocese. Because we are all, Clergy and Laity alike, under authority, and need to be digesting all through life what we learned in childhood, that in submitting ourselves to all our governors teachers, spiritual pastors and masters, consists the safety and perpetuity of all government, ecclesiastical, as well as domestic and divine.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES GRAMMER.

Rev. H. Sizer, D. D., presented the report of the Committee on the Accounts of the Disabled Clergy Fund.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON THE ACCOUNTS OF THE DISABLED CLERGY FUND.

The committee appointed to examine the Disabled Clergy Fund began its work that they have had submitted to them the account of the Treasurer. It is provided in the Trustees of this Fund and therefore is in every way correct.

The assets of the Society at their last value amounted last year to $20,000. They are now $22,000. The report thus shows an increase of $2,000. In understanding the two facts, (1) that new investments were made during the past year in considerable numbers, and (2) that the disabled Clergy during the same time have received $20,000 more than were given the year before.

These figures indicate a very healthy condition of the finances as managed by the Trustees and Treasurer. But we are not to call attention to a slight falling off in the collections from the churches during the last year, lest this decrease should go on, and in time seriously cripple our resources. We must remember that with the coming years our liabilities will increase, and that, at the same time, our reinvestments will have to be made at a lower rate of interest. We must, therefore, steadily increase our annual contributions from the churches, in order to keep our Society in a condition equal to the increasing burdens to be laid upon it.

So far as your committee can judge, the investments have been wisely made, and the funds properly applied. The funds distributed to five (5) clergymen have amounted to $2,200, an excess, as we have already said, over last year of $950.

Your committee also desire to say that they have considered the resolutions of the House of Deputies of the General Convention referred to them, adopted October 24th, 1889, relative to the enactment of a canon by this Council in the interest of the Clergy Pension Fund. As we already have in this Diocese a Society for the Relief of our Aged and Disabled Clergy, your committee does not deem it wise to legislate further on this subject.

With reference to the Clergymen's Retiring Fund Society, we cordially endorse the action of the House of Deputies in heartily approving of the principles and methods of the Society, and commending it to the support of the Clergy and Laity of this Diocese.

Respectfully submitted,

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON EPISCOPAL FUND.

FREDERICKSBURG, May 21, 1890.

The committee appointed to examine the accounts of the treasurer of the Episcopal Fund present the treasurer's report. The only changes since the last report have been a sale of $200 of the Charlottesville & Rapidan R. R. 1st mortgage bonds at 102. The proceeds received from this sale was added to the receipts for the past year from dividends collected from the securities held by the treasurer (amounting to $475.85) to purchase a $1,000 bond of the corporation of the City of Alexandria at 650, as evidenced by the treasurer's check on Burke & Herbert, paid by them and for six hundred and fifty dollars. This leaves a balance due the treasurer of $57.37.

The funds now consist of—

$3,100 Bonds of the Corporation of Alexandria.

2,000 Va. Midland, 5th series.

200 " 2d series.

Reports of Committees on the Brotherhood and on Clerical Support.

Mr. L. M. Blackford presented the report of the Committee on the Brotherhood.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON THE BROTHERHOOD.

The Committee on the Brotherhood beg leave to submit the following report :

During the twenty years since its organization at the Council in Wheeling there have been among the beneficiary members of the Brotherhood thirty-five deaths, among the families of these $33,561 have been distributed. Collections for the heirs of the three who have died during the past year—the Revs. G. A. Smith, J. C. Hobson and R. H. Phillips—are still going on. It appears, therefore, that the average number of deaths annually among our members is one and three-fourths, and the average cost to each less than two dollars. The present number of members is from six hundred to seven hundred

The trustees having experienced as great difficulty as ever in securing agents in the congregations, have determined to solicit the assistance in that behalf of the Vestry of each Parish which is without one. At the same time they ask, and your Committee warmly seconds the request, that members of the Council will co-operate in this endeavor. We believe that in no other way can the same outlay accomplish as large a measure of good.

Your committee with pain, the death during the last year of Mr. George W. Warren, of Richmond, the gentleman who had so long and faithfully served as Treasurer of the Brotherhood. His place has been supplied by the appointment of Mr. Cyrus Bossieux, who reports in hand now, securely invested, $2,000, and in cash, $353.65.

It only remains for us to add to this exhibit of the past working and present condition of the organization, our conviction of the usefulness of the Brotherhood as it stands, and our still deeper conviction of its capability for good far beyond anything it has yet accomplished.

L. M. BLACKFORD,
R. H. BAKER,
W. H. PALMER.

 Report of Trustees of Virginia Female Institute.

The Election of the Standing Committees was made the order of the day for four o'clock.

Rev. Dr. Nelson offered the following, which was carried:

Resolved, That so much of Bishop Randolph's address as refers to the proposed changes in the Prayer Book be referred to the former Committee on the Prayer Book, with instructions to consider and report at the next annual Council.

Rev. Dr. Sprigg offered the following, Bishop Randolph being at the chair, and it was carried unanimously.

Resolved, That the Bishop be requested to take a vacation of four months, and that the sum of $500 be appropriated for that purpose.

Mr. James H. Skinner presented the following:

REPORT OF TRUSTEES OF VIRGINIA FEMALE INSTITUTE.

The Board of Trustees of the Virginia Female Institute has the satisfaction of reporting to the Council that this Diocesan school for young ladies, under the admirable management of Mrs. Gen. J. E. B. Stuart, continues to prosper and to answer the high purposes of its foundation. The mental, moral, religious, and social training of its scholars is of the best and most faithful character, and the school is yearly turning out young ladies who are noted, in all the highest accomplishments of womanhood, to adorn the society of their homes.

The number of scholars for the present year is ninety-eight, of whom sixty-five are boarders. Sixteen of these during the session have united themselves with the Church, in addition to a large number already in communion therewith.

The health of the pupils has been, as usual, very good, no case of serious sickness having occurred among them. The location of the Institute in the beautiful Valley of Virginia is, as you well know, one of rare healthfulness. Its literary and artistic advantages are excellent, and its discipline careful and loving, such as to entitle it to the fullest confidence of its patrons. The Board has no hesitation in giving the school a hearty recommendation.

Mrs. Stuart, in a recent report to the Board, suggests "the great need of an addition to the buildings, to be used as an assembly hall and for commencement exercises, the second story to serve as a studio to accommodate the increasing number of art students"; and she asks, "are there not some able, large-hearted men in our Diocese to help forward this good cause?"

We cordially approve this object, and should be glad to see it accomplished through the liberality of our wealthy laymen.

Report received—Resolutions adopted—Recess.

A vacancy in the Board has recently been made by the lamented death of Gen. Francis H. Smith, who for many years showed a lively interest in the Institute and always exerted himself zealously in its behalf. A distinguished educator, a faithful servant of the State, a loyal son of the Church, an humble and devoted Christian, a courteous gentleman and true friend, we sincerely deplore the great loss which we have sustained, and which has fallen alike on Church and State.

We invite the Council to make the nominations which the law requires for the filling of this vacancy.

Respectfully submitted by order of the Board.

JAMES H. SKINNER,
Secretary pro tem.

The report was received, and Messrs. R. Taylor Scott and Wm. A. Anderson were nominated to the Board by the Council, from whom the Board may fill the vacancy in the number of the Trustees.

Rev. B. D. Tucker offered the following, which was carried unanimously :

Resolved, That this Council expresses its cordial thanks to the Rector, Wardens and Vestry of St. George's Church for their great kindness and thoughtfulness in making arrangements for the comfort of the Clergy and Laity.

Resolved, That we also express our grateful appreciation of the abounding hospitality of the families in Fredericksburg ; also to the pages who have contributed to help us in our Proceedings.

Resolved, That the thanks of the Council are also given to the Christian brethren who have so kindly placed their churches at our service ; to the Fredericksburg Star for its courtesies ; also to the Weems line of steamers, and to the railroad companies that have made special arrangements for our delegates.

Rev. Dr. Pike Powers, from the Committee on Proposed Amendment to 19th and 20th Canons, offered the following :

The committee on amending Canons XIX and XX, having neglected to report on the proposed amendment of Canon XIX, beg leave to recommend that the words "if communicants," in the 16th and 17th lines, be omitted.

The report was received, and its recommendation unanimously adopted.

The Council then took recess until 4 P. M.

Rev. H. B. Lee gave notice that he would move at this Council that the 19th Canon be amended so as to read as follows :

Any member of the Church, being a communicant thereof, conducting himself or herself in a manner unworthy of a Christian, ought to be admonished or repelled from the Lord's table by the minister of the Parish or Church, according to the rubric. Gaming, attendance on horse racing and theatrical amusements, witnessing immodest and licentious exhibitions or shows, attending public balls, habitual neglect of public worship, a neglect of the Holy Communion, or denial of the doctrines of the Gospel as generally set forth in the authorized standards of the Church, are practices from which all Christians should abstain. This enumeration, however, shall not include all the subjects of discipline or admonition in the Church.

In cases where it may be deemed expedient by the minister, or may be requested by the accused, the church wardens, or either of them, shall be summoned to assist the minister in ascertaining the facts in the case : Provided, That if such warden, or wardens, shall fail or refuse to act within ten days, the minister shall proceed to act under the rubrics of the Church.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF FINANCE.

The Committee on Finance beg to report as follows:

We have examined the account of Mr. James T. Gray, treasurer of the Contingent Fund of the Diocese, and found it correct in every particular, and sustained by proper vouchers.

Report of Committee on Canon XIII.

The receipts from the Contingent Fund for the year ending May, 1890, amounted to $13,504.43, and from interest, $404.51, making a total receipt of $13,908.94. The total expenses of the Diocese, as shown by the account, are $11,233.83, leaving a balance in the hands of the treasurer of $175.11, and $2,500 loaned on interest.

The treasurer reports his collections up to this afternoon at about $7,200.

Your committee recommend the adoption of the following resolutions :

1. That the treasurer pay the customary charges for the salaries of the Bishop and Assistant Bishop, Secretary, Chaplain, Historiographer, and other customary expenses, including the rent of the residence of the Assistant Bishop, the sum of $25 to the Assistant Secretary of this Council, and $15 dollars to the sexton of St. George's Church, Fredericksburg.

2. That the Secretary cause to be printed fifteen hundred copies of the JOURNAL, as heretofore, and that he distribute, free of charge, so many as may be required for the use of the ministers and vestries of the Diocese, and dispose of the residue by sale, as heretofore.

3. That a committee of three be appointed to invest, or reinvest, any sum of money in the hands of the Treasurer of the Contingent Fund not necessary for the current expenses of the Diocese, and report their action, from year to year, to the Council.

4. That the Treasurer be authorized to pay the sum of $20 to the Rev. W. T. Roberts, for his expenses in making his report on Bishop Burgess's Catechism and Sunday-school Instruction Books.

PETERSBURG, VA., May 15th, 1890.

*Rt. Rev. F. M. WHITTLE, D. D.,
President of the Board of Trustees of the Bishop Payne Divinity and Industrial School:*

I respectfully report that eight students have attended the Divinity School this session. One of these expects to graduate on the course for candidates for Priest's Orders next month. He is the first student who has taken the full course in the school.

Most of the Divinity students have studied well, and made fair progress.

Sixty-five scholars have attended the Normal School during the current session. Some of these have done faithful work, others have done very little that is creditable.

The matron and teachers have been faithful and conscientious, so far as can be seen, in the discharge of their duties.

There have been twenty boarders in the two schools.

Some progress has been made in the Industrial Department.

I have instructed classes in the Divinity School in Old and New Testament History, Church History, New Testament Exegesis, Homiletics, Latin and Greek.

In the Normal School, I have instructed the Senior class in the Prayer-Book, Church History, Social Science and Logic.

Respectfully submitted,

R. A. GOODWIN.

PETERSBURG, VA., June 17, 1890.

*Right Rev. F. M. WHITTLE, D. D.,
President Board of Trustees:*

I respectfully report that during the past session I have taught in the Divinity School classes in Hebrew, Bible Introduction, Liturgies, Church Polity, and Systematic Theology.

In the Normal School I have taught classes in Mental Science, Moral Science, English and Latin.

Miscellaneous.

The progress of the Divinity Students has been very fair in Biblical and theological studies, but they are generally backward in English Grammar, Composition and Spelling—studies to which we find necessary to give increasing attention.

The same remark as to English holds good in the case of most of the Normal scholars. It is very difficult to impress upon them the necessity of thoroughness in elementary studies.

Respectfully submitted :

THOMAS SPENCER.

OF THE
IN THE DIOCESE OF VIRGINIA,

As adopted in 1836, and amended in 1840, 1850, 1860, 1864, 1867, 1872, 1881 and 1890.

ARTICLE I.

There shall be a Council of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Virginia on the third Wednesday in May every year ; but the Council which meets in the year previous to the meeting of the General Convention may have power to appoint the time and place of meeting for the next annual session, and in the event of the existence of an epidemic disease, or any other good cause, rendering it necessary or expedient to alter the place fixed on for any meeting of the Council, the Ecclesiastical Authority of the Diocese may change the place, or the time, or both.

ARTICLE II.

SECTION I. The Council shall be composed of the Bishop and the Assistant Bishop (if there be one), and of the Ministers, except as hereinafter provided, who now are or may hereafter be canonically settled in Parishes or churches within this Diocese ; Professors of the Theological Seminary of Virginia, Missionaries within this Diocese, and under its ecclesiastical authority, being Clergymen of this Church and canonically connected with this Diocese : Provided, that any such Ministers who may have been so canonically settled up to the time of disability, but whom age or infirmity prevents from exercising their clerical functions, shall be members ex officio : Provided further, that only such Colored Ministers shall be members as are specified in Section 3 of this Article: Provided further, that no Minister under ecclesiastical censure or process shall be entitled to a seat in the Council, and no Minister shall be entitled to a seat unless he has been canonically connected with the Diocese for the six calendar months preceding.

SEC. 2. The Council shall also be composed of lay members, consisting of one delegate for each Parish or church entitled to representation, chosen by the Vestry thereof, except as hereinafter provided. Every such Parish or church having more than one officiating Minister canonically settled, shall be entitled to send as many lay delegates as it has Ministers, and in every case the delegate or delegates shall be communicants in the Church: Provided, that only such colored delegates shall be members as are specified in Section 3 of this Article.

SEC. 3. The Council shall also be composed of the Colored Ministers having a seat and voice in the Council on the 17th day of May 1889, and of two clerical and two lay delegates from the Colored Missionary Jurisdiction of the Diocese, as the same is now or may hereafter be constituted by Canon.

ARTICLE III.

Twenty members of the clerical and twenty of the lay order shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, but a smaller number may adjourn.

ARTICLE IV.

In all matters that shall come before Council, the clergy and laity shall deliberate in one body, and the concurrence of a majority shall give validity to any measure; but when five members require it there shall be a vote by orders, and a majority of each order shall be necessary to a decision.

ARTICLE V.

The election of a Bishop in this Diocese shall be made in Council in the following manner: The order of the clergy shall nominate and appoint by ballot some fit and qualified clergyman for the office, and the votes of a majority of that order shall be requisite to constitute a choice; and thereupon such appointment shall be presented to the order of the lay delegates, and be considered by them; and if on a ballot it shall appear that the person so nominated is approved by a majority of the lay order, he shall then be declared to be duly elected.

ARTICLE VI.

The Bishop shall be President of the Council, in which character it shall be his duty to give to the Council annually a general view of the state of the Church; to call special Councils at whatever time and place he shall think necessary, or when required by the Standing Committee; to preserve order during the time of session; to put the question, collect the votes, and declare the decision; and he may deliver his sentiments on any subject after it has been discussed before a vote thereon. The Assistant Bishop, if there be one, shall preside in the Council in the absence of the Bishop.

ARTICLE VII.

In case of a vacancy in the Episcopal Office, the Council, immediately upon their assembling, shall choose by joint ballot a President from among the order of Priests, who shall remain in office until the next annual Council, or until the next election of a President. He shall perform all duties, and possess all the privileges above specified; but he shall not call special meetings of the Council unless applied to for that purpose by a majority of the Standing Committee; and if the Bishop of the Diocese be not present at any meeting of the Council, they shall elect, in the manner aforesaid, a President pro tempore.

ARTICLE VIII.

A Secretary shall be appointed by the Council, who shall continue in office during good behavior. His duty shall be to make minutes of their proceedings, to preserve their journals and records, to attest the public acts of the body, and faithfully to deliver into the hands of his successor all books and papers relative to the concerns of the Council which may be in his possession. It shall be his duty to notify through the channel of the public papers, as he may think proper, the time and place for the meeting of the succeeding Council. The Secretary shall annex to the journals of every succeeding Council a list of the clergy, with all alterations therein produced in the preceding year by ordinations, deaths, removals, suspensions and degradations.

 Constitution.

ARTICLE IX.

A Treasurer shall be appointed by the Council, who shall continue in office for one year, or until his successor shall be appointed. It shall be his duty to receive and keep safely all money and other property confided to his custody ; and he shall disburse and dispose of the same as may be ordered by the Council. He shall annually report to the Council an account showing all money and other property received by him, and the manner in which he has disbursed or disposed of the same.

In case of a vacancy in the office by the death or resignation of the Treasurer, or in case of his misconduct, incapacity, refusal or failure to discharge the duties of his office during the recess of the Council the Ecclesiastical Authority of the Diocese may fill the said vacancy or remove the said Treasurer, and appoint a Treasurer pro tempore who shall take into his custody all the money and other property, and all the books and papers belonging to the said office, and discharge the duties thereof until the election of a Treasurer by the Council.

ARTICLE X.

Each Annual Council shall elect by ballot a Standing Committee consisting of six members, three clerical and three of the lay order who shall be communicants of the Church in the Diocese, and who shall continue in office until their successors shall be appointed.

ARTICLE XI.

Every Parish within this Diocese shall be entitled to the entire benefit of this Constitution as soon as it shall have signified its ratification thereof, either in writing or by sending a lay delegate to the Council ; and such Parish shall thereafter be benefited and bound equally with the other Parishes in this Diocese by every rule and Canon which shall be framed by any Council acting under this Constitution for the government of this Church in ecclesiastical concerns.

Constitution.

ARTICLE XII.

This Constitution shall be unalterable, except in the following manner : A proposition for any change shall be introduced in writing and considered in Council, and if approved of, the same shall be transmitted to the several vestries of the Parishes which shall have ratified this Constitution ; and if again approved of in the next ensuing Council by a majority, the change shall then take place, and the Constitution so altered shall be valid and obligatory.

C A N O N S
OF THE

Adopted 1849, 1850, 1860, 1867, 1872, 1882, 1887, and 1890.

CANON I.

Of the trial of a Clergyman, not being a Bishop.

SECTION 1. The trial of a clergyman, not being a Bishop, shall be on a presentment in writing, specifying with reasonable clearness and certainty as to time, place and circumstance, the crime or misdemeanor, by violation of the canons or otherwise, charged; the said presentment to be made to the Bishop, either by the Council, or by the vestry of the Parish to which the accused belongs, or by any three presbyters of the Diocese, entitled to seats in the Council; the said vestry, or presbyters, pledging themselves to act as a committee of prosecution. If, however, the presentment be made by the Council, then the Council shall appoint the committee of prosecution and furnish them with such instructions as may be deemed necessary.

SEC. 2. Such presentment being made to the Bishop, and being accompanied by a further statement in writing of the names of the witnesses, and of the purport of their evidence, and by such documentary evidence as may be in their possession, the Bishop shall immediately proceed to the trial, according to the following provisions: He shall nominate from among the clergy entitled to seats in the Council, other than the members of the Standing Committee, eight presbyters, and cause a list of their names and a copy of the presentment to be furnished to the accused, or left at his place of residence. Of the eight presbyters nominated as aforesaid, the accused may choose five, or, in case of his refusal or neglect for twenty days so to do, the Bishop shall select five, and the presbyters so chosen shall constitute a court for the trial of the accused. The Bishop shall also, at the same time, cause at least thirty days' notice of the time and place of the trial to be given, both to the accused and to the parties presenting him, and also to the presbyters nominated as before provided.

SEC. 3. The court shall appoint a President and Secretary—the first always from their own body.

SEC. 4. If the accused appear before proceeding to trial, he shall be called on by the court to say whether he is guilty of the offence, or offences, charged against him, and on his neglect or refusal to answer, the plea of not guilty shall be entered for him, and the trial shall proceed : Provided, that for sufficient cause the court may adjourn, from time to time, and place to place: And provided also, that the accused shall, at all times during the trial, have liberty to be present, to produce his testimony, and to make his defense.

SEC. 5. On the request of the accused, or the committee of prosecution, witnesses may be summoned—if before the meeting of the court—by the Bishop; if during the session of the court then by its President. All testimony shall be given under oath or affirmation, administered by some officer authorized by law. In case the testimony of any witness—whose attendance on the trial cannot be obtained—is desired, it shall be lawful for either party, at any time after notice of the presentment is served on the accused, to apply to the court, if in session, or if not, to the Bishop, who shall thereupon appoint a commissioner to take the deposition of such witness; and such party so desiring to take the deposition shall give to the other party, or some one of them, reasonable notice of the time and place of taking the deposition, accompanying such notice with the interrogatories to be propounded to the witness; whereupon, it shall be lawful for the other party, within six days after such notice, to propound cross-interrogatories, and such interrogatories and cross-interrogatories, if any be propounded, shall be sent to the commissioner, who shall thereupon proceed to take the testimony of such witness, and transmit it under seal to the court. But no deposition shall be read at the trial unless the court have reasonable assurance that the attendance of the witness cannot be procured, or unless both parties shall consent that it may be read.

SEC. 6. The court having deliberately considered the evidence, shall, within ten days after closing the same, declare in a written judgment signed by them, or a majority of them, that the accused is guilty, or not guilty, of the charge or charges, or any of them, laid in the presentment, in the order therein set forth, and also, if guilty, what punishment shall be awarded, which judgment, with all the evidence received, shall be delivered forthwith to the Bishop; whereupon, unless the Bishop see cause to mitigate or remit the punishment, or to grant a new trial, he shall pronounce sentence according to the judgment of the court, and such sentence shall be final. In case a new trial is granted, a new court shall be constituted according to the provisions of this Canon.

SEC. 7. If the accused shall neglect or refuse to appear before the court, when summoned according to section second of this Canon, and no defence be there made under his authority, the court shall declare him to be in contumacy, and report the same to the Bishop, and sentence of suspension from the ministry shall pass against him for contumacy; but the said sentence shall be reversed by the Bishop, if—within three calendar months—the accused shall tender himself ready, and accordingly appear to take his trial on the presentment; but if he shall not so tender himself before the expiration of the said three months, the sentence of degradation from the ministry for contumacy shall forthwith be pronounced by the Bishop, who shall cause such sentence to be publicly read to the congregations of the Diocese by the respective ministers thereof.

SEC. 8. If at any time the accused shall confess himself guilty of the matters charged in the presentment, or any of them, the court shall proceed to award the punishment, and certify the same, as hereinbefore provided, to the Bishop, who shall, unless he see cause to remit or mitigate the punishment, pronounce the sentence according to the Canons.

SEC. 9. All notices and papers contemplated by this Canon may be served by a summoner, or summoners, appointed by the Bishop, or by the court when the same is in session, and the certificate of any such summoner shall be evidence of the due service of a notice or paper. The delivery of a written notice or paper to a party, or the leaving it at his last place of residence, shall be deemed a sufficient service of such notice or paper.

SEC. 10. The accused party may have the privilege of appearing by counsel, in number not more than two, and, in case of the exercise of such privilege, but not otherwise, those presenting shall have the like privilege. If the party accused desire it, the trial shall be in public, and said party shall be entitled to a copy of the evidence if he require it.

SEC. 11. In case of a presentment occurring during a vacancy in the Episcopal Office, such presentment shall be made to the Standing Committee, who shall thereon take such steps as are by this Canon enjoined on the Bishop : Provided, that on receiving the proceedings and judgments of the court, they shall transmit the same to the Bishop of some other Diocese, who shall be requested, and is hereby authorized, to act thereon, as if he were the Bishop of the Diocese, and, if he shall concur in opinion with the court, he shall proceed to pronounce sentence accordingly.

SEC. 12. The expenses of such trial, as also those of the investigating committee, preliminary to a presentment, shall be defrayed by the Treasurer out of the contingent fund by order of the Council.

CANON II.

Of the proceedings in the trial of a Laymen, after expulsion by the Minister from the Holy Communion.

If any person repelled from the Holy Communion shall allege to the Bishop, that injustice has been done, or if, notwithstanding he shall have professed himself ready and willing, in truth and sincerity, to comply with the requisitions expressed in the Rubric, in order to be restored to the Holy Communion, his repulsion shall be continued, he may present his complaint in writing to the Bishop, setting forth the grounds thereof, and desiring that he may be restored to the Communion, and then the Bishop, unless he think fit to restore the communicant from the insufficiency of the cause assigned by the minister, shall nominate two of the clergy and two of the laity, of whom the minister repelling shall select one of the clergymen, and the communicant one of the laymen; and it shall be the duty of the two thus chosen to take without delay the evidence in the case, under oath and in writing, of such witnesses as may be produced by either of the parties, and to certify the same to the Bishop, who, thereupon, unless for his own satisfaction, or for good cause shown by either of the parties interested, he shall desire further evidence, shall proceed to adjudge the case. If further evidence be required, it shall be obtained and certified, either by the same commission, or by another appointed in the manner above prescribed, as the Bishop may direct. And when the evidence is thus procured, the Bishop shall adjudge the case, and shall communicate his judgment whenever made to the minister repelling, and to the communicant repelled, which judgment shall be final and conclusive: Provided, that in case his judgment shall direct a further continuance of the repulsion, it shall nevertheless be subject to all the conditions and provisions of the Rubric.

Canons.

CANON III.

Of the transfer of Communicants from one Parish or Church to another.

Every communicant removing from one Parish or church to another within this Diocese, and desiring to be enrolled as a communicant thereof, shall present to the minister a certificate of regular standing from the minister, or, if there be no minister, from the vestry of the Parish or church from which the communicant desires to be transferred.

CANON IV.

Ministers to be careful in admitting to Holy Communion.

No minister shall enroll any persons as communicants in the Parish or congregation under his charge until he has conversed with them on the subject, or unless he shall be satisfied that they have been regular communicants in some other Parish or congregation; nor shall he enroll any one who is known to deny the doctrines of the gospel as generally set forth in the authorized standards of the Church; nor shall he report to the Diocesan Council, as a communicant, any one who has not (without satisfactory reason) communed within the year immediately preceding the annual meeting of the Council.

Canons.

CANON V.

Communicants to have Family Worship.

It shall be the duty of every communicant in this Church, who is at the head of a family, to live in the daily exercise of family worship.

CANON VI.

The members of this Church to instruct their Families in the principles of Religion.

The members of this Church shall instruct their families, as far as they are able, in the principle of the Christian religion. Parents and sponsors shall be careful to teach their children the solemnity and obligation of their baptismal vow, to cause them to attend the catechetical and other instructions of their minister; and, as soon as they are sufficiently instructed and impressed with the importance and sacredness of their baptismal promise, shall take care that they come to the Bishop to be confirmed by him.

CANON VII.

Of the due celebration of Sunday.

All persons within this Church shall celebrate and keep the Lord's day, commonly called Sunday, in hearing the Word of God read and taught, in private and public prayer, and in acts of charity, using all sober and godly conversation.

CANON VIII.

Election and Duties of Vestries and Wardens, &c.

SEC. 1. All persons who have attained the age of twenty-one years, have resided in the Parish in which they offer to vote for six months next preceding the election, and are communicants of the Protestant Episcopal Church, or regular contributors to the charges of the Parish, shall be entitled to vote at the election of vestrymen for such Parish.

Canons.

SEC. 2. The election of vestrymen shall be held on Easter Monday ; or in case no election be held on that day, on such other day as shall be designated in the manner hereinafter prescribed. The election shall be held at the Parish church, or some place of worship, if there be one ; if not, at such other place within the Parish as shall be designated in the manner hereinafter provided. The voting shall be by ballot. The number of persons to be voted for by each elector shall not be less than three, nor more than twelve, and shall be fixed—where the election is the first in a new Parish—by the Council on its admission into the Diocese, or, before the election commences, by a majority of the qualified electors who shall have assembled to vote at such election ; or, in case the election be in an organized Parish, the number to be voted for shall be the same that constituted the former vestry, unless such number be changed in like manner by a majority of the qualified electors so assembled. Only male persons shall be eligible to the office of vestryman ; in other respects the qualifications of vestrymen shall be the same as those prescribed for voters. The persons chosen by a majority of the votes cast at such election, together with the minister in charge of the Parish, if there be one, shall constitute the vestry of the Parish, and they shall continue in office until their successors are elected, and qualify as hereinafter prescribed.

SEC. 3. In case there be in a Parish congregations not exceeding four in number, apart from each other, but not constituting independent cures, a separate election shall be held for each congregation at its usual place of worship, or, if there be none, at such other place as shall be designated in the manner hereinafter prescribed. The qualified electors of such congregation shall, in the manner prescribed by this Canon, elect three persons, who shall be vestrymen of the Parish. The vestrymen chosen for such congregation shall together with the minister in charge thereof, be the constituted authorities of such congregation, and shall manage and control the affairs of the same, so far as they pertain alone to the congregation and not to the Parish at large. The vestrymen chosen by such congregations in the same Parish shall, together with the minister in charge thereof, be the constituted authorities of the Parish, as if vestry, and shall manage and control the affairs of the Parish, either in general meeting, a majority of the whole number of vestrymen the Parish being present, or in case such meeting be impracticable.

Canons.

or in the opinion of the minister in charge too inconvenient, any matter concurred in by a majority of the vestrymen of the respective congregations, and duly recorded by the register of the Parish, shall be deemed to be the act of the vestry of the Parish. But in no event shall the aggregate number of such vestrymen exceed twelve.

SEC. 4. If there be no Parish church or place of regular worship for the Parish or congregation, as the case may be, the minister in charge of the same, or other person or persons named in the next succeeding section, shall have authority to appoint the place within the Parish at which such election shall be held. If such place of voting be so fixed before Easter Monday, the same notice of the time and place of election shall be required as in the next succeeding election.

SEC. 5. If no such election be held on Easter Monday, the same may be held on any day thereafter (except Sunday), to be fixed by the minister in charge, or, if there be none, by one of the wardens, or by two vestrymen, or, if there be none, by three members of the congregation. Of the time and place of such special election, due notice shall be given during the services held at the Parish church or place of worship on the two Sundays next preceding such special election; or in case no such services be held by posting copies of such notice for two weeks next preceding such special election at the front door of the Parish church or place of worship; or, in case there be none, at two or more public places in the Parish.

SEC. 6. The vestry shall appoint three persons, of whom not more than two members shall be of their own body, to act as judges, to conduct and superintend such elections. In case no such judges be appointed, the members of the vestry present shall act as judges of election; and in case none of the vestry be present, or if present, fail to act, the electors may choose three of their number to act as such judges. The judges of election shall judge of the qualification of the voters, and of those elected as vestrymen.

SEC. 7. As soon as may be after such election, the persons chosen to act as vestrymen shall at such time and place as the minister shall appoint, or as shall otherwise be designated, assemble and proceed to organize the vestry. The register and treasurer of the former vestry shall attend. The proceedings shall be opened with one or more collects and the Lord's prayer by the minister in charge, or in his absence by one of the wardens, or any other member who may be requested to preside over the meeting.

SEC. 8. Every person chosen a vestryman, shall, before he acts as such, subscribe the following declaration and promise: "I do believe the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testament to be the Word of God, and to contain all things necessary to salvation; and I do yield my hearty assent and approbation to the doctrines, worship and discipline of the Protestant Episcopal Church in these United States; and I promise that I will faithfully execute the office of vestryman of ——— Parish, or church, in ——— county, according to my best knowledge and skill." No person shall act or vote as vestryman until he has subscribed this declaration and promise.

SEC. 9. The vestry shall proceed to elect two wardens, a register and a treasurer, who shall continue in office until their successors are elected. The wardens must be communicants and members of the vestry.

SEC. 10. Vacancies occurring in the vestry shall be filled by a vote of the remaining members, and a majority of those who have qualified shall constitute a quorum. The Rector shall preside at all meetings when present, and be entitled to give the casting vote in case of a tie, when he is not personally interested. All vestry meetings shall be subject to his call, and in case he fails, at the request of two vestrymen, to call a meeting, such vestrymen, if they deem it necessary, may themselves call a meeting.

Duties.

SEC. 1. It shall be the duty of the vestry to determine upon and elect a Rector; to co-operate with him in gathering souls into the fold of Christ; to see that he be properly supported; that his salary be paid with regularity and punctuality; to make and execute all contracts for the erection, furnishing and preserving the church edifice and other church property; to regulate the use of the Parish graveyard; to employ an organist, and otherwise provide for sacred music, subject to the control of the Rector, and generally as the constituted agents of the Parish or congregation to transact all its temporal business.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of the wardens to keep watch over the church property; to see that it is duly prepared for every occa-

of public worship ; to see that the sexton and other employees properly discharge their duties ; to collect the offerings of the people ; to take charge of the font and communion plate ; to provide out of the Parish funds, under the direction of the vestry, a sufficient supply of vestments, and books to be used in public worship, and the elements for each celebration of the Holy Communion ; to attend to the accommodation of the congregation with seats, and to maintain order and decorum in the time of public worship.

EC. 3. It shall be the duty of the register of the vestry to take charge of all Parish records ; to keep correct entries of all proceedings of the vestry, and when there shall be no Rector, to enter upon the Church register usually kept by the Rector, all baptisms, specifying the Christian and surnames of the parents, with the name and date of birth and baptism of the person baptized ; also all marriages, births and funerals, with dates and names of parties, and in like manner all confirmations administered in, and communicants lost or received by the Parish, and furnish a report of the same to the annual synods of the Diocese.

EC. 4. It shall be duty of the Treasurer to take charge of all moneys, except communion alms and other special offerings, and to disburse the same under the direction of the vestry, and to make annual reports to the Council as are required by its orders. The term "parish," wherever it occurs in this Canon, shall be interpreted also to mean church or congregation, wherever such a church or congregation is entitled to a separate vestry, unless where the context requires a more restricted construction.

CANON IX.

Concerning Exceptions to the foregoing Canon.

Whereas, the preceding Canon, which directs the manner of choosing vestrymen in the several Parishes, is not applicable to the case of churches built and supported by voluntary associations of individuals ; and it is proper that those who hold the sole property of any particular church—as in the case of the Monumental Church, Richmond, and in all similar cases—should provide for its care and management, the choice of vestrymen shall be made by the pew-holders of the respective churches, conforming, as to the time of appointment and manner of qualifying the vestrymen, to the regulations prescribed by the eighth Canon.

Canons.

CANON X.

Of the Division of Parishes.

SEC. 1. Whenever the members of the church, residing in a particular portion of a Parish, shall desire to separate from the Parish of which they form a part, it shall be lawful for them to assemble, after public notice given in the church or place of public worship, or posted upon the door of the same, and appoint a committee to take such measures as may be necessary.

SEC. 2. The committee thus appointed shall give to the Bishop and to the majority of the vestry (if there be one) of the Parish from which they desire to be separated, a formal notice of their intention to apply for such purpose, which notice shall contain a description of the proposed line or lines of division, and shall be sent to the Bishop and said vestry at least three months before the meeting of the Council to which the application shall be made.

SEC. 3. Said application shall be made in the form of a petition to the Council, and shall set forth the considerations which are supposed to render the division desirable ; whereupon the Council may, if they deem it expedient, proceed to divide said Parish, and to constitute the portion thereof applying for separation a new Parish, with all the rights and privileges of other Parishes of this Diocese.

SEC. 4. As soon after the adjournment of the Council as may be practicable, the committee aforesaid shall give at least two weeks' notice to the members of the church, residing in the new Parish, to assemble for the election of a vestry, which election shall be conducted according to the directions contained in Canon VIII.

SEC. 5. The committee aforesaid, or a majority of those who may attend, shall judge of the qualification of voters, and of the qualification of persons proposed to be elected, and of the election of vestrymen ; and those persons whom said committee shall declare to be duly elected, shall be the vestry of said Parish until the election and qualification of the succeeding vestry.

Canons.

CANON XI.

Of the Formation of New Congregations.

When any number of persons belonging to any Parish or congregation sufficient to build a house of worship and provide for the support of a minister, shall choose to separate from the Parish or congregation of which they have hitherto been a part, they may proceed according to the directions given in Canon X, except that in the case of the direction as to a line or lines of division is inapplicable. The Council may, on such petition, constitute the applicants a separate congregation, and authorize, by special enactment, such peculiar regulations as to the right of suffrage, the employment of a minister or ministers, and the manner of holding and managing the property of the new congregation, as they may propose, and the Council deem proper: Provided, That the time of electing and the manner of electing vestrymen shall always be conformed to the regulation prescribed in Canon VIII.

CANON XII.

Of Mission Churches.

1. When any number of persons belonging to any Parish or congregation desire a separate and independent organization, but will comply with the requirements of the Canon in regard to the formation of new congregations, they may, until they are so able, proceed to organize a Mission Church upon the following conditions: They must obtain the approval of the vestry of the Parish to which they belonged, and if there be two or more vestries in the Parish they must have the consent of a majority of the same. They must have the approval of the ecclesiastical authority of the Diocese.

2. They may have their own vestry and officers, whose manner of election, and whose duties shall be according to the provisions of the Canons in regard to the election and duties of other vestries, provided that they shall have no representation in the Council of the Diocese, and shall not call a minister without the approval of the ecclesiastical authority.

Canons.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of the vestry of a church organized under this Canon to give notice of the same to the Secretary and Treasurer of the Diocese, and a list of Mission Churches so organized shall be published annually in the JOURNAL.

CANON XIII.

Of Colored Mission Churches.

SEC. 1. The colored people of Virginia who are, or may hereafter be, connected with the Protestant Episcopal Church, shall constitute a Missionary jurisdiction of the Diocese.

SEC. 2. It shall be lawful to organize Mission Churches or congregations composed exclusively of colored persons, within the limits of any already existing Parish, subject to the same conditions and regulations as are other Mission Churches (see Canon XII), and specially those of this Canon, except that consent of the Vestry or Vestries need not be obtained.

SEC. 3. There may be appointed, by the Bishop, one or more Presbyters who shall have general supervision of such colored churches and congregations as the Bishop may designate, and perform such duties as he may prescribe.

SEC. 4. A convocation shall be held annually at such time and place as may be designated by the Bishop as to the first meeting, and afterwards by the Convocation itself. The colored ministers of the Diocese, in good standing, shall be members of the Convocation, and it shall be the duty of every such minister to attend its meetings. The Vestry of every Colored Mission Church or congregation shall elect one male lay delegate annually, who, upon the presentation of a certificate signed by the minister (or warden, if there be no minister,) and Register of the Vestry, stating that the delegate is not less than twenty-one years of age, and is a communicant of the Protestant Episcopal Church, shall be entitled to a seat in the Convocation.

The Bishop, the Assistant Bishop (if there be one), and the Presbyters mentioned in Section 3, shall be ex officio members of the Convocation. The Bishop (or in his absence the Assistant Bishop) shall be President of the Convocation.

SEC. 5. The Convocation shall have power to consult and devise measures for their common welfare, which measures shall take effect when approved by the Council of the Diocese.

Canons.

SEC. 6. The Convocation shall elect annually two Clergymen and two laymen to represent them in the Council of the Diocese.

SEC. 7. Colored congregations, constituted as above provided, may acquire and hold property of their own, as by law provided, but cannot come into possession of the property of any white congregation, except by transfer, under the laws of the State of Virginia; nor shall any white congregation come into possession of the property of any colored congregation, except by like transfer.

CANON XIV.

Of the Evidence of the Appointment of Lay Delegates to the Council.

The appointment of lay delegates to the Council of this Diocese shall be certified by the rector, register, or warden of the proper Parish or Church, in duplicate, and said certificate shall be in form as follows :

“ This is to certify that at a meeting of the Vestry (or Trustees, as the case may be) of ——— Parish (or Church), in ——— county, held on the ——— day of ———, A. B., who is a communicant in said Parish, or Church, was appointed a lay delegate to represent the same in the Council of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Diocese of Virginia, to be holden on the ——— day of ———, in the year of our Lord ———.

“ A. B., Rector,

“ C. D., Register or Church Warden.”

The original credentials of lay delegates shall be forwarded to the Secretary of the Council, and the duplicate delivered to the delegate-elect. The Secretary shall make out a roll and call the names of all certified to him as duly and canonically elected. The President of the Council shall then appoint a committee, to be composed of four clerical and three lay delegates, to whom shall be referred the credentials of the lay delegates, and who shall report the names of those entitled to seats; but until said report shall be received and adopted, no business shall be considered by the Council.

Should doubt arise as to the right of any lay delegate to his seat, the matter shall be referred to the Committee on Elections for examination and report.

Canons.

CANON XV.

Of the Standing Committee.

SEC. 1. Any vacancy occurring by death, or otherwise, in the Standing Committee, shall be supplied by the concurrent vote of the remaining clerical members and lay members of the Committee.

SEC. 2. In case of a vacancy in the Episcopate, the powers and duties to be performed by the Bishop, as regards discipline, except the pronouncing sentence of suspension, deposition, or degradation from the ministry, shall belong to, and be performed by, the Standing Committee.

SEC. 3. The record of all the proceedings, on a presentment of a clergyman or layman, shall be preserved by the Standing Committee and for that purpose shall, after a final decision, be delivered to their Secretary.

SEC. 4. It shall be the duty of the Standing Committee, before every stated meeting of the General Convention, to draft, with the advice and approbation of the Bishop, a report of the state of the Church in this Diocese, to be presented to the General Convention.

SEC. 5. It shall be the duty of the Standing Committee, at every meeting of the Council, to submit, in addition to the report of their proceedings, the documents also which have been laid before them during the year.

CANON XVI.

A List to be made of Ministers in this Diocese.

SEC. 1. Within one week before every stated meeting of the Council of this Diocese, the Bishop, or, if there be no Bishop, the Standing Committee, shall prepare, or cause to be prepared, a list of all the ministers of the Protestant Episcopal Church, canonical residents in this Diocese, annexing the names of their respective cures or of their stations as missionaries, or of the colleges, academies, or other seminaries of learning in which they are engaged, or in regard to those who have no cure, or are not engaged in missions or institutions of learning—as above, their places of residence only. And such list, corrected as hereinafter mentioned, shall be laid before the Council on the first day of meeting, and the names of the clerical members called therefrom, and appended to the journal, and shall be transmitted to the Secretary of the General Convention.

SEC. 2. The list of the clergy of this Diocese, so prepared by the Bishop or Standing Committee, and annexed according to the changes which may occur, whether by death, ordination, discipline, or canonical removals from or admission into this Diocese, shall be evidence of a clergyman's having a cure or mission, or engagement in a seminary of learning, and no clergyman, while suspended from the ministry, shall have a place on said list.

SEC. 3. The right of any clergyman to a seat in the Council shall, if disputed, be determined according to the provisions of the Constitution and Canons by the Council itself, whether his name be inserted in the list aforesaid or omitted.

SEC. 4. It shall be the duty of the clergy to attend regularly at the meeting of every Council. At the opening of the Council their names shall be called over and absentees noted, and at the ensuing stated Council they shall be required to give excuses for their absence.

CANON XVII.

Respecting the Property of the Church.

The vestries respectively shall hold all glebes, lands, parsonage houses, churches, books, plate or other property now belonging or hereafter accruing to the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Diocese of Virginia, as trustees for the benefit of the Parish or Church, for whose use the same were or shall hereafter be purchased or otherwise obtained ; and may improve, demise, or otherwise dispose of the lands or houses allowed for the minister's habitation or use with the minister's consent ; and if there be no minister, with the consent of the Bishop ; or in case there be no minister, and the Episcopal Office be vacant, then not without the consent of the Standing Committee. The vestry may also use, improve, or dispose of all personal property, and the produce, rents and profits of lands and houses (not appropriated for the occupancy and use of the minister) belonging to the church, in repairing the church and parsonage house for the benefit of the respective Parishes or churches, and may make such rules and orders for managing the affairs and temporal concerns of their respective churches and Parishes as they shall think most conducive to their interest and prosperity. They shall have the sole power of directing the payment of money belonging to the respective churches and Parishes, and appoint a clerk, treasurer and collector when necessary; all which proceedings shall be entered in a well-bound book to be kept for that purpose. But when there are trustees under the act of the Legislature, passed February 3d, 1842, authorized to hold real property, such real property shall not be subject to the provisions of this Canon.

 Canons.

CANON XVIII.

Of Church Property for which there are no Trustees.

The Council shall annually elect a Standing Committee, to consist of two clergymen and three laymen, whose duty it shall be to claim for and on behalf the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Diocese of Virginia, all property, real and personal, belonging to said church or any Parish or congregation thereof, whether said Parish or congregation has been disbanded or not, as to which there are no duly constituted trustees in whom is vested the legal title thereto.

The said Committee shall use all due diligence, by proper legal steps or otherwise, to secure such property to the use and benefit of the said Church, or of the proper Parish or Congregation thereof and to that end the members of said Committee, or the person designated by them, are hereby nominated without further action of the Council, to the respective courts to which said Committee may apply, as the trustees for any such property so to be claimed by said Committee.

When any such property shall be recovered by said Committee, it shall be held by the trustees appointed for the use and benefit of this Church, or the Parish or Congregation properly entitled thereto.

CANON XIX.

Offenders to be admonished or repelled from the Lord's Table.

Any member of the Church, being a communicant thereof, conducting himself or herself in a manner unworthy of a Christian, ought to be admonished or repelled from the Lord's Table by the minister of the Parish or Church, according to the Rubric. Gaming

Canons.

attendance on horse-racing and theatrical amusements, witnessing immodest and licentious exhibitions or shows, attending public balls, habitual neglect of public worship, a neglect of the Holy Communion, or a denial of the doctrines of the Gospel, as generally set forth in the authorized standards of the Church, are practices from which all Christians should abstain. This enumeration, however, shall not be construed to include all the subjects of discipline or admonition in the Church. In cases where it may be deemed expedient by the minister, or may be requested by the accused, the Church wardens, or either of them, shall be summoned to assist the minister in ascertaining the facts of the case: Provided, that if such warden or wardens shall fail or refuse to act within ten days, the minister shall proceed to act under the Rubrics of this Church.

CANON XX.

Proceedings for the Expenses of the Diocese.

The Vestries of the several Parishes or churches shall, quarterly or at every annual Council, as each Vestry shall determine for itself, pay to the Treasurer such sums as may be apportioned to them respectively, for the purpose of defraying such expenses as may be authorized by the Council.

CANON XXI.

Concerning altering or adding to the Canons of the Church.

No proposed alteration or addition to the Canons shall hereafter be considered by the Council, unless at least one day's previous notice be given in open Council, nor until such alteration or addition shall have been referred to and reported upon by a committee of at least two presbyters and two laymen. Nor shall such alteration or addition be adopted during the same Council if two-thirds of the members shall not concur therein; but if the majority be less than two-thirds, it shall lie over for consideration until the next Annual Council.

CANON XXII.

All the former Canons of this Diocese, not included in these Canons, are hereby repealed.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON SUNDAY-SCHOOL INSTITUTE.

The Committee appointed by the last Council to take such steps as shall be necessary for the organization of a Diocesan Institute, and to make proper arrangements for a meeting of the Institute on the afternoon of the first day of the Council of 1891, beg leave respectfully to report as follows:

The Committee, fully realizing the benefit of the Sunday-school Institute as an agency to elevate the character of the teaching in the Sunday-school and to promote the efficiency of this most useful part of the organization of the Church, have endeavored to carry out the instructions of the Council. They have been met, however, with the insuperable difficulty of conducting a session of the Institute in the brief hours available in one afternoon.

The Sunday-school Institute is practicably a normal school. It would not be possible even to show the workings of such a school in the time at our disposal during the session of the Diocesan Council. The Committee feel that in view of this fact it would not be practicable to hold an Institute in connection with the annual Councils, and that the end sought by the resolution would be best attained by the organization of Convocational Institutes, which would be in more direct contact with the Sunday-school work. A Report of Managers of Widows' and Orphans' Fund.

Diocesan Institute, composed of delegates from the several Convocations and Institutes, would be the natural outgrowth; and holding its sessions at such time and place as would be most convenient for those interested in the special work of the Sunday-school, would be able to accomplish far more than would be possible during the busy session of the Councils.

In conclusion the Committee, regretting that they have not been able to carry out the full letter of the instructions of the Council, desire to give notice that there will be a meeting at four o'clock this afternoon in accordance with the order of the resolution under which they were appointed, when the subject of the organization of Sunday school Institutes will be brought before the members of the Council and all those interested in the work.

The Committee have been so fortunate as to secure the assistance of Archdeacon Moran, of the Diocese of Maryland, who has been prominently connected with the American Sunday-school Institute from its organization, and who is well fitted, by long experience in England and in Pennsylvania, to set forth the uses and methods of the Sunday-school Institute.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

BEVERLEY D. TUCKER,
W. L. GRAVATT,
A. J. LLOYD,
WM. W. OLD,
W. B. MARTIN.

The Bishop presented the accounts of the Episcopal Fund and of the Bruce Fund, which were referred to the committees on those accounts.

Rev. Dr. Gibson presented the report of the Managers of the Widows' and Orphans' Fund.

REPORT OF MANAGERS OF WIDOWS' AND ORPHANS' FUND.

The Managers of the Widows' and Orphans' Fund are glad to be able to report a somewhat improved condition of their finances. The annual report of our Treasurer shows the par value of our invested fund to be $25,713.73. The income from this fund for the year ending May, 1891, was $1,539.94, an increase over that of the previous year of $251.61.

The contributions also have slightly increased both in the number of contributors and in the amount given. In the year ending May, 1890, only seventy-four churches and individuals gave anything to this fund. In the year just ended the number has increased to ninety-two. The sum contributed, however, is only eleven dollars and fifty-seven cents more than last year, being $1,136.83 to $1,125.26 of the year before.

Hours of Meeting and Adjournment—Subject of Division of Diocese.

The amount from the interest fund and from contributions, together with a small balance in bank, gave us a distributable income of $2 733.73. Out of this amount the Board have appropriated $2,535 to the relief of eighteen beneficiaries, and reserving a balance of $198.73 for possible demands that may arise during the year. It is exceedingly desirable that all the members of the Church in the Diocese should become contributors to this Fund, and that all our ministers should make collections for its enlargement. If this were done the Board would be enabled to carry out strictly the original Rule of Management, viz: to increase the Capital Fund to $60,000 by adding to it yearly one-half of the annual income. Twenty-five cents given annually from each of our 18,000 communicants would accomplish this object.

Respectfully submitted,

CHURCHILL J. GIBSON, Secretary.

Appropriations for 1891: To the families of the Rev. Messrs. Weddell, Steptoe, and Hobson, $200 each; the families of Drs. Meredith and Murdaugh, $175 each; of Messrs. Pendleton, Stringfellow, Gregory, and Caldwell, $150 each; to Mrs. J. P. McGuire, Mrs. Davis Wood, Mrs. Ward, Mrs. Okeson, and the Misses Hoxton, $125 each; to Mrs. John A. Wharton, Mrs. Dr. Slaughter, and the Misses Fisher, $100 each; to Mrs. E. B. McGuire, $60.

Referred to Committee on Widows' and Orphans' Fund.

On motion of Rev. Dr. Gibson the hours of meeting and adjournment were fixed at 9:30 A. M. and 2 P. M.

Rev. Dr. Gibson presented an invitation of the Petersburg Benevolent Mechanic Association to all members of the Council to make use of their reading-room and library during their stay in the city.

Rev. Thomas Spencer presented a communication from the Petersburg Musical Association and Petersburg Chorus inviting the Council to attend a concert of sacred music to be given on Friday night.

On motion the thanks of the Council were returned for the above invitations.

On motion of Rev. Dr. Hanckel the subject of the division of the Diocese was made the order of the day for Thursday, immediately after the election of the Standing Committees of the Diocese.

Rev. E. L. Goodwin presented a petition for the division of Montgomery Parish, which was referred to the Committee on New Parishes.

Resolution, &c.—Evening Session—Report of Executive Committee of Diocesan Miss. Society.

On motion of Mr. R. Taylor Scott the privilege of seats on the floor of the Council was accorded to the Bishop of West Virginia and to all visiting clergy and theological students.

Rev. Dr. Powers presented a petition from St. Andrew's Church, Richmond, asking to be admitted into union with the Council. Referred to Committee on New Parishes.

Mr. J. Ravenscroft Jones offered the following:

Resolved. That the Secretary of the Council be instructed to insert in the Annual Journal of this Council a brief memorial page of such ministers in this Diocese as have died within the preceding conciliar year; which memorial page shall embrace the following facts: What was his name in full? When born, and where? When ordered Deacon, and where? When ordained priest, and where? The several charges held by him? When did he die, and where?

Rev. J. B. Newton moved to amend by including also the names of deceased lay members of the Council.

The resolution, as amended, was adopted.

Rev. Dr. Dashiell moved that the Council meet at 8 P. M. for proceedings in connection with the report of the Diocesan Missionary Society. Adopted.

The hour of two o'clock having arrived, the Council took recess until 8 P. M.

WEDNESDAY, 8 P. M.

The Council met pursuant to adjournment, Bishop Whittle in the chair.

After services conducted by the Rev. Geo. W. Easter, the annual report of the Executive Committee of the Diocesan Missionary Society was read by the Rev. Pike Powers, D. D., Secretary of the Committee.

REPORT OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE DIOCESAN MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The Executive Committee of the Diocesan Missionary Society respectfully report that in the disbursement of the funds entrusted to them, they have aided, since the last Council, Parishes in the following counties and to Report of Executive Committee of Diocesan Missionary Society.

The following amounts, viz: Albemarle, $100; Alleghany, $200; Amherst, $100; Bedford, $150; Botetourt, $100; Campbell, $200; Chesterfield (two parishes), $325; Caroline (two Parishes), $300; Culpeper, $200; Essex (two parishes), $350; Fairfax, $150; Goochland, $200; Greensville, $150; Halifax, $200; Hanover (two Parishes), $300; Henrico, $250; Henry, $200; King George, $150; King William, $100; Lancaster, $200; Madison, $100; Montgomery, $200; Nottoway, $200; Orange and Louisa, $250; Pittsylvania (two parishes), $200; Princess Anne, $200; Prince Edward, $200; Prince William, $300; Pulaski, $200; Rockbridge, $150; Shenandoah, $250; Southampton, $200; Stafford, $250; Westmoreland (three Parishes), $550; Warwick, $200; York, $100; total, $7,575. This amount was not actually paid out, because there were vacancies part of the time, and appropriations made in the course of the year and paid from the date when they were made. In November, 1890, a third Evangelist, Rev. James B. Funsten, having been appointed by the Bishop in pursuance of the resolution of the last Council, he entered upon his work, so that while we have paid the salary of one Evangelist, Rev. Ev. Meade, for one year, $1,500, we have paid the salary of Rev. James B. Funsten say for seven months, $875, making for the two $2,375, the salary of the other Evangelist, Rev. John J. Norwood, being paid by the Richmond Missionary Society. We have also paid the travelling expenses of all three Evangelists. To this must be added $100 paid to Rev. Job Turner, Missionary to Deaf Mutes, the stipends of five colored deacons, some specials paid to ministers in need, and other expenses incidental to the work, so that the total amount reported by the treasurer as paid out by him, of which the items are given in his report, is $12,411.86. To meet this we started after the last Council with a balance on hand of $4,586.25, and we have received $13,893.43, of which the Lenten and Easter offerings up to 1st of May were $6,746.46, and the children's offerings $4,373.91. We are thankful for these large Lenten and Easter offerings, for without them we should have been unable to meet our engagements, and should have been compelled to curtail our work. But still we think it would be better if the contributions were more equally distributed throughout the year. More money was paid in in the single month of April than in all the preceding months since Council. It is certainly better not to be compelled to borrow, and we are compelled to borrow every year. A man who has a good deal of religion during Lent and but little at other times is not much of a Christian, and what is true of Christian living is apt to be true also of Christian giving. The Apostle's rule is to give regularly, according to the ability which God giveth.

There are now three Evangelists at work in the Diocese, each with his proper district assigned him. Rev. John J. Norwood has the counties in the Rappahannock Valley, the Piedmont and the Valley Convocations; Rev. Ev. Meade has the counties in the James River, the Petersburg, and the Norfolk Convocations, and Rev. James B. Funsten has the counties in the Southwest Virginia, the Central, and the Danville Convocations. They have been assiduous and faithful in their work, and have visited the vacant churches in their several districts probably once in three months or oftener, besides doing some pastoral work and aiding them with counsel and encouragement. But there may be danger of some of the churches being satisfied with this supply and satisfied to pay very little for it; and this danger is likely to increase with the number of Evangelists. So that if we had six instead of three, and they could give the churches one service, even some churches would be satisfied and satisfied that these services should be paid for mainly by the rest of the Diocese. Certain it is, that while some of them do very well, most of them give much less to Diocesan Missions, and therefore to the support of the Evangelists, than they would give to the support of a rector if they had one. The tendency of the system of Evangelists, when carried beyond a certain point, we think, is to pauperize the churches, unless some plan can be adopted to make the churches which are served by the Evangelists pledge themselves for a reasonable part of their support.

We have reason to believe that our Evangelists and Missionaries are doing good work, and for the most part are earnest, faithful, and efficient.

We thank God that He has blessed our work, and that He has put it into the hearts of the people and children to give as liberally as they have done to the cause of Diocesan Missions.

PIKE POWERS,
Secretary Diocesan Missionary Society.

On motion the report was referred to the Committee on the Diocesan Missionary Society.

Addresses were made by the Revs. Everard Meade, W. T. Roberts, R. W. Forsyth, J. W. Ware, Arthur P. Gray, James Grammer, D. D., John J. Lloyd, and D. C. T. Davis.

The offerings of the congregation were then given in aid of the Diocesan Missionary Society, and after appropriate devotional exercises the Council adjourned until Thursday at 9:30 A. M.

BISHOP WHITTLE'S ADDRESS.

The Bishop then read his Annual Address:

REV. AND DEAR BRETHREN:

The last Council—in my absence and when I had no opportunity to respond—passed a resolution requesting me to take a vacation of four months and appropriating the means to enable me to do so. My first duty, therefore—after acknowledging my obligations to God for His goodness and mercy which have followed me through another year—is to assure you that I do most gratefully appreciate, not only this considerate and undeserved kindness, but also the unfailing confidence, forbearance, and affection which my dear brethren of the clergy and laity have manifested towards me for now twenty-three years past, and of which, it humbles me to know, I am entirely unworthy. I can only trust that it may constrain me freely to spend my improved health and strength in labors with them and for them.

I now proceed to give, as briefly as possible, such a report of my labors and of the affairs of the Diocese as is required by canon.

Bishop's Address.

MINISTERS DECEASED.

It is my sad duty to report that three of our ministers have ceased from their earthly labors during the past year. June 12th, 1890, Rev. Philip Slaughter, D. D., the distinguished Historiographer of the Diocese, departed this life at his home in Culpeper at an advanced age, which I do not know. He had been disabled by feeble health for many years from doing the work of the ministry, but was actively engaged in historical studies and with his pen nearly to the last.

August 1st, 1890, died at the Orkney Springs, near Mt. Jackson, his home, in Shenandoah county, Rev. James W. Shields, the true, genial, warm-hearted Christian man, and the faithful and beloved rector of Beckford Parish, in the forty-second year of his age, and after a ministry of fifteen years.

January 15th, 1891, Rev. Ebenezer Boyden departed from us at his home in Albemarle county, in the eighty-eighth year of his age and the sixty-third of his ministry. This venerable brother had labored with fidelity and ability in Norfolk, Staunton, Cleveland, hio, and, I think, for more than forty years as the Rector of Grace church, Albemarle and St. John's, Louisa, but for several years had been unable, because of bodily infirmities, to continue in service. I do not attempt to write any eulogy of these dear brethren. That has been much better done by others than I could do it, and they are so well known as to make it unnecessary to add anything. Enough to say of them that they were all true and faithful servants of the Master, and ministers of His gospel; and that for them to live was Christ, and to die was gain.

I think it will appear from the various reports to be presented to the Council that while the Church may not have made any great progress during the past year, yet there is nothing to discourage and much for which we should be thankful. The confirmations have been about as usual, a number of new churches have been consecrated, the list of ministers remains nearly the same as last year, the amount of contributions has been large, and our different societies and institutions continue to prosper.

By resolution of the last Council I was made chairman of a committee to take charge of the very important work of preparing or selecting and recommending suitable books for the instruction of the libraries of our Sunday-schools, which had been under consideration for several years. But unfortunately no committee was appointed and consequently nothing could be done. I suggest that the resolution be renewed during our present session. I was also appointed during my absence from the Council and without my knowledge, of a committee to report on the question of repealing the XIth Canon of the Diocese. I respectfully declined to serve on this committee, and so informed the chairman.

The Diocese has been divided, as approved by the Council, into three districts, and Revs. J. J. Norwood and E. Meade have been continued, and Rev. James B. Funsten has been added to the number as Evangelists, who confine their labors each to his own district. These brethren have done faithful and effective service during the year. Messrs. Meade and Funsten are supported and the expenses of all three are paid by the Executive Committee of the Diocesan Missionary Society. To help the committee especially to meet by the children as reaching the great sum of $4,305.77—exceeding that of last year by more than $1,300, and swelling the sum from the whole Diocese to the grand total of $13,834—more than ever given before, and more than the most sanguine of us ventured to hope for! Truly, if not “out of the mouth of sucklings,” yet by the hearts and hands of little children ordained strength to carry on our work and advance his

The children of our families and Sunday-schools deserve praise of the whole Church. May God richly bless every one and may their example inspire their seniors with a more spirit of devotion and self-denial in the Master's service.

Our Evangelists, as I have mentioned, are supported by a Native Committee, while the salary of the third, Mr. Norwood, is paid by the Richmond City Missionary Society, an organization uniting the ministers and congregations of the city and neighborhood and which I commend as a model which may well be followed as an example which may be followed in all places where two or more churches. Its work is not limited to any one locality, but extends as far as to Brazil, where it largely aims to sustain one of our ministers. This Brazilian mission is carried on by the American Church Missionary Society, a voluntary organization of men of like doctrinal and ecclesiastical views and principles, whose teaching and methods we can approve. The mission now consists of two of our noblest laymen, Morris and Kinsolving, and several native helpers, who will be joined in a few months (D. V.) by three other young as heathen as any, and by men of our own State and Diocese of the highest manly Christian character, well furnished for and thoroughly consecrated to their work. Such a mission as this is, and will be after the additions which are soon to be made to it, cannot fail, in my judgment, to secure the favor and blessing of God. As a foreign field I earnestly commend it as being especially deserving of the sympathy and prayers and support of all our ministers and people.

In my last address I mentioned the fact that the legislature had incorporated a board of trustees by the name and style of the "Bethany Institute," "for the purpose of establishing and conducting an orphan asylum and hospital, and for educating women in the care of the poor and sick, the religious training of the young and others, and the work of moral reformation." I am sorry to be obliged to say that next to no interest has been manifested in this—as it seems to many of us—exceedingly important movement. I may not discuss the subject here, but wish I could persuade all who have money which they realize that they hold as God's stewards, to study it and determine that it is an object which ought to be accomplished. Any contribution for the Bethany Institute—from a house in which to start the work down to the smallest sums of money—will be gladly received by the treasurer, Rosewell Page, Esq., Richmond.

Acting under Canon XIII—"of Colored Mission Churches"—all who were concerned were duly summoned to meet December 30th, 1866, in St. Stephen's Church, Petersburg, to organize "a convocation," which the Canon requires "shall be held annually." All the colored ministers of the Diocese—except one, who was prevented by sickness—responded to the call, and a lay delegate was present from every Colored Mission Church or congregation. The meeting was opened with morning prayer: a sermon by Bishop Randolph, and the administration of the Lord's supper, and was closed with evening prayer, and sermon by one of the members, followed by an address by myself. Two sessions of the convocation were held, at which officers and delegates to the Council were elected, rules of order adopted, and subjects for future discussion arranged. It then adjourned, to meet about the same time next year, in Grace Church, Norfolk. As far as appeared, the best spirit animated all the members, and I cannot but hope and believe that the Convocation will we a great help towards advancing the interests of the Church among our colored brethren in Virginia.

The question which, no doubt, will engage more of your attention than any other is that of dividing the Diocese. I think it my duty to try to clearly explain my position on this subject, because I find that, in many quarters, it is misunderstood. A year ago, for reasons which were mentioned, I recommended that a committee be appointed to consider the question of dividing the Diocese of Virginia into two or three dioceses and to report to this Council. A committee of sixteen was appointed, of which I was made chairman. The committee met in Richmond January 13th, all the members being present, and unanimously adopted a report to be presented to the Council. But, before anything was done, I distinctly stated that, in my judgment, it was a mistake to put me on the committee; that I was present merely as chairman and to get all the information I could; that I would not feel bound by the action of the committee, or commit myself to anything until I heard all that might be said out of and in the Council. I think the committee understood that to be my position then, and that is my position now. I have not expressed myself as being either in favor of, or as opposed to, any particular line or lines of division, and do not consider myself bound to consent to any such, or, indeed, to any division whatever that may be agreed upon. I trust, therefore, that there may be a free and full discussion of the important subject in all its bearings, and that no one will be in the least degree influenced in his speech or action by what he may suppose to be my views and wishes.

May the love of the Father and the grace of the Son, our Saviour, and the communion of the Holy Spirit be with us all now and ever.

The Assistant Bishop then read his annual address.

ASSISTANT BISHOP'S ADDRESS.

BRETHREN OF THE CLERGY AND LAITY:

In beginning my address, I must express my sincere regret at my failure to meet twelve of my appointments during the months of March and May. With seven, the failure was due to impassable roads; with five, to indisposition, which confined me to my room.

Before I begin a detailed statement of official duties in the Diocese I will mention that I was appointed to attend the consecration of the Rt. Rev. Henry Melville Jackson, D. D., at Selma, Alabama, which took place on Wednesday, the 21st of January. I discharged that duty, and the memory of the occasion is very pleasant. The only regret was the parting with an able minister and a beloved brother from the Diocese of Virginia.

I proceed to give the details of official work.

CHURCHES CONSECRATED.

December 8th.—Consecrated St. Philip's colored church. Rev. T. W. Jones, Rector of St. John's Church, Bedford City, preached and assisted in the service.

April 7th.—Consecrated St. John's Church, Mount Airy, Pittsylvania county. Rev. C. O. Pruden, Rector, assisted in the services. This new church takes the place of an old building a few hundred yards distant, which has been kindly loaned to the Methodists for their services. In plan and construction it is one of the best buildings in the county parishes of the Diocese. It cost about three thousand dollars. The people themselves, with the exception of a few hundred dollars, raising the amount. I do not know of a church enterprise in the Diocese which tells more for fidelity and earnestness in the Rector and in the congregation.

Assistant Bishop's Address.

April 23d I visited the new church building in process of erection South Boston, Halifax county. When completed it will be a lovely church, seating three hundred persons, and built at a cost of three thousand dollars. Our people in this growing town deserve our respect and commendation for their persevering efforts during three years to build this church. They have received little help from outside. The cause of the church has suffered for want of a building for worship in. I would advise those who have the means and the heart to do it to help these good people to complete their church at once.

Outside of official visitations I have administered the Holy Communion twelve times, the sacrament of baptism six times, and have ministered and preached in vacant churches, or in temporary absence of minister in charge, eighteen times, and at the invitation of rectors to assist them eleven times.

I have preached four times at special services by the invitation of Young Men's Christian Associations in different parts of the State. I would commend this work and the broad-minded and loving cooperation of our ministers and our people.

If the intelligent and conservative people of all the churches lend their influence and active help, the Young Men's Christian Association would become a means of blessing and unity to the Christian Church.

On Sunday the 22d of June, at the evening service in the Seminary Chapel, I had the privilege of preaching the closing sermon to the High School. My contact with this school, especially upon such occasions, leaves with me a gratifying impression of its many excellences and especially of the religious reverence pervading it, and of the intelligent training in the services of the Episcopal Church which its pupils receive.

On the 24th of June I attended a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Seminary and High School; on the 25th a meeting of the Education Society; on the afternoon of the 25th the final exercises at the High School; on the 26th the reading of essays and the delivery of diplomas to the graduating class in the Chapel of the Seminary; on the 27th I assisted the Bishop of the Diocese in the services in the Seminary Chapel and ordained to the Priesthood there Wesley Doggett, John Thomas Foster, Robert Carter Jett, Stephen Osborne Southall, and Charles Edward Woodson.

Assistant Bishop's Address.

On Saturday the 9th of August I was informed by telegram from Harrisonburg of the sudden death of the Rev. James W. Shields. Owing to irregularity of railroad communications I failed to reach Richmond in time for the funeral. Upon a visit a few weeks afterwards to see his family and to minister in his bereaved churches, I was deeply impressed with the love and the sorrow, not only of his own people, but of all classes and churches in the community. He was a man of single and steady purpose, of high ideals of duty as a student and a preacher of the Gospel, and of self-forgetting enthusiasm in the work of the ministry. Bishop Wilmer, of Alabama, ministered to him in his last hours. Speaking to me about it, he said: "I would not have missed the lessons of his dying hours. I feel that the memory of his peace and strength, and the light upon his face as we communed together will help me when my time comes." If we ministers give to Christ our best—if we are faithful to our people, to ourselves, and to Him—we, too, as we look back from the end, will thank God that He has dedicated our lives to a service which must be the best preparation for the wider fields and the nobler activities and the everlasting glories of the life to come.

I attended a special meeting of the House of Bishops in New York October 22d and 23d. I was able to attend the meetings of the Commission on the colored work in the city of Washington—one held on the 5th of June and the other on the 7th and 8th of January.

During my visit to the churches in Brunswick, in the month of March, I gave a day to visiting the schools for colored children, male and female, under the care of the Rev. James Russell. I can commend this work without reserve to the confidence and the generous help of our people.

On the 30th of December I attended, at the request of the Bishop and in company with him, a meeting of colored clergy and laity in Petersburg to organize a convocation, as provided for in Canon XIIIth of the Canons of the Diocese.

On the 15th of January I attended a special meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Seminary and High School, called at the instance of the Committee on the High School improvements, appointed at the former meeting of the Board. The Southern Churchman has kindly informed the church and the public of the action of this meeting in the resolutions adopted for improvements in the High School buildings. As chairman of the two committees appointed at this meeting—e a building committee and one for raising funds necessary for the improvements—I have had some work to do along with other members the two committees in the effort to carry out the wishes of the board. Plans of building have been adopted; the bid of a responsible contractor, among four others, has been accepted, and the work begun. I trust that the Church in Virginia will respond to this call of duty to its own Diocesan School. I believe it will, if our ministers, without timidity and with loving loyalty to our Diocese, acquaint their people with its claims and co-operate with cordiality with the Rev. Mr. Castleman, our agent for collecting contributions for the work. The Church in Virginia governs her institutions well, but perhaps the time has come for her to rely less upon her friends in the North and elsewhere, and more upon herself to build and equip her institutions.

On the 13th of January I attended a meeting in the city of Richmond of the committee appointed at the last Council upon the question of the division of the Diocese, raised by an expression of an opinion from the Bishop in his address that the time had come for the consideration of that question. After prolonged consideration and discussion, when the advocates—representing different parts of the Diocese—of various schemes and plans of division had the opportunity of expressing their views and wishes, a report was agreed upon with practical unanimity. That report was printed, and has been in possession of the Church for some months past. It has called forth criticisms from various quarters, and it is well, perhaps, that it is so. It has also suggested articles in our Southern Churchman, proposing schemes and geographical lines, none of which have been discussed in the committee and some entirely original, and exhibit geographical ingenuity. As the question is one upon which my opinions, from my position and my opportunities of forming intelligent judgment may be of some value, and also one of more personal interest to me than it can be to any one of you, and this is by custom a Bishop's opportunity for expressing his views upon questions of general and Diocesan policy, I may detain you with a brief review of the question as it comes before you. A Bishop is married to his Diocese. It is a tie that death alone can sever. You, dear brethren of the clergy and laity, are under no such obligations. In this wide country—in this great Church with it fifty

Assistant Bishop's Address.

Dioceses—calls of duty or desire for change may take you to other fields of work, and your people may part with you to-morrow to see your faces no more as their pastor and fellow-worker in the kingdom of God. And your Bishops go in and out of your old homes and churches long after you have taken root in other lands and gathered new interests around you in far-off communities. You see what a living, lasting tie it is. Again, the question of division in a Diocese has an element of finality in its decision which belongs to no other question which presents itself in the government of the Church. Canons and constitutions are in perpetual process of renovation and change. The line you make to separate a portion of your territory from the Mother Diocese each year assumes something of the permanency of the mountain chains and rivers that abide as the generations pass away. The new Diocese may want to come back again, and there is a constitutional way of coming back, but it is a hard way. I know of three Dioceses who long ago must have realized the mistake of their separation, but I have heard of no organized effort in them to come back. Like young manhood, with high hopes emigrating from an old State to a new land, they may fail and struggle and almost starve, but anything is better than acknowledging failure—than coming back to the old home and knocking at the door with, “Let me in—I was wrong to go away.” The work we do in dividing a Diocese is a permanent work, and this consideration must lift the question above influences and feelings and circumstances that are in their nature conditional and transient. The delicate health, the age and infirmity of your Bishops, may be classed among circumstances that are conditional and temporary. In the Diocese of Maryland, after the Diocese of Easton was cut off, but before the demand for small Dioceses, originating with the High Church party, had subsided and faith in the system broken by stern experience, the then Bishop of Maryland, old and infirm, made repeated efforts to set apart the city of Washington, and parts of Maryland adjacent, into an independent Diocese. The effort was steadily resisted by the Convention of Maryland. To-day, perhaps, not a single clergyman or layman in that powerful Diocese would move for such a proposition. Not one, perhaps, but would admit that its success, when proposed by Bishop Whittingham, would have been a disaster to the interests of the Episcopal Church in Washington and throughout the Diocese.

Assistant Bishop's Address.

of Maryland, and this in the face of the fact that Washington has more than twice the population and many more churches than it had then.

Nor, again, is the sudden growth of population and a tide of material development in a State, or a portion of its territory, a sound basis for the erection of independent Dioceses. The Southern portion of California, with Los Angeles for its central city, presented to the last General Convention a petition to be set apart as a Diocese. The petition was supported by the recommendation of the Convention of California, by the fact that the Bishop was almost wholly incapacitated for duty by blindness and the infirmities of age. Also by statistics of phenomenal material development and increase of population throughout that portion of the State, and lastly by pledges of $6,000 income for the support of the new Diocese. By the time the petition reached the General Convention, the wave of material prosperity had subsided, values depreciated, and the alleged $6,000 of income contracted to a doubtful and contingent $4,000; and the petition was rejected by the House of Bishops, only a few votes sustaining it against an overwhelming majority, upon the ground of inadequate guarantee for the support of the Episcopate and for Diocesan expenses. We are glad to believe that the tide of material prosperity in portions of Virginia is not transient or fictitious, but steady and permanent; but these are, with few exceptions, portions of the State where the Episcopal Church is weak and struggling; where the means for its support and development are drawn largely from the older portions of the Diocese; where the incoming populations belong to other communions, and where the people absorb all they make, like children in rapid physical development, and give little and have little to give; where even the few strong churches, if any can be called strong, are struggling to get themselves built up, and the weak ones are crying for help. To cut off such communities from the sympathy and the support of the great body of strength in a Diocese, seems to be unwise. It is bad ecclesiastical statesmanship.

There seems to be an impression, not very clearly defined, in the minds of many of our earnest and intelligent clergy and laity that the smallness of a Diocese is, per se, a condition of exceptional growth and vitality. Why should it be so? Experience in the American Church seems to be against it. The majority of the smaller Dioceses have remained small since their organization. They have grown less in proportion than the large Dioceses. They are struggling to exist to-day after an experiment of ten or fifteen years. The Diocese of Virginia, the battle-ground of the great war, has grown in the last twenty-five years with exceptional rapidity. The Diocese of Maryland, under the administration of a single Bishop, and with some adverse elements to contend with which have not existed here, has grown stronger each year for a quarter of a century past. True some small Dioceses have prospered—one near to us constitutes an example—but no one doubts that with its earnest clergy and its blessed Bishop it would have grown more rapidly had it been larger and with larger resources. The balance of experience is clearly against the proposition that smallness in a Diocese is a condition of exceptional vitality.

Does the impression rest upon reasonable grounds? Is it in accord with the practical beliefs and public sentiment of the age in which we live, in other churches and in other departments of life? The Methodists are widening the boundaries of their Conferences, the Presbyterians of their Presbyteries.

In the great movements for internal improvements which are making our wildernesses to blossom and our mountains to give up their coal and iron for the uses of man, combination, not disintegration, association, not isolation, constitute the law and the principle of growth. So in churches. The larger your religious community, within the demands and the possibilities of your form of church government, the more of weight and of warmth, of energy and of hope for great enterprises, and the wider the material resources for educating the ignorant, for building up the old waste places and opening new fields for the missionary activities of your Church. These seem to me not only to be intelligible, but obvious propositions, and in view of them there has been no doubt upon my mind since the subject has engaged my earnest attention that the cutting off of a weak portion of the Diocese to be erected into an independent Diocese, or a division of the State into three Dioceses, would be disastrous to the Church in Virginia; to her energy and power for work; to the strength which comes from the associations and the dignity of her history, and to her position in the general Church, where I trust she may stand for generations to come as one of the great bulwarks of Protestantism in our American Christianity.

Assistant Bishop's Address.

Beside all this there is the ultimate fact, standing at the threshold of the consideration of the proposition for such division, that there is less need for it, so far as Episcopal visitations are involved, than at any previous period of her history.

For the most part the churches in Virginia are visited by your Bishops every year.

In regard to my brother, your Bishop, I have yet to hear that he has ever spared himself from spending and being spent in these ministrations to your churches. For myself, I am sure you will be willing to testify that my effort has been at least a sincere one to discharge these duties up to the measure of my ability.

If you desire your Bishops to be missionaries, you are adding to their office functions which neutralize and weaken those with which they are clothed at their consecration.

They are overseers, guides, rulers under law, administrators of government for missionaries and for ministers. And they are the chief pastors to all of the congregations. You have your missionaries; you have your evangelists; and you have enough for your Bishops to do in the discharge of their legitimate and necessary duties. This brings me to the last point in this discussion. If, in the Providence of God, the responsibility is placed upon us to carve a Diocese out of our territory, and to define its boundaries, surely the criterion of measurement is the capacity of one Bishop to discharge all Episcopal duties in that Diocese.

I cannot agree with my honored brother, the Bishop, that the Episcopal duties needed in Virginia are beyond the capacity of two Bishops to perform. I believe that two Bishops, in physical health—and this must be the assumption in the estimate of capacity as a basis of legislation—may discharge to the full all Episcopal duties in the Diocese of Virginia. In Maryland one Bishop with more than two hundred churches, with a larger number of church institutions than our own and with almost as large a body of clergy, performs every duty of the Episcopate.

I do agree with the Bishop in the opinion that the time has come for the division of Virginia into two Dioceses—a division as near to equality as may be practicable, in resources, territory, and strength in communicants and churches. It may be asked: How does that solve the problem which confronts us? What relief does it afford for an over-worked Diocesan? The answer is that it gives the State of Virginia two full Bishops instead of one. In explaining that proposition I must speak with the utmost candor, and I must ask you to remove your minds above the region of all personal associations. The question is too important to suppress the truth that bears upon any of its relations, and manly and intelligent men may discuss principles upon a plane above the imputation, from even common minds, of personal considerations. An assistant Bishop is an anomaly in the history and the laws governing the Episcopate throughout its long career as an institution in the Christian Church. He has responsibilities without powers. He is clothed by his consecration with the functions of rule and of discipline. After his consecration, as he enters upon the discharge of his duties, he comes under the authority of the canonical law of the general Church and of his own Diocese. In order to adapt his position to the rights and responsibilities which belong to the Bishop alone, the canonical law takes away these functions of discipline and government with which his consecration has clothed him. The anomaly of his position, then, is illustrated in this conflict between the constitutional law which confers upon him the rights and responsibilities of discipline, and the canonical law which takes these rights and responsibilities away. The Church, in her legislation, to meet the lessons of experience which have taught her governmental principles, which she failed to see at first, has recognized this anomaly, and has in her general law eliminated from the petition of a Diocese every ground of the claim of an assistant Bishop, save that of permanent physical disability in the Diocesan. In so doing she points to the division of the Diocese as the normal and the only legal remedy for extent of territory beyond the capacity of a Bishop to work, or multiplication of duties beyond his capacity to fill. Here, then, is the answer to the question. Relieve your Bishop from the duties of administration, from the solitudes and perplexities of discipline, and from the care of one-half of the churches, the clergy and the laity of his Diocese—you remove from him a pressure & responsibility and duty which he feels to be his greatest burden, and which you, if you think intelligently, ought, in some measure, to appreciate.

As to the question of the increased efficiency and the wider activity on the part of an assistant Bishop who takes his place and does his work as the responsible head of a Diocese, I suppose there is no doubt upon the mind of any member of this intelligent body.

 Executive Committee of the Diocesan Missionary Society.

As to the lines of division into two Dioceses that have been or may be proposed, I have no advice to give. As a member of the committee on the division, I voted for the line drawn in their report as a proposition to be presented to this Council. That line creates a Diocese in the eastern part of the State with three cities, the Church strong in each one and the parishes in the country easily accessible by railroads. A Diocese easy to work, coherent, growing, and destined for wider growth in the future, but never beyond the capacity of the Bishop to discharge its duties. The other Diocese would be weaker in numbers and resources, but wider in territory, and destined, perhaps, in the future to grow up to the necessity of another division. Another natural line of division would be the great river that divides the State into two almost equal parts. That division would also create two strong Dioceses, either one of which would furnish a noble field for the best activities, and the thankful, lifelong devotion of either one of your Bishops.

Every morning when the Council is opened we pray to the Lord Jesus Christ, who has promised to be with his Church to the end of the world, to save us from all error, ignorance, pride, and prejudice. In the discharge of your responsibilities as legislators in the Church, upon this most important question, surely you need to pray that prayer with fervor and humility to-day.

Total.....	62 students.

Through the liberality of Mrs. Powers, of Philadelphia, obtained by the kindly interest of Professor Crawford, St. George's Hall has been enlarged and improved.

The work on the water supply is also nearly completed. Each building is provided with water and other arrangements made for the comfort and health of the students.

It is earnestly hoped that some kind friend or friends will, either by the increase of our endowment fund or by special gift, enable us to heat the buildings by steam or otherwise.

The High School still enjoys its wonted prosperity. The contracts for the enlargement and improvements of the building have been made and the work begun.

The Trustees would also suggest that the Council, by resolution, recommend an annual collection in all the churches of the Diocese for the increase

REPORT OF THE PROFESSOR OF THE ENGLISH BIBLE.

To the Board of Trustees

of the Theological Seminary of Virginia:

The Professor of the English Bible reports that during the past session he has pursued his usual course of study with the Senior and Middle Classes.

He feels an increasing conviction of the importance of the study of the English Bible, and of the need of more time being allowed for it in the course.

He is thankful to state that he has not been interrupted in any of his duties by reason of ill-health.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

ABSTRACT OF ANNUAL REPORT TO TRUSTEES (1891).

*Rt. Rev. F. M. Whittle, D. D., LL. D.,
President of the Board of Trustees:*

RT. REV. AND DEAR SIR: As Principal of the Episcopal High School I have the honor to submit the following report:

The whole number of boys entered this session is ninety-seven, the maximum attendance having been ninety-one. * * *

It is my painful duty to make formal report of the death of my beloved friend and co-laborer, Colonel Llewellyn Hoxton, who expired here suddenly in his seat at the breakfast-table February 12th. For more than twenty years in fact—as, since 1886, in name also—Associate Principal and Mathematical master, he exemplified to a degree I have not known equal the highest qualities of the Christian teacher. As such, and as a man admirable in every relation of life, the loss to the School of his influen and example is irreparable. The serious embarrassment incident to such a gap in our teaching force, occurring in the middle of the session was, with slight delay, satisfactorily met. * * * In this difficult undertaking I acknowledge gratefully the help of my faithful assistants, Messrs. Kern, Pendleton and Wood, without whose valuable co-operation its successful accomplishment would have been impossible. I have been fortunate enough to secure as Colonel Hoxton's successor, Dr. Charles L. C. Minor, M. A., of Baltimore, a native of this State, and a gentleman pre-eminently qualified for the position.

In respect to the instruction afforded, the religious and other advantages offered, and good influences brought to bear, there is nothing to add to what has been so often before reported. The Friday night devotional meeting has remained under the efficient charge of Mr. William Cabell Brown, who, after ten years' connection more or less, intimate with the School, is about to take orders and go to the foreign missionary field. The Rev. Prof. Nelson, of the Theological Seminary, has continued his valued labors as chaplain to the boys, with repeated services in the School chapel, especially during Lent. To both my warmest thanks are due and are here recorded.

The health of the School has been singularly good, and the general conduct of the boys singularly satisfactory. Neither was ever better in my time here. The number of boys confirmed during the session was eleven, the present number of communicants being thirty-seven.

Respectfully yours,

L. M. BLACKFORD.

The order of the day—the report of the Committee on Division of the Diocese—was then taken up by the Council. The report was read as follows:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON DIVISION OF DIOCESE.

The Committee appointed at the last Council to consider the question of the division of the Diocese, raised by the recommendation of the Bishop in his address, to the effect that the time had arrived in his opinion for the consideration of said question, beg leave to offer the following report:

The interest in the question committed to them and the sense of the responsibility imposed upon them are manifested in the fact of the presence of every member of the committee, representing all parts of the Diocese.

The proposition for a division of the Diocese first presented for the consideration of the committee met with its approval. The proposition for the division of the Diocese into three Dioceses occupied the attention of the committee for several hours. The conclusion was reached that such a division at this time is unwise, inexpedient, and impracticable.

Resolution, &c.—Discussion of Resolution Postponed.

(1) The Committee, with unanimity, recommends a division of the Diocese into two Dioceses, with resources, communicants, and territory as near to equality as practicable, in consideration of present circumstances and in view of the future.

The above division would assign to the Diocese of Virginia 10,165 communicants, whose contribution to the Contingent Fund, by the report of the last Diocesan Council, amounted to $6,018, and to the proposed new Diocese 8,224 communicants, contributing to the Contingent Fund $5,000.

(3) It is recommended that all vested funds of the Diocese of Virginia be divided in the ratio of communicants between the two proposed Dioceses, so far as such division may be found to be practicable and free from legal difficulties. It is also recommended that the property in the Episcopal residence in the city of Richmond be vested in the proposed Diocese of Virginia.

(4) We further recommend that the Virginia Female Institute shall remain the property of and under the control and management of the two Dioceses on such terms and conditions as may hereafter be determined.

(Signed)

CHAS. M. BLACKFORD,
BEV. D. TUCKER.

Rev. Dr. Hanckel moved to adopt the first recommendation of the committee:

Resolved, That it is expedient to divide the Diocese.

Pending discussion of this resolution, the hour of two o'clock arrived and the Council took recess until 4 P. M.

THURSDAY, 4 P. M.

The Council re-assembled, and was called to order by the Bishop.

The pending order, being the discussion of the resolution on division, was postponed by general consent for fifteen minutes.

Report on the Woman's Auxiliary—Resolution, &c.

Rev. L. W. Burton presented a report on the Woman's Auxiliary, which was ordered to be entered upon the Journal.

REPORT OF THE WOMAN'S AUXILIARY.

Report of Contributions of the Virginia Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Board of Missions from May, 1890 to May, 1891 :

Total contributions in money and boxes, $4,331. Of this amount $660.50 were contributed for Diocesan Missions ; $414.40 for Domestic Missions outside of the Diocese, and $800 for Foreign Missions.

The value of the boxes was $1,672, almost all of which were sent to clergymen in our own diocese, while several were sent to Indian Missions in South Dakota and Minnesota, one to Brazil and one to Africa.

The Foreign Missions that received contributions from the Virginia Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary were Brazil, China, Japan, Mexico, Cuba and Jaffa.

This is the report of the work done for the past year by the Woman's Auxiliary in seventeen parishes, in many of which the Auxiliary has not been established longer than six months, and from some of the parishes where the Auxiliary is organized we failed to receive any report.

Taking all this into consideration, we feel cause to be much encouraged by the report of this our first year of united diocesan work, and feel that we may confidently look forward to the formation of many new parochial branches during the coming year, and to a large increase in the amount of contributions that we will have to report at our next annual meeting.

For the success of our Diocesan Branch, we feel that we are largely indebted to the kind endorsement and hearty approval of our beloved Bishop.

Respectfully submitted,

L. L. TAYLOR,

MAY, 1890.

Rev. Dr. Suter offered the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That it is recommended by this Council that an annual collection be taken up in each church in the Diocese for the increase of the Endowment Fund of the Theological Seminary, and that the Secretary of the Council be authorized to print the recommendation in the Journal among those objects already sanctioned.

Rev. Frank Stringfellow, from the Committee on the Disabled Clergy Fund, reported the accounts correct and sustained by proper vouchers.

Vote on Division of Diocese.

Rev. B. D. Tucker presented the report of the Committee on the Incorporation of Diocesan Trustees, and the report was made the order of the day after the question of division is disposed of.

The consideration of the resolution on division was resumed, and the resolution was adopted by the following vote:

They have also examined the report of the Executive Committee of this society, referred to them by the Council, and would recommend that the several convocations be urged by the Bishop, through their respective presidents, to supplement the work of the Evangelists in supplying, so far as practicable, the vacant churches of this Diocese with services and pastoral visitation. This method has been tested by the Piedmont Convocation during the past two years with marked and gratifying success.

Rev. L. W. Burton presented the report of the Committee on the State of the Church :

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE STATE OF THE CHURCH.

Your Committee joyfully heard the announcement in the address of our beloved Diocesan that his health has been in large measure restored. They feel sure that all who heard the record of arduous episcopal work, so faithfully performed during the past year by both the Bishop and the Assistant Bishop, must have thanked the Divine Head of the Church that he has blessed this Diocese with such oversight.

Your Committee have made the examination into the state of the Church with which they are charged. We find, indeed, no striking change in any direction ; but that condition is consistent with the fact that our Diocese is moving through the zenith of her prosperity.

The most startling difference between this year's summary by the Committee on Parochial Reports and last year's lies in the falling off in baptisms. According to these summaries, of white infants 309 less, and of white adults 182 less were baptized this year than last; 223 persons less have been confirmed. But judging from these same summaries, the communicants have increased from 16,155 whites and 831 colored, by 1,208 whites and 458 colored, to 17,363 whites and 1,289 colored—a total increase of 1,666 white and colored. There has been a falling off in Indian com-communicants from 49 to 45. The aggregate number of communicants thus reported to be now in the Diocese is 18,697. The Sunday-schools have also enjoyed an increase in number, both of teachers and scholars.

The Committee on Parochial Reports for 1890 called attention to an increase in total contributions over the preceding year of $70,035.27. This year the same committee report an increase of $31,734.71, the total amount being $309,368.62. The children of the Diocese are to be especially applauded for an increase of about $1,000 in the Lenten Offering for 1891; and by their gift of $4,305.97 the contributions of the Diocese to Diocesan Missions this year have attained the highest point ever yet reached—$13,884.

But your Committee are impressed with the fact that, after allowing for all regular losses, the whole number of communicants does not increase from year to year in proportion to the number annually confirmed. They account for it in two ways. There is reason to fear that there is often an entire neglect of special preparation, both privately and in confirmation classes; and that many candidates are presented who have by no means learned all those "things which a Christian" in the Protestant Episcopal Church "ought to know and believe to his soul's health." Then, again, it is too frequently forgotten that, when confirmed, these young communicants are still "babes in Christ," needing particular watchfulness and nourishing care. The second reason for a loss of communicants lies in their utter indifference to the rule about transfers when they remove from one part of the Diocese to another. Of course transfers cannot be forced upon persons removing; and often they ask that their names may be retained on the register of the church of their childhood. But a pastor can informally notify the rector into whose jurisdiction any of his people may move their residence; and this should be done as well when communicants move beyond the borders of our Diocese.

There seems to be a general healthy increase in church attendance; but it is in spite of the fact that very many do not come to church who should and who used to do so. And so widely is the persuasion spreading that attendance at one divine service a week is sufficient, that our night congregations are largely different in their personnel from those that assemble in the morning. The late hours of Saturday night into which business projects itself, and the fatiguing, harassing pressure of the whole week's affairs have made the weary and the heavy laden indeed welcome the rest of the Sabbath, but have utterly unfitted them to appreciate the Lord's day as one for devout worship.

The Sunday newspaper is a secularizing influence more potent than the thoughtless can even imagine. Published under the specious plea that it permits the few individuals connected with the paper to enjoy Sunday, it lets loose on that holy day upon the community, and impels with the most rapid power of steam throughout the country-side, a flood of exciting, engrossing worldliness. No one, more than do your Committee, can value the friendly interest and helpfulness of the press in all religious enterprises and Church institutions. And your Committee recognize that the Sunday paper furnished to satisfy a voracious public demand, as well as published because it is a profitable business undertaking. We, therefore, do not propose any attack upon publishers or appeals to editors. But we pray this Council, as "elders of Israel," and our Church people throughout the Diocese, as a large factor in public opinion, to build about their households a lyke which will guard them against the intrusion on the Lord's day of the news and gossip and often, alas! the scandal of the world. Your committee suggest as a simple compromise, which experiment has proved to be perfectly practicable and very efficacious, that each subscriber arrange to have the Sunday paper not arrive at his house until Monday morning. In the cities this arrangement can be privately made with the newspaper carrier without involving additional cost.

To make the Sunday services more bright and attractive is possible, without either transgression of the rubrics or a descent into sensationalism; and surely no effort deserves more thought and energy from the ministry than one looking to this end. It is believed that many strangers, now roaming from church to church, might be drawn to settle down in ours, if a leaflet containing the service for that day in consecutive shape were put into their hands by cordially polite ushers, and if the sermon, while true to the Divine commission we have received, were brief, simple, interesting, helpful, pointed, and not delivered by a preacher fagged out by a Sunday of too many ministrations. A member of your Committee has largely increased the number of children at church by securing from each Sunday-school class, upon an appropriate blank, a weekly report of attendance on the services of the preceding Sunday.

Your Committee sadly recognize that the sixty-three vacant churches of the Diocese are a prominent feature in the state of the Church. But they think it a depressing mistake to suppose that this condition of things is peculiar to Virginia; and they find compensating encouragement in the healthy growth of Church work, both in the newly-developed parts of the State and in the cities. Nevertheless, the vacant churches present a pressing problem. Your Committee does not think that its solution can be easily found in legislation. The practical factors in the solution of this problem are to be found in a steady increase in contributions to Diocesan Missions, and in the disposition of our clergy and congregations to embrace within their fostering care the vacant Parishes which may lie adjacent or in the immediate neighborhood.

Yet it is not so much money as it is men that are wanted. Here again the lack is far from being peculiar to Virginia. Indeed, the reputation of our Seminary as a seat of sound, thorough theological learning, and, now more than ever before, as a centre of positive spiritual influence, and the well-known character of our clergy as intelligent, conservative, pious and godly, consecrated to Christ both as industrious pastors and practical preachers, make Virginia a source of supply to other dioceses. Still, it should be a subject of earnest inquiry, among the city clergy especially, why from their congregations so few men are offering themselves for the ministry.

In this connection we note with pleasure the increase of intelligent, organized and energetic work among young men, as largely calculated to inspire some of them to devote their whole being to the blessed mission of spreading Christ's Gospel.

Germane to this subject is that of the Sunday-school. Social reformers and philanthropists have been forced by long and painful experience to a conclusion which the Church has always been taught by the Word of God. The Church's system could not be more perfectly adapted in theory to this truth. But has there not been a general failure on our part to rise to the practical recognition of the great fact, that the prosperity of the Church and the existence of the Nation depend upon the bias toward religion thorough instruction in its principles and practice in its rules which are given the young? Now, wherein our special diocesan deficiency in Sunday-school work has lain has been in acquaintance with the best modern method and means. Looking to improvement in this direction, we welcome the Sunday-school Institute as a practical source of information and instrument of training. Improved methods of instruction by no means necessarily involve novelty in the facts and truths taught. But there is danger that they may accompany each other. Your Committee cannot too strongly urge the moral and canonical responsibility of the Rector for the character of the teaching given the children under his charge. The clergy need help. The Sunday-school workers in vacant churches need still more to have advice as to the best systems of Sunday-school instruction. Calling attention to the recommendation in the Bishop's Address concerning Sunday-school libraries, your Committee would also respectfully urge that the Council by the proper committee push its investigation further into the subject of Sunday-school instruction in its two branches of Bible and Church teaching.

While your Committee thus feel that our Diocese should learn about the Sunday-school all that experts in that line from any quarter can teach us we also hail with pleasure the fact that Virginia has finally, under the able and loyal generalship of her Bishops, wheeled into line with the rest of the Church in the organization of a diocesan and of parochial branches of the Woman's Auxiliary. There is danger lest, in our utter lack of sympathy with uncongenial views and customs that largely prevail beyond our bounds, we should lose our proper interest and fail to do our part in much of the work and in many of the institutions of the general Church. In a policy of isolation is little increase in either knowledge or zeal; and thereby also is wasted that powerful influence which God expects such a Diocese as ours to wield for his truth and glory. Your Committee would earnestly emphasize the recommendation of the Bishop, that not only a branch of the Woman's Auxiliary be established in every Parish, but also that in every town where there are two or more churches there be between them some union for missionary study, contributions and work, analogous to that exemplified in the Richmond Protestant Episcopal Missionary Society. Not the least among the valuable results of such a combination would be the counteraction of that individualism and congregationalism which are peculiar evil tendencies of our day.

In conclusion, your Committee would take advantage of the Council's opportunely meeting in Whitsuntide, to suggest that we cannot be faithful in our allegiance to Christ crucified, unless, like him and his apostles, we make much of the Holy Spirit of all truth and grace. Let our effort be more and more to present that Blessed Person as the one by whom all the great fundamental saving doctrines of the Gospel are to be applied to the individual, and in the heart and life of the several members of Christ's Church to be transmuted into practical uprightness and holiness.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Resolved, That so much of the report on the State of the Church as applies to the vacant Parishes be referred to a special committee of five, who shall take the whole matter into consideration and devise a scheme which shall meet the needs of said Parishes, and report to the next Council.

Rev. E. L. Goodwin moved that the report of the Committee on the State of the Church be read to the congregations of the Diocese. adopted.

Report of the Committee on New Parishes.

Rev. R. A. Goodwin presented the report of the Committee on New Parishes:

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON NEW PARISHES.

The Committee on New Parishes would respectfully report that two applications have been referred to them, to-wit; one for the erection of a new Parish from a part of Montgomery Parish, Montgomery county, and a part of Pulaski county; and one from St. Andrew's Mission Church, Henrico Parish, to become a separate congregation, with the right of representation in the Council of the Diocese.

As to the first-named application, we believe that all the requirements of the Canon "Of the Division of Parishes" have been complied with, so far as possible. The provisions have certainly been carried out so far as that part of the proposed new Parish now embraced in Montgomery Parish, Montgomery county, is concerned. As to the part of the proposed new Parish which is embraced in Pulaski county, we are of the opinion that it is impossible to comply with that provision of the above-named Canon, which requires notice to be given to the Vestry, for the reason that the territory referred to is not embraced in any organized Parish, and has not been, so far as we can find, since the re-organization of the Diocese of Virginia in 1785 A. D.

We are of opinion that the interests of the Church in Montgomery Parish demand a division of said Parish. We unanimously recommend that this Council constitute that part of Montgomery Parish and that part of Pulaski county embraced within the lines hereinafter named a new Parish, to be known as Radford Parish.

Metes and bounds of Radford Parish: Beginning at Morgan's Cut on the Norfolk and Western Railroad in Pulaski county; thence due north to the Giles county line; thence with said county line to New River; thence up New River to the mouth of Wall's Creek; thence in a straight line to Chisman's Mill on the Norfolk and Western Railroad in Montgomery county; thence to Bean's Shop on the old Christiansburg turnpike; thence to a point on Little River opposite the village of Snowville; thence down Little River to New River; thence up New River to a point due south from Morgan's Cut; thence due north to the beginning.

As to the petition of St. Andrew's Mission Church, Henrico Parish, to become a separate congregation, with the right of representation in the Council of the Diocese, we are constrained reluctantly to recommend that it be not granted, as, in our opinion, the conditions of the Canons governing such cases have not been complied with.

Respectfully submitted,

R. A. GOODWIN,
For the Committee.

The report was received and its recommendations adopted.

Proposed Amendment to Canon XI—Memorial.

Mr. Joseph Bryan presented the report of the Special Committee on the Brotherhood, which was received and made the order of the day after existing orders were disposed of.

Mr. Joseph Bryan presented the report from the Committee on Canon XIX.

The report was received and ordered to be taken up after existing orders have been disposed of.

Rev. Dr. Powers gave notice of the following proposed amendment to Canon XI, to be considered to-morrow :

When any number of persons belonging to any congregation, sufficient to organize a new congregation, shall choose to separate from the congregation of which they have hitherto been a part, they shall proceed according to the directions given in Canon X, except that in this case the directions as to a line or lines of division are inapplicable. They shall also, in their petition to the Council, show their ability and declare their intention to provide a house of worship and to furnish a reasonable support to a minister ; and the Council may, on such petition, constitute the applicants a separate congregation, and authorize, by special enactment, such peculiar provisions as to the right of suffrage, the employment of a minister or ministers, and the manner of holding and managing the property of such congregation, as they may propose and the Council deem expedient: Provided, that the time of electing and the manner of qualifying vestrymen shall always be conformed to the regulations prescribed in Canon VIII: Provided, also, that no such independent congregation shall be established within the bounds of any Parish without the consent of the Ecclesiastical authority of the Diocese.

PIKE POWERS, Chairman.

The Council resumed the consideration of the division of the Diocese.

Mr. R. E. Withers presented the following memorial, which, upon motion of Mr. J. T. Harris, was received and laid upon the table :

and erected into a separate and independent Diocese, on the terms after stated, the following counties—to wit.: Highland, Augusta, Amherst, Campbell, Pittsylvania, Henry, Franklin, Bedford, Rockingham, Bath, Alleghany, Botetourt, Craig, Roanoke, Floyd, Patrick, Carroll, Montgomery, Giles, Bland, Pulaski, Wythe, Grayson, Smyth, Tazewell, Buchanan, Dickenson, Washington, Russell, Wise, Scott, and Lee. The Diocese of Virginia will aid the new Diocese, so to be set apart and in bearing the annual expense of such new Diocese, by paying to the new Diocese the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000) annually for a period of five years, or by paying over to the new Diocese one-half of the present Episcopal Fund," as may be deemed most expedient; that proper representation be granted such new Diocese in the present Diocesan Institution; that such proportion of the invested funds of the present Diocese (Episcopal Fund) be set apart to the new Diocese as the number of communicants of the new Diocese bears to the whole number of communicants reported to the present Council.

In the territory thus proposed to be set apart there are thirty-two parishes, twenty-four clergymen, ten self-supporting Parishes, and three hundred and seventy-three communicants. In the Courthouse, 1889-'90 we received from the Diocesan Missionary Society $1,000, paid into the Diocesan Missionary Society $2,293, and aided it through the Southwest Convocation by the payment of $500.

We feel assured that we can raise for Diocesan support now and also furnish a suitable house and lot for the residence of the Bishop with the $1,000 per annum asked of the Council, we believe to be adequate Episcopal support. We believe that at the end of five years we will be fully self-supporting.

Respectfully,

(Signed)

Resolutions, &c.—Recommendation of Committee on Line of Division.

Rev. Dr. Hanckel, for the Committee, presented as its second recommendation the following :

Resolved, That for the present it is inexpedient to divide the Diocese of Virginia into more than two Dioceses.

Rev. W. T. Roberts moved as a substitute the following :

Resolved, That it is expedient to divide the Diocese into three Dioceses.

The substitute was lost.

The original resolution of the Committee was adopted.

RECOMMENDATION OF COMMITTEE ON LINE OF DIVISION.

Rev. D. Hanckel presented as the third recommendation of the Committee the following :

Resolved, That in forming a new Diocese within the limits of the existing Diocese, the line of Division be as follows: Starting at the Potomac River at and with the boundary of Stafford and King George counties, follow that line along the boundaries of the following named counties: Spotsylvania and Caroline, Louisa and Hanover to Goochland county; then the boundary between Goochland and Louisa, Goochland and Fluvanna, and Goochland and Cumberland; then the boundary between Cumberland and Powhatan, and Cumberland and Amelia; then between Prince Edward and Amelia, Prince Edward and Nottoway, and Prince Edward and Lunenburg; then between Charlotte and Lunenburg, Charlotte and Mecklenburg; then between Halifax and Mecklenburg to the North Carolina line; and that all of the existing Diocese of Virginia west of said line be the new Diocese, and all east of said line remain the Diocese of Virginia.

On motion it was

Resolved, That when the Council adjourn at two o'clock it adjourn to meet at 4 P. M.

Rev. J. B. Newton offered as an amendment the recommendation that the division be made by the line of James river :

Resolved, That the present Diocese of Virginia be divided by a line beginning at a point midway between Capes Henry and Charles and extending west through Hampton Roads and up James River to the point at which James River ceases to be a county line—i. e., where it crosses the Rock-bridge county line; thence by the southwest lines of the counties of Rock-bridge and Alleghany counties to the West Virginia line.

Evening Session—Resolution, &c.

The amendment was laid upon the table temporarily.

Mr. R. E. Withers moved to strike out from the Committee's resolution the names of the counties proposed to be erected into a new Diocese, and to substitute therefor the names of counties enumerated in the memorial presented by him.

Pending discussion, the hour of two o'clock arrived and the Council took recess until 4 P. M.

FRIDAY, 4 P. M.

The Council re-assembled, and resumed consideration of the subject of division, the Assistant Bishop in the chair.

Mr. R. E. Withers withdrew his amendment for the present.

Rev. Dr. Sprigg moved as a substitute for the Committee's proposal that there be retained within the old Diocese the counties of Stafford, Prince William, Fairfax, and Alexandria.

Mr. J. M. Garnett gave notice that when it should be in order under the rules he would propose:

"That the portion of Virginia lying south of James river and east of the Blue Ridge, together with the counties of Accomac and Northampton, be set apart as a new Diocese."

Rev. Dr. Sprigg offered the following:

Resolved, That the several propositions from members of the Council having reference to a division of this Diocese, together with the report of the Committee and the petition from Southwest Virginia, be referred to a committee of seven clergymen and six laymen, with instructions to consider and report to the next Council.

The resolution was laid on the table.

The hour of six o'clock having arrived, it was moved that Council adjourn until eight o'clock. It was moved in amendment that the Council adjourn until Saturday morning after divine service. The amendment was carried, and the Council then adjourned Saturday morning.

Report of Committee on the Brotherhood.

SATURDAY, May 23, 1891.

The Council assembled for divine service. Morning prayer was read by the Rev. John K. Mason. The sermon was preached by the Rev. James Grammer, D. D., from the 17th verse of the 14th chapter of St. John.

After divine service the Council assembled for business, and was called to order by the Bishop.

The minutes of yesterday's session were read and approved.

Mr. W. W. Old presented the following report on the Brotherhood:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON THE BROTHERHOOD.

The Committee on the Brotherhood beg leave to submit the following report:

During the past year two members, the Rev. P. Slaughter, D. D., and the Rev. E. Boyden have passed away. The collections in behalf of their heirs, which are as yet insignificant in amount, denote little change in the membership, while they point distinctly to the necessity for improvement in the methods hitherto pursued.

The report of Cyrus Bossieux, Esq., Treasurer, filed herewith, and certified by the proper committee as correct and sustained by proper vouchers, exhibits a cash balance in his hands of $616.60, besides two six per cent. bonds of $1,000 each.

Major David N. Walker, for so many years president, finding himself unable to give to the office the time and attention it should have, tenders his resignation.

The Trustees as individuals having examined the report of the Committee (of which Colonel J. H. Skinner is chairman), in relation to improvement in the Organization of the Brotherhood, have signified their approval of the same, and recommend its adoption. In this recommendation this Committee unanimously coincide.

Respectfully submitted.

L. M. BLACKFORD,
WILLIAM W. OLD,
JOSEPH WILMER.

(The names of Messrs. Old and Wilmer are appended by the Chairman at their request.)

Report of the Treasurer of the Brotherhood.

Richmond, May 18, 1891.

The Trustees of the Brotherhood herewith present their Twenty-first Annual Report:

During the year ending May 1 there have been two deaths reported—Rev. P. Slaughter, Rev. E. Boyden—and collections are now being made. These collections indicate but very little change of membership from former years. Recently the Trustees, as individuals, have examined and approved a plan proposed by Colonel Skinner, of Staunton, for the improvement of the Brotherhood. As he will present it, we do not give the details here, but commend it to the consideration of the members.

The Treasurer's report, submitted with this, shows a balance of $616.60 in cash, and two thousand City of Manchester bonds.

The President, finding that he cannot give the Brotherhood the time and attention it should have, hereby tenders his resignation.

D. N. WALKER, President,
For the Trustees.

This report was approved by P. H. Mayo, Secretary, and Cyrus Bossieux, Treasurer.

CYRUS BOSSIEUX, Treasnrer,

Rev. W. Q. Hullihen presented the report of the Committee on Sunday-schools :

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON SUNDAY-SCHOOLS.

The Committee on Sunday-schools, for various reasons, have not been able to have a full conference of its members, chiefly on account of the interesting and absorbing topics engaging the attention of the Council. But happily the Committee on the State of the Church, among the many interesting subjects which appropriately have engaged their attention, has spoken also upon this, and has rendered, perhaps, any further allusion to it unnecessary at this time.

It is not suggestions, however attractive, as to the best methods of carrying on the Sunday-school work that is so much needed as faithful carrying on of those that have been already well approved. An intelligent appreciation of the genius of our religion and steady and persistent cultivation of those agencies which this Church of ours has placed within our reach would secure most blessed results.

Your Committee are of the opinion that if our teachers could be, from time to time, gathered together and hold, as has been recommended, a teachers' institute, only good could result, in quickening the zeal of individuals and of digesting methods and plans of carrying on the Sunday-school work.

Report of the Committee on Sunday-schools.

Whatever may be the imperfections and inefficiency of the Sunday-school as at present constituted, it is our wisdom to recognize the fact that it is filling or attempting to fill a place in the machinery of the churches which is not otherwise filled, and it is, therefore, our wisdom under the guiding spirit of our Church to endeavor to bring out all the possibilities for good there may if God's providence be in it. In using an agency which is so universal among the churches as the Sunday-school, there are great temptations constantly recurring, against which we must be on our guard, e. g., of using meaningless hymns because of a captivating tune, and following sensational and questionable methods, no matter how extensively recommended in their use among other excellent Christian people.

We must not forget that as ministers and as teachers from among the ranks of the laity Christ lays upon us a solemn responsibility as shepherds and under shepherds to feed the lambs of the flock of God that is amongst us; shepherding this little flock, and leading them along those paths which they are to follow in after years. It is the conviction of your Committee that nothing will be gained by a colorless Christianity, and while all must avoid the gross error of putting the Church before Christ, we must not, on the other hand, fail to avail ourselves of our rich heritage in preaching Christ thereby to them, and little by little explaining that more excellent way whereby they may, in accordance with the apostolic precept, build themselves up in their most holy faith.

Your Committee feel most strongly the importance of calling upon every Church and teacher, the paramount duty of studying well the question how to prevent the Sunday-school from becoming a mere substitute for the Church.

And just as the ordinary lesson leaflets are objectionable because the scholar is not taught acquaintance with the Bible as a book as a whole, so our scholars are in danger of being unfamiliar with the use of the Prayer Book, and almost as ignorant of its devotional treasures as children of other denominations.

Your Committee hail with delight the phenomenal growth of and widespread interest in the organization of St. Andrew's Brotherhood, because for other manifest reasons it husbands strength as a Church, and unites together by the strongest bonds of affinity its male members. And we cannot but hope that there may be thereby cultivated devoted attachment and loyalty to the Protestant Episcopal Church, and from its ranks may come forth well instructed and well equipped men, to teach in our Sunday-school and while we may thus look for competent teachers, well instructed in the principles and modes of thought and methods of work current in the Church the fact must not be overlooked that we have already among the large number of highly cultivated professional men in the communion of the Church—lawyers and doctors, perhaps—an adequate supply of teachers, if they would only be constrained by the love of Christ to throw the weight of their influence in behalf of His cause, who when on earth took little children in

Annual Report of the Virginia Female Institute.

The Committee on Investments report that during the past year $5,000 of the second mortgage bonds of the Georgia Pacific Railroad Company were purchased for the sum of $3,950, and are now held by your Treasurer.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS POTTS,
Chairman Finance Committee.

The report was received, and its recommendations adopted.

Rev. J. B. Newton offered the following, which was carried unanimously :

Resolved, That the thanks of this Council be tendered to the Petersburg Musical Association for the excellent concert to which members of the Council listened last night.

The Bishop presented the report of the Virginia Female Institute which was ordered to be printed in the Journal :

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE VIRGINIA FEMALE INSTITUTE.

To the Board of Trustees :

I have the honor to make my annual report of the condition of Virginia Female Institute.

A much larger number of pupils has been in attendance this session than ever before during my administration. Ninety names have been enrolled as boarders and thirty-three day pupils. Among the boarders are the names of seven whose fathers are clergymen in our Church, and enjoying the benefit of free tuition in all English branches, two of them having no expense for board or tuition. In addition, it has been my pleasure to assist six others by giving them their tuition in English studies without charge.

As a whole our work has not been quite so satisfactory as in former years, owing, no doubt, to the fact that a large majority were pupils entered in September, and, being younger in years, have lacked that interest in work that our older pupils always possess. There have been a few, too, who resisted authority and discipline, however reasonable, and some trouble existed on that account ; the moral status of the school, however, is high and no finer, nobler pupils can be found in any school than we have had under our care this year. Five were presented to the Bishop for confirmation, and two were confirmed at their own homes during the Easter visitation.

The buildings continue to be kept in excellent repair, every attention being paid to the care of the property at all times. We have felt for some time past the great need of a new hall, as an addition to our present building and with the increase in our numbers it has been more apparent—not havi been able to accommodate quite a number who offered themselves as pupils. An appeal was made to the Board of Directors during the winter, with the hope they would be sufficiently interested to take some active and positive steps towards this much needed addition, but nothing has been done. We can do without it, it is true, but it would add immensely to the comfort and convenience of all connected with the school, and place this, our only Diocesan school for girls, on a footing with those of other denominations throughout our State and country. We should, I think, feel some pride in Church institutions, and not fall behind the demands of the times, which are being met by other schools growing up around us.

We are approaching the semi-centennial of the school, and this would be a suitable way of commemorating it, and thus add honor to its noble work carried on since its establishment in 1844.

I appeal to the Council to consider the subject, and ask for material aid at the same time, not as a personal matter, but for the good of our Church at large.

Desiring your interest and your prayers for the continuance of God's blessing upon us, I am,

Very respectfully,

MRS. J. E. B. STUART.

The Council then resumed the consideration of the subject of the division of the Diocese.

Rev. B. M. Randolph moved that the various propositions be referred to a committee, and postponed to the next Council.

The motion was laid on the table by a vote of seventy-five to forty-six.

At this stage of the proceedings the Bishop gave his views upon the subject before the Council, especially in connection with the petition from Southwest Virginia, to which division he could not, for urgent objections, give his "consent" as required by the Constitution of the general Church.

Rev. M. P. Logan offered the following :

Resolved, That this whole subject of division be laid on the table until the next Council.

The resolution was ruled out of order.

Resolution, &c.—Vote upon Division by the Line of James River.

Rev. Dr. Hanckel offered the following :

Resolved, That the propositions for division be taken up seriatim, that five minutes be allowed for the promoter of each proposition, and that at 1:30 P. M. a vote be taken on the proposal of the Committee on Division.

Mr. J. T. Harris, Jr., called for the previous question on Rev. Dr. Hanckel's resolution. The call for the previous question was sustained, and the resolution of Rev. Dr. Hanckel was adopted by a vote of seventy to thirty-six.

The vote was then taken upon the amendment proposed by the Rev. Dr. Sprigg, and it was lost.

The vote was then taken upon Rev. J. B. Newton's proposal to divide the Diocese by the line of James river, and it was lost by the following vote :

Report of Committee on Incorporation of Board of Trustees to Hold Invested Funds.

After discussion Rev. E. B. Jones moved to postpone until next Council, and continue the committee.

Rev. B. D. Tucker moved in amendment that a new committee be appointed to whom the proposed Canon should be referred.

Mr. Frank Nelson moved as a substitute that the report be received and its further consideration postponed to the next Council.

The substitute of Mr. Nelson was adopted.

Mr. W. W. Old presented the following, which was adopted :

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON INCORPORATION OF BOARD OF TRUSTEES TO HOLD INVESTED FUNDS.

The committee to whom was referred the report of the committee appointed "to consider the expediency of appointing one or more Board of trustees, to be legally incorporated, for the purpose of holding, subject to the direction and control of the Diocesan Council, all invested funds now existing, or hereafter to be accumulated, for the benefit of the various church charities of the Diocese," having carefully considered the matter entrusted to them, beg leave respectfully to report the following form of a charter :

Report of Committee on Affairs and Organization of the Brotherhood.

r. Joseph Bryan called up the report on the Brotherhood, and recommendations attached to that report were adopted :

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON AFFAIRS AND ORGANIZATION OF THE BROTHERHOOD.

The committee to which, by a resolution of the last Council was referred "affairs and organization of the Brotherhood" that they might report "the plan by which its beneficent ends may be more surely and largely secured," return herewith the draft of a Constitution and By-Laws, of which we recommend the adoption.

The changes which they propose in the present system, and the additions which they suggest, are as follows :

They recommend that hereafter the contributing membership be confined to laymen, as the benefits which the Brotherhood proposes to confer are a will offering from the laity, to such families of deceased clergymen as may be in need of assistance.

They recommend that its Board of Management—which shall consist of laymen resident in or near Richmond city—shall, upon the death of any layman canonically connected with the Diocese, determine, by and with the advice of the Bishop, the Assistant Bishop, and the Secretary of the Diocesan Missionary Society, whether the family of said clergyman are in need of assistance, in which event it shall be freely and lovingly bestowed from the contributions of the laity.

To increase these contributions, which at present are very small, they propose the establishment of three classes of members, who shall contribute annually $10, or $5, or $3 to the funds of the Brotherhood, according to the class to which each may agree to belong; and they retain as a fourth class those who shall agree, as at present, to contribute $1.10 on the death of any layman for whose family the Board may order a collection to be made. The sums annually collected are to be distributed as equitably as possible among the families that are assisted, and where the recipients' need of assistance does not seem to the Board to require an absolute gift of the sum collected, it shall be bestowed on such terms of use as to the Board may seem proper, and afterwards revert to the Brotherhood. It is hoped that the addition of these three classes of annual contributors will add largely to the resources of the Brotherhood and to its benefits, since they will invite the wealthier of our laity to assist more freely, and more in proportion to their means, the families of such of our deceased clergy as may need the help of their Christian brethren.

They also propose the establishment, in every congregation where practicable, of a Ladies' Auxiliary to the Brotherhood, which shall, whenever an offering is called for in aid of a family, collect for its benefit such sums as may be contributed from those of the congregation who are not members of the Brotherhood.

Resolution, &c.

They recommend that should the Constitution and By-Laws which they propose be adopted, there be refunded to such persons as have heretofore become, or been made life members, should they so desire, the sum of $100 which was paid to secure such life membership.

In conclusion, they earnestly invite their brethren of the laity to contribute with unstinted hand to the support of this beneficent association. A petition has lately been added to the suffrages of our devout litany that God would send forth laborers into His harvest; and surely it becomes us to manifest our sincerity in its utterance by giving encouragement, comfort and aid in every needful form to those who engage in the service of His ministry.

It must excite regret, if not self-reproach, when we consider the smallness of the average pecuniary stipend which the faithful and humble men of God, who labor in our country Parishes receive. It is not so much as $600 per annum—a sum so small as to make any provision for the future of their families quite impossible. We expect them to be “instant in season and out of season” in their labors of love and mercy; we look for them to “endure hardness as good soldiers of Jesus Christ”; we would not have them “entangle themselves” with worldly pursuits, nor engage in the quest of earthly riches and honors; and, therefore, it is plainly our duty, when they have fought their good fight and have finished their earthly course, to come promptly and liberally to the assistance of such of their families as need our helping hand; and this should be esteemed our great privilege as well, for the Master’s promised recognition of every kindness shown and deed of mercy done to even the least of His brethren, as done to Him, must peculiarly attach to every office of helpful love rendered to the bereaved of these His followers whose lives have been consecrated to His service.

Rev. R. T. Davis, D. D., presented the following, which was adopted by a rising vote:

Whereas this Council has learned with regret of the death of our Historiographer, the venerable and Reverend Philip Slaughter, D. D., which took place on the 12th day of June, 1890, and feels that it owes a tribute to his memory; therefore,

Resolved, That we record our testimony to the eminent usefulness of our beloved brother as the eloquent preacher and missionary of years gone by as an able editor of our Diocesan paper, and as a historiographer who, to his learning and research, and singularly graceful pen, has contributed more than almost any other to elucidate the history of our Diocese, and especially to vindicate the religious character of the Father of his country.

The consideration of the report upon Canon XI was postponed to next Council.

The Council then united in singing the 315th hymn :

“Blest is the tie that binds.”

Prayer was offered by the Assistant Bishop, and the Council adjourned sine die.

T. G. DASHIELL, Secretary.

THOMAS SPENCER, Assistant Secretary.

EVERARD MEADE, Evangelist.

MAY 15, 1891.

My Dear Bishop:

I submit the following report of my work since November 1, 1891. My district comprises the forty counties in the western portion of the State, containing the Convocations known as Danville, Central and South-west. Since my appointment as Evangelist I have traveled five thousand miles in the discharge of my duties. The expenses for the six months have been $99.70 (ninety-nine dollars and seventy cents); collections $210.01 (two hundred and ten dollars and one cent). I have up to this date preached one hundred and twenty times, administered communion twelve times and baptized four.

One pleasing and encouraging feature of the evangelistic work in my large territory is the apparent assistance the general agent of the Church has been able to render directly and indirectly in keeping to secure rectors for new or vacant parishes, and assistants to disabled clergymen.

Miscellaneous.

Under our Evangelists' guidance there has been raised for the support of ministers from $1,500 to $2,000, and his visits have rather multiplied than hindered the calling of a permanent rector.

As far as I can see, counting the men who have within the last six months moved in my district, and the ones likely to come soon, there will be a gain to the list of clergy for that territory of not less than seven or eight.

No where has our beloved Church a brighter future, and no where is there a more cordial reception for the Evangelists who go forth to prepare the way for the permanent minister.

Affectionately yours,

JAMES B. FUNSTEN, Evangelist.

Right Rev. FRANCIS M. WHITTLE, D. D.

PETERSBURG, VA., June 15, 1891.

Right Rev. F. M. WHITTLE, D. D.,

President of the Board of Trustees of the Bishop Payne Divinity and Industrial School:

I respectfully report that fourteen students have received instruction in the Divinity School this session. One of these is a deacon of our Church, and two are Methodist ministers.

No one will apply for ordination this year, but four of the present students hope to enter the ministry at the close of next session.

The men in this department have studied earnestly. All of them have improved, and some have done very well. Most of them are proficient in English Grammar, Composition and Spelling. The teachers are making constant, though not always encouraging, efforts to remedy this deficiency.

Sixty scholars have attended the Normal School during the session; one of these, not included among the Divinity students, expects to enter the ministry, and gives promise of usefulness. All of the Divinity students have attended classes in the Normal School.

There will probably be three graduates from this school to-morrow.

The teacher in the Sewing School reports good progress on the part of her pupils.

 Miscellaneous.

The students have done the work assigned them in the garden and yards.

The matron and teachers have been faithful and conscientious, so far as can be seen, in the discharge of their duties.

There have been twenty-two boarders in the two schools.

I have endeavored to give instruction to the classes in the Divinity School in Bible History, Church History, Apologetics and Homiletics; in the Normal School to the senior class in the Prayer-Book, Church History, Social Science and Logic.

Respectfully submitted,

R. A. GOODWIN.

PETERSBURG, VA., June 15, 1891.

The Right Rev. F. M. WHITTLE, D. D.,

President Board of Trustees of the

Bishop Payne Divinity and Industrial School:

I respectfully report that during the past session I have taught classes in the Divinity School daily in the following studies:

Theology—Elementary Class—keeping close to the text of the Catechism and Articles.

Bible Introduction—two grades; one using Barrows' Companion to the Bible as a text-book, the other using Angus' Bible Handbook.

Greek—Two grades in first term. At end of first term the lower grade was discontinued, having made unsatisfactory progress. The other grade, with two students, will be ready to go into Xenophon and the New Testament shortly after the beginning of next session.

Latin—Two grades. Upper grade, with one student, now making good progress in Cæsar. Half of lower class doing fairly in Grammar.

For both Divinity and Normal Schools I have taught as follows:

Mental Science (Hopkins' Outline Study of Man) in first term.

Moral Science (Hopkins' Law of Love) in second term.

English Grammar and Composition throughout the session.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS SPENCER.

PORTO ALEGRE, BRAZIL, March 17, 1891.

Right Rev. F. M. WHITTLE, D. D., LL. D.,

Bishop of the Diocese of Virginia :

As presbyters of the Diocese of Virginia, under appointment by the American Church Missionary Society to found a mission in Brazil, we respectfully submit the following report :

Sailing from Newport's News August 31, 1889, we reached Sao Paulo October 1st, whence, after three week's stay, we proceeded to the village of Cruzeiro, where we were engaged in the study of Portuguese until April 5, 1890.

April 21, 1890, we arrived in Porto Alegre, accompanied by Senhor Ventura Souza e Oliveira and family. Our first public service was held in this city on the afternoon of June 8, 1890. A second service for the evening was begun in another locality the night of August 24, 1890. Both these services have continued without interruption each Sunday, with at all times encouraging and not unfrequently crowded attendance.

In addition, we held services for some months at two other points within the city, Sunday forenoon and night, and a cottage service on day night. This last continues to the present time.

In October we took charge of a school which had been under the care of Senhor Vicente Brande, giving daily instruction to the pupils, by enlisting the former master as co-worker and catechist. This school has been thoroughly reorganized, and now numbers seventy children, who receive religious instruction one day each week, while the daily round is begun with an informal service.

The two catechists have been instructed by us during the past year in English, preparatory to theological studies. This seems imperative, as there are no commentaries nor aids to Bible study in the Portuguese language. During the hot season, from December to April, it was found impossible to continue this instruction. It will shortly be resumed, and daily instruction in English with readings from the Bible will be given them by Mr. Kinsolving, while Mr. Morris will assist with them the Creed and the Articles in their own tongue.

A Sunday-school was established December 28, 1890, and at 9 A. M. each Sunday continues its hopeful work among some sixty or

~~WYOMING~~ ~~SCHOOL~~

STAUNTON, VIRGINIA.

Gen. J. E. B. STUART, - - - Principal.

Miss M. P. DUVAL, Vice Principal.

This School affords unlimited advantages, having a limited number of pupils and a large and accomplished Faculty.

The buildings are well arranged, and the rooms well ventilated and richly furnished are heated by steam, and lighted by gas. The facilities are less than those made by City Schools, while the advantages are equal to the best.

Accomplishments extra.

The location of Staunton is a great inducement, being in the Valley of Virginia. It is accessible from all points by rail, and has telegraphic com-

H., $250; Pittsylvania county—North Danville $150, Camden Parish $100—total $250; Princess Anne county—Lynnhaven Parish, $200; Prince Edward county—Wilmer Parish, $200; Prince William county—Haymarket Parish and others, $300; Pulaski county—Pulaski Parish, $150; Rockbridge county—Latimer Parish, $150; Rappahannock county, $200; Shenandoah county—Beckford Parish, $250; Stafford county—Overwharten Parish, $250; Southampton county—Nottoway Parish, $300; Spotsylvania county—St. George's Chapel, $50; Tazewell county, $200; Warwick county—Warwick Parish, $200; Westmoreland county—Cople Parish $200, Washington Parish $200, Montross $75, and St. Paul's Church $75—total $550; Wise county, $200; York county, $100. Of these, the church in Pulaski City and Christ Church, Richmond, each resigned $50 of their respective stipends. Two were reduced by the committee $5 each, and one $25 in November, 1891. The total amount of the above-state stipends is $9,230, from which some abatement is to be made, because some of the stipends began and some ceased in the course of the year. But this abatement is largely overbalanced by the stipends paid to the colored deacons, which are not here included. We think we may safely add to the above $1,000 as the excess of the colored stipends over all reductions; the adding $3,000, the salaries of two evangelists paid by the committee, and we have a total of $13,230, not including specials to clergymen in need and other expenses incident to the work. So that as we began the Council year with $6,000, and had received up to 1st April, 1892, less than $5,000 making a total of less than $11,000, it can readily be seen that our treasury would then be exhausted, so that we felt compelled to make an appeal to the churches, and to appoint a committee to borrow money, if necessary to meet our engagements. Indeed, the Treasurer reports that on 1st April he was short over $2,000; while, therefore, by the blessing of God and by the liberality of the people and of the children, the treasury has been replenished, the sum total up to the meeting of Council being $13,875.25, which the children probably gave one-fourth, yet after making up all deficiencies and meeting all obligations the balance is $5,767.34—$300 less than last year. It is a trial to the committee, and, we should think, to the Diocese, with forty or fifty men looking to us for help, to be left with an empty treasury almost every year before Lent, and to have to rely upon the extraordinary efforts of that season to replenish it. Regular and frequent giving is the rule of the New Testament, of almost all churches for self-support, and, we believe, of all Mutual Aid Societies, and, we think, should be the rule of all giving to the cause of Christ at home and abroad. Why cannot some zealous lay-man or lay-woman in every country church, and especially in every long vacant church, take down the names of all who are willing to give to Diocesan Missions, with the amounts they are willing to give monthly or quarterly, and then, by themselves or with the help of others, collect the same and remit to the Treasurer of the Diocesan Missionary Societies as soon as possible. Surely this or some other plan ought to be adopted to make our revenue more regular and to keep us from running aground almost every year. In this connection the Executive Committee begs the members of the Council to bear in mind that the balance reported as now in the treasury is already appropriated, and will be necessary to meet the obligations to which we are already committed. The committee makes this statement to guard against the idea that this is a surplus, whereas it is part of our regular provision, and will barely suffice to take us through the year. The ministers aided by us are, as we believe, faithful and efficient, and some of them remarkably so. The evangelists are worthy of all praise, not only for their zeal and efficiency, but for their disinterestedness in their efforts to supply the vacant parishes with ministers, or to bring about such combination as will enable them to support a minister themselves, or with less aid from the Executive Committee than the parishes would require if separate. The office of evangelist is, from its nature, temporary, and just in proportion as the vacant parishes are supplied with ministers, separately or by combination, will there be less need of evangelistic service. The Executive Committee would be glad to have the sense of Council as to the expediency of denying aid to parishes which refuse to combine when combination is practicable and desirable. Finally, we earnestly recommend to all our congregations, in order to foster the spirit and establish the habit of Christian giving in our children, that the congregation pay all necessary expenses of the Sunday-school, and have the children free to devote their offerings, specially during Lent, to Diocesan Missions, and at other times to Brazilian or other Foreign Missions, to the Education Society, or to any other Christian object which the rector, superintendent and teachers may agree upon, keeping up the interest of the children by occasional statements of facts, or other interesting matter connected with the object of their beneficence.

All which is respectfully submitted,

PIKE POWERS,
Secretary Diocesan Missionary Society.

BISHOP WHITTLE'S ADDRESS.

The Bishop's Address was then read by the Assistant Bishop.

MY DEAR BRETHREN:

It is a great disappointment to me that I am providentially prevented from meeting with you in this interesting and important Council of our Church. But, my absence being providential, is of course right, and for the best.

I was stricken down by sickness in the midst of my labors last September, and for the greater part of the time since have been confined to my room, and much of it, to my bed.

Although my health has much improved, I am still unable to endure the fatigue and excitement of the Council, or even to do more than dictate such a brief account of matters in the diocese, as I am expressly required by Canon, to lay before you.

1891, May 25th.—I had the pleasure of taking part in a solemn and joyful celebration of the Rev. Dr. C. J. Gibson's semi centennial of his rectorship of Grace Church, Petersburg.

June 4th.—Attended the interesting and satisfactory commencement of St. Paul's Normal and Industrial Colored School, Lawrenceville, under the direction of Rev. J. S. Russell. This brother has done and is doing a noble work for his people, which I wish all their friends in the Diocese could see for themselves.

June 10th.—Visited the Colored Parochial School at Clover depot, Halifax county, in charge of Mrs. Miles and assistant. This school has since been closed.

June 16th.—Attended the annual meeting of the Bishop Payne Divinity and Normal School, Petersburg. This institution, under the headship of the Rev. R. A. Goodwin, continues to successfully prosecute its good work.

June 17th-18th.—Attended examinations at the Theological Seminary.

June 19th.—In St. Phillip's Church, Richmond, ordained the Rev. John W. Johnson (colored) to the priesthood. Rev. Thomas Spencer preached the sermon and presented the candidate, and Rev. Messrs. Burton and Bragg (colored) assisted in the service.

 Bishop's Address.

June 23d-26th.—At Theological Seminary.

June 26th.—In Seminary Chapel ordained twelve Deacons and four Priests—one of the former for the Bishop of Missouri, and one of the latter being a deaf mute.

August 2d.—Ordained in Grace Church, Berryville, Rev. Messrs. Massie, Brown, Meem, and Hall, Priests. Professor Packard, of the Seminary, preached the sermon, and Professor Grammer presented the candidates. Mr. Massie has gone to China, and Messrs. Brown and Meem to Brazil.

September 20th.—In St. John's Church, Richmond, ordained Alfred W. Anson and C. R. Kuyk, Deacons, the rector, Rev. L. W. Burton, preaching sermon and presenting candidates.

August 26th.—Rev. C. Minnigerode, D. D., after long, most faithful, and acceptable service, resigned his office as one of the examining chaplains, and October 14th the Rev. S. A. Wallis was appointed his successor.

MINISTERS DEPOSED.

1892, March 7th.—D. Wilson Taylor, Deacon (colored).

MINISTERS DECEASED.

It is my sad duty to report the loss by death of two of our most prominent and valued Presbyters during the past year.

The Rev. Joshua Peterkin, D. D., who had been in declining health for some time, departed this life at his home in Richmond, March 7, 1892, in the seventy-eighth year of his age.

A native of Baltimore and ordained in 1837, he labored in Maryland, Berryville, Va., and Princeton, N. J., and at the time of his death had been for nearly thirty-seven years the faithful and beloved Rector of St. James' Church, Richmond.

The Rev. Richard T. Davis, D. D., for nearly twenty-four years Rector of St. James' Church, Leesburg, died in that place May 3d, 1892, in the sixty-third year of his age.

Dr. Davis was ordained in 1855, and spent the whole of his Ministry in his native Virginia.

Both these dear brethren were well known throughout the Diocese, and wherever known, admired and loved. They need no eulogy from me—they were both men of ability, and eminent for the saintliness of their characters and for the purity and Godliness of their lives.

“They rest from their labors, and their works do follow them.” May we all be imitators of them, even as they were of Christ.

Assistant Bishop's Address.

I regret to say that owing to my sickness, and other causes, no meeting of the Colored Convocation has been held during the past year, but hope no evil will result from the omission.

The Evangelists have done important and effective work, and I trust they will be continued. Indeed, I do not see how their services can be dispensed with, without great injury to the cause which we have so much at heart.

It is simply marvelous how, in this time of our poverty and pecuniary depression, God puts it into the hearts of the people to sustain our Education and Diocesan Missionary Societies, the two most important agencies of our Church.

Especially is it a matter of wonder and gratitude to see what has been done by the children of the Diocese. They have again responded most nobly to the appeal made to them by the Missionary Society for help in supporting the Evangelists, and deserve the thanks of all the older members of the Church.

I must leave it to the officers of our various institutions and societies to report their condition, which, I think, will be found to be good and encouraging.

I take this occasion to return my grateful thanks to the many dear brethren, clerical and lay, who have expressed their kind sympathy to me and my family during my sickness, and now, praying God's richest blessings for each one of you, and for His guidance and direction in all your deliberations and proceedings, I remain,

Faithfully and affectionately yours,

FRANCIS M. WHITTLE.

The Assistant Bishop then read his own address.

ASSISTANT BISHOP'S ADDRESS.

BRETHREN OF THE CLERGY AND LAITY:

The long-continued illness of the Bishop of the Diocese, which compelled him to suspend active work during the month of September last, and which detains him from this Council, has been a subject of solicitude and sympathy throughout the Diocese and the State of Virginia. The loving appreciation of fidelity and self-sacrifice in her public servants has always been a characteristic of the people of Virginia. In church and in state the instinct to honor those who are over us in the Lord, and to esteem them very highly for their work's sake, is one of the conservative virtues nurtured in people by the growth of Christian civilization. My intercourse during the last eight months with the people of all parts of Virginia and their kind inquiries after their Bishop's health, have suggested these observations. It is hoped that rest and freedom from the cares of his office may restore him to health and prolong his day of usefulness in his generation. As soon as it was more than a probability that his illness would be a long-continued one I addressed myself to the effort to supply the needs of the whole Diocese for Episcopal visitations. Had it been possible to begin the work in the fall it might have been accomplished. The greater part of the work of the following record has been done, as will be seen, since the 1st of January, 1892:

SERVICES, VISITATIONS AND CONFIRMATIONS.

May 25, 1891, I attended the semi-centennial services at Grace Church, Petersburg, in honor of fifty years of ministry of the beloved rector, the Rev. C. J. Gibson, D. D. I esteem it a privilege to have been present at that service. It was beautiful and blessed and is to be remembered. On the 26th of May I attended and officiated at the laying of the corner-stone of the new St. Paul's Church, Lynchburg—an occasion full of interest and significance. I cannot commend too highly the prudent resolution of my friend the rector and his people, to build this beautiful church so much needed by the congregation, without laying the burden of debt upon a future generation. They are building as they get the money to pay for the same. On June 10th I attended the centennial services of St. John's Church, Richmond. To my beloved brother, the rector of that church, is largely due the success and impressiveness of those services. It was an occasion of high religious and historic import.

CONSECRATION OF CHURCHES.

On the 5th of December, 1891, St. John's Church, near Balcony Falls and Glasgow, Rockbridge county, was consecrated. The Rev. George Benedict, the rector, and Rev. Mr. Lawrence assisted in the services. The church building has seating capacity for about one hundred and fifty persons. It commands a field where good mission work may be done.

On the 11th of December, Emmanuel Church, Wakefield, Surry county, was consecrated. The Rev. Dr. Gibson, of Grace Church, Petersburg; the Rev. B. D. Tucker, of St. Paul's, Norfolk; the Rev. H. L. Derby, then of Suffolk, and the Rev. Mr. Ridout, assistant Grace Church, Petersburg, assisted in the services. The building is neat and churchly. Its erection is due to the zeal and sacrifice of a few faithful women. With this church as the central point, in combination with Ivor and Waverly, a self-supporting parish may be constituted. On the 5th of February the Chapel by the Sea, Princess Anne county, was consecrated. Rev. A. W. Anson, the rector of the parish, and the Rev. B. D. Tucker and Rev. L. W. Gravatt, of Norfolk, assisted in the services. The Rev. Mr. Tucker preached the consecration sermon. The chapel was built under the faithful ministry of Rev. Mr. Savage, chiefly for the benefit of the life-saving crew and their families, and in memory of many gallant men who from time to time had perished on that wild coast while engaged in the life-saving work. The circumstances and the character of the congregation helped to make the services and the sermon touching and impressive. On Sunday, February 7th, dedicatory services were held in St. Paul's Church, Norfolk, upon the occasion of the reopening, after it had been closed for many months for remodelling and renovation. The rector and vestry are to be congratulated upon their wisdom and good taste in consulting the best architects and ecclesiastical artists in the country in the restoration of this old church. The deformities which had been engrafted upon the interior plan, and which for half a century have concealed its beauty and dignity, have all been removed, and the graceful architectural lines of the original church have been revealed, evidently the work of some master of the profession. It stands now as perhaps the most beautiful specimen of the colonial churches in America. I may be pardoned if, in passing, I suggest to our brethren of the clergy the importance to them in their calling of at least a knowledge of the elementary principles of church architecture. I do not mean a technical knowledge—even if that were desirable they would have no time to acquire it—but such a knowledge as every man of broad and general culture ought to have, gained from reading in leisure hours and from the observation of architectural forms in travel at home or abroad. A clergyman has more to do with the building and improvement of churches than any member of his congregation. He in the majority of cases collects the money, and his is the leading voice in the selection of architectural plans. If he is ignorant he is at the mercy of the sensational architect who furnishes him with the colored drawings that please his eye. Let him read as a cultivating study and as a part of the general equipment for usefulness in his calling some one of the many excellent English books upon the history and the science of ecclesiastical building. Let him read Ruskin's "Even Lamps of Architecture," and form in his mind some definite conception of truth and beauty and utility in the forms of church architecture. He will then at least know who a good architect is, and will be able to detect bad architecture when he sees it. Above all, let him not imagine himself to be an architect, and undertake to draw his own plans for church building. It will doubtless save much of the money that has been contributed by the self-sacrifice of your people; it will secure beauty and fitness as against the risk of grotesqueness in form and proportion. If no matter how humble your church building is to be, you consult the best architect you can find as the first step in your enterprise.

Assistant Bishop's Address.

On the 6th of April, St. Thomas' Church, Christiansburg, Montgomery county, was consecrated. Rev. John McGill, the rector, and the Rev. Messrs. Lloyd, Logan and Smead assisted in the services. The Rev. E. L. Goodwin preached the consecration sermon. The church building is very attractive, and the congregation earnest and united.

On Wednesday, April 20th, St. Thomas' Church, St. Bride's Parish, Berkeley, was consecrated. The Rev. J. R. Hubbard, D. D., Rev. B. D. Tucker, Rev. A. S. Lloyd, Rev. J. L. Gravatt, Rev. Robert Forsyth and Rev. John Powell assisted in the services. Rev. O. S. Barten, D. D., preached the consecration sermon. This congregation during the five years of its life has expended in parish work $9,000. Unaided they have built their handsome and commodious church. Their good fortune in securing the ability and experience of the Rev. Dr. Hubbard as their rector has contributed doubtless toward the exceptional success of their undertaking, but they deserve commendation for their fidelity and self-sacrifice. It is a striking coincidence in the history of this old parish, that its revival and reorganization by the congregation of St. Thomas should have occurred just one hundred years after its apparent extinction. Its name disappears with the name of the Rev. Weedlow Robinson, its last rector, in 1787. Just one hundred years after February 15th, 1787, the parish was reorganized, and the new vestry of St. Bride's elected.

Assistant Bishop's Address.

St. Paul's Chapel has also been organized as an independent congregation in St. Bride's Parish.

On Sunday, the 8th of May, Christ Church, Buena Vista, was consecrated. The Rev. Dr. McBryde, of Lexington, assisted in the services and preached the consecration sermon. This church has a future of usefulness and strength in a growing community.

In addition to these new churches consecrated, it is encouraging to mention some of the churches in process of erection, which may be open for worship during the coming year. A neat church building has been erected at Cape Charles city, and the field is said to be quite a promising one. The congregation of St. Luke's Church, Norfolk, has been blessed with exceptional success in their new church enterprise. The judgment displayed in the selection of places, and the generous enthusiasm of the people in contributing to the new building are subjects of hearty congratulation. It will be probably one of the largest churches in the State, and as handsome a piece of architecture for the amount expended as any in the country. A new church is in process of erection at Suffolk, Nansemond county, to meet the demands of a flourishing town and a growing congregation. St. Peter's Church, Norfolk, has been enlarged to double its original size. The new St. Paul's Church in Lynchburg is steadily progressing, and it is hoped that this strong congregation may, before many months, be worshipping in their beautiful building. The earnest rector and congregation at Roanoke City are hoping to enter their new and capacious building certainly by the end of the summer. The chapel in West Radford is nearing completion. The new church at Pulaski City may be ready for worship before another winter. This and the church at Roanoke are both excellent specimens of Gothic work. A neat church at the beautiful little town Richlands, in Tazewell county, is probably by this time ready for occupation. A new church is nearing completion in Barton Heights, one of the suburban towns of Richmond, mainly the fruits of the missionary spirit and the liberal offerings of Emmanuel Church, Henrico. These new buildings are hopeful signs of energy and development in the Church.

On the 8th of October, in St. James' Church, Warrenton, Alexander Paine was ordained to the Order of Deacons. The Rev. G. W. Nelson preached the sermon, and the Rev. Dr. Kinloch Nelson presented the candidate and assisted in the services. On Sunday morning, March the 6th, Richard Pardee Williams was ordained to the Order of Deacons in St. Paul's Church, Richmond. The Rev. Hartley Carmichael preached the sermon and presented the candidate. In addition to these services, I have conducted the worship and filled the pulpits of vacant Churches eight times. I have administered the Holy Communion nine times. I have baptized in vacant parishes, or at the request of the rector, eight infants, and discharged occasionally ministerial duties in the absence of rectors, or vacancies in parishes.

I must not detain you with discussions of questions which are to come before you, and upon which you are to render a responsible decision. Upon the question of the Division of the Diocese my opinions are on record in the address delivered at the last Council. I have read in the public prints the report of your Committee on Division, which will be presented for your consideration to-day. Whatever may be your disposition of the proposition embodied in that report, I am sure you will render to your committee your thanks for the painstaking fidelity with which the duty you committed to them has been discharged. If the determination is reached to divide the Diocese at this time, and if it is ratified by the General Convention, there is nothing for me to do but to exercise the option which is given to me by the Constitution of the Church—either to remain with the old or to take the new Diocese. God knows what a pain it will be to me to part from the Clergy and the Laity of either one. If the proposition to divide is defeated or postponed to the future, when it must come I shall remain gladly in the work which I accepted at the hands of this Diocese nine years ago, and with my best energies and a hopeful heart minister to a people and a Clergy which any Bishop might be thankful to serve.

Before I close I must pause and dwell for a few moments on a blessed and helpful memory and example. On the 9th day of March I assisted the Rev. J. K. Mason and others of the clergy at the funeral of the Rev. Joshua Peterkin, D. D., in St. James' Church, Richmond. The Bishop, in his address just read, the public journals and memorial meetings in sister Churches, as well as in our own, have given the events of his life and the record of his long service as a minister of the Gospel. This is the first Council of Virginia for perhaps thirty years where his voice is silent and his face is seen no more. The public of all classes in the city of Richmond, and the Clergy and Laity of the Episcopal Church in Virginia, seem now, while his memory is so fresh, to recognize the fact that across the horizon of our generation has passed a character of rare and remarkable Christian graces—a character with an exceptional combination of gentleness and power, of strength and of love. The natural bent of his intellect seemed to me to be philosophical, and his tastes from a boy were literary in a very marked degree, but he had higher impulses and higher ends than philosophy or literature. There was in him a passion for doing good, a Divine devotion for duty, a glorious fame, loving and being loved. He never shrank from controversy upon questions of religious truth, and during all those troubled years, when you had been sending him to the General Conventions to represent you, he has seen the dangers to be feared from the invasion of Romish principles in all the Protestant Churches, and with steadiness and firmness he has been true and consistent in his fidelity to our Prayer Book and to the reformations of the sixteenth century.

But he knew better than most of us ever learn to know, that controversy at last means so little and charity means so much. He knew what is so hard for most of us to learn, and what some of us never do learn in this world, that whether circumcision availeth anything, nor uncircumcision, but that daily growth in goodness, in self-control, in love, and in unselfishness, which Paul calls a new creation in Christ Jesus—and why cannot we learn that too? we must learn it, for it is the heart of the religion of Christ—and there left us another great lesson about Christ. As a pastor moving about among his flock in pastoral ministrations—a Christian citizen who was open to the call of every public duty, never too tired to go and lend his influence to any good cause—a friend and comforter to the rich and to the poor, to old men and to children, in these daily pastoral duties he taught us that the work of the religion of Christ is there. The becoming more like Christ lay in that path of daily duty and of common life. It is not a new truth, but an old one. David knew it, and we ought to know it better than he did, for we have Christ in the Gospels before us. David said who shall ascend unto the hill of the Lord? who shall rise up in his holy place—who? Not the orator, who thrills with his passion the listening multitude; not the poet with his mystic song; not the wasted monk with his bodily mortifications; not the priest with his garments of beauty and glory and the pomp of his ceremonial—not these shall ascend unto the hill of the Lord—but he that hath clean hands and a pure heart, and that hath not lifted up his mind unto vanity. He that walketh uprightly and worketh righteousness and speaketh the truth from his heart, he shall receive the blessing of his Lord and righteousness from the God of his salvation. Kindness and purity, guilelessness and love in these daily lives of ours, there is the pathway up the hill of the Lord, and in these daily journeys upward are we moulded into the image of Christ. He taught us that, and what a lesson that is for us to learn from this strong and beautiful life which has passed away from our midst.

The death of Dr. Davis, of Leesburg, reminds us of the same lessons, and leaves us an example of guileless devotion to duty, of ability and of purity which constitute a heritage and a benediction to the Diocese of Virginia. May God keep these memories green.

I must not detain you longer, May the Spirit of Grace rule our hearts and guide our Councils, and give us a right judgment in all things.

Mr. John Page moved that after the disposition of the report of the Committee on Division, the election of Deputies to the General Convention be made the order of the day. Carried.

The order of the day, being the report of the Committee on Division, was then taken up.

Rev. Dr. K. Nelson presented the report of the Committee as follows:

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON DIVISION OF THE DIOCESE OF

The committee appointed to consider the subject of the division of the Diocese and report to this Council have the honor to present the subjoined report. 2. Resolved, That the consent of the Council of the Diocese of Virginia be and hereby is given to the erection within the limits of this Diocese of a new Diocese to be formed of the territory comprised in the following counties of the State of Virginia, to-wit: Accomac, Northampton, Princess Anne, Norfolk, Nansemond, Isle of Wight, Surry, Prince George, Sussex, Southampton, Greenesville, Brunswick, Dinwiddie, Chesterfield, Powhatan, Amelia, Nottoway, Lunenburg, Mecklenburg, Halifax, Charlotte, Prince Edward, Appomattox, Cumberland, Buckingham, Nelson, Augusta, Highland, Bath, Alleghany, Rockbridge, Amherst, Bedford, Campbell, Pittsylvania, Henry, Franklin, Patrick, Carroll, Floyd, Montgomery, Roanoke, Botetourt, Craig, Giles, Pulaski, Bland, Wythe, Grayson, Smythe, Tazewell, Buchanan, Dickenson, Russell, Washington, Scott, Wise and Lee.

3. Resolved, That all vested funds of the Diocese of Virginia be divided between the two proposed Dioceses in the ratio of communicants in each, so far as such division may be found practicable and free from legal difficulties.

4. Resolved, That the title to the Episcopal residence in the city of Richmond be vested in the Diocese of Virginia, to be held and used for its purposes: provided, however, that said Diocese shall account for and pay over to the new Diocese its due proportion of the value of said property according to the number of its communicants at the date of division.

5. Resolved, That the Virginia Female Institute shall remain the property of the Diocese of Virginia and of the proposed new Diocese, and under their joint control and management, on such terms and conditions as may hereafter be determined.

Rev. Dr. C. J. Gibson presented the report of the Managers of the Widows' and Orphans' Fund, which was referred to the Committee on the Widows' and Orphans' Fund.

REPORT OF MANAGERS OF WIDOWS' AND ORPHANS' FUND.

The Managers of the Widows' and Orphans' Fund of the Diocese of Virginia are thankful to report that the income of the past year, from the contributions of individuals and churches, has been larger than that of the year before by $295.49. It has reached the sum of $1,432.32, more than ever before from this source, but by no means sufficient for the wants of our beneficiaries. The income from our invested funds the past year was $1,491.71, more than one thousand dollars of which it was found necessary to add to the above contributions to supply the deficiency. In view of the fact that no new case of need had arisen during the year and realizing the obligation resting upon the Diocese to carry out the original design of the givers of this Fund—to increase as soon as practicable its Capital Fund to $60,000—the Board determined to expend only the same amount as last year, viz: twenty-five hundred and thirty-five dollars, and to make no change in the respective sums assigned to the different families. There are eighteen of these families still under our care, and it is well to remind our brethren that out of three hundred churches in the Diocese, not more than eighty have contributed one cent to their support.

Respectfully submitted,

CHURCHILL J. GIBSON, Secretary.

Your Committee have to repeat the request often made by committees in past years, urging greater care in the preparation of the reports. The absence of this has entailed unnecessary work upon your committee, and has made it well-nigh impossible to render an accurate account to the Council.

The labors of the committee would have been greatly lightened if the rectors had sent their reports to the Bishop before the Council, as requested in the blanks.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON SUNDAY-SCHOOLS.

Rev. H. Carmichael presented the report of the Committee on Sunday-schools.

The Committee on Sunday-schools beg to submit the following suggestions to the Council:

Your Committee are deeply impressed with the necessity of urging on all pastors and teachers the importance of pure and undefiled Biblical instruction. They desire that children should be taught, so soon as they are able to learn, the Holy Scriptures—taught them not only in substance, but verbally, so that when the child becomes a man, the mind may be well stored with treasures taken from the Word of God. It is in youth when the mind is plastic, that we can learn by heart the beauties of the Bible. When age comes with its temptations and worries, it takes from us that facility for committing to memory those sacred stories and psalms which the child can learn with ease. Remember what St. Paul said to Timothy : " From a child, thou hast known the Holy Scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation, by faith, which is in Christ Jesus "

Report of the Committee on Sunday-schools.

If the teacher is to properly instruct the scholar, the teacher must have something to teach. Your Committee, while giving the highest praise to our gallant and unselfish band of Sunday-school teachers, yet deplore the fact that in too many cases classes are taught by those who have made no effort to prepare the lesson, and who consequently must fail to benefit their scholars. Your Committee recommend that pastors should establish classes for the teachers of the Sunday-schools, at which the subjects for the following Sunday should be taught by the pastor, and that, too, in such a way that the teacher may not only have the knowledge to impart, but may learn how to impart it.

Your Committee, while appreciating the value of what is popularly called " the leaflet system," feel constrained to utter a note of warning concerning it. There is a danger that in the pupil's mind it may become a substitute for the Holy Bible. In many cases it has, and such a result is deplorable. Your Committee, therefore, ask all pastors who use the leaflets to watch carefully and see that the open Bibles are to be found in the Sunday-school classes—whether the " leaflets " be used or not.

Your Committee would respectfully remind all ministers of the gospel of the vast importance of the Sunday-school in relation to the church. They earnestly trust that all pastors will give their schools the weight due to them ; that they will visit them regularly—even though they be under the most excellent superintendence. Cordial and loving relations between the pastor and the young of the flock build up the church of to-morrow. The school is the nursery of the church. From it comes most of the candidates for confirmation, and if the pastor is on cordial terms with the spiritual children, how much more easy will it be for him, when they come to years of discretion, to gather them into classes of preparation—classes that ought to be held in all parishes—that when the Bishop comes to visit the church he may find those who come forward to receive a blessing, prepared not only in their hearts, but in their minds.

Your Committee would call the attention of the Council to another danger in connection with our Sunday-schools. It is that, instead of being, as they are, nurseries for the church, they should become substitutes for worship. They therefore recommend that pastors should hold bright children's services, from time to time, where, by a judicious use of collects and bright, tuneful hymns, the children might be brought to love the church building and the Prayer-Book, and realize that the church of their fathers was their own church too. The Church of Christ—" The Kingdom of God "—in the next generation is in the hands of our children. Therefore, suffer them to come to Him now, not only in Sunday-school, but in His Church, and " forbid them not."

Report of the Committee on Sunday-schools.

Your Committee put themselves on record as being opposed to the giving of prizes in Sunday-schools.

Lastly, they urge on all pastors to impress on the youthful mind the duty of giving to God. It is more blessed to give than to receive. Giving, when it is done as a loving duty to God and regularly, not spasmodically, brings the blessing of the sacrificing spirit with it. Look how in response to the Bishop's appeal, the children of this Diocese, in loving, affectionate desire to do their duty, have, with their mite-boxes, taught their elders a lesson in giving. May that spirit grow in them; may they know every year more and more the blessing of giving to God. If they learn their lesson now, they will practice its principles in youth, manhood and old age; and then, indeed, when we are gathered to our Fathers, with the Church of our Fathers, it will be well.

Respectfully submitted by the committee,

HARTLEY CARMICHAEL, Chairman.

Rev. Dr. James Grammer presented the Report of the Trustees of the Theological Seminary and High School:

REPORT OF TRUSTEES OF THE THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY AND HIGH SCHOOL.

The Secretary of the Board of Trustees and High School presents to the Council the following report:

The reports of the professors given below will show that the classes are faithfully prosecuting their respective courses of study.

The number of boys at the High School this session is exceptionally large, giving gratifying evidence of a continuance of public favor and patronage to this Diocesan School.

From the Committee on the High School Improvements we learn that the plan of improvement has been fully carried out at a cost of $19,213.81, which has added greatly to the comfort of teachers and students, and to the general efficiency of the school. The buildings are heated by steam, and the water supply, if not all that could be desired, is sufficient for present practical purposes.

The buildings and grounds of the Theological Seminary were never before in as good a condition as at present, and the water supply abundant and of the best quality.

Respectfully,

JAMES GRAMMER, Secretary.

The Middle Class has studied the Psalms, constantly comparing the different Versions, and referring to the Original, the Septuagint and the Vulgate.

The Senior Class has studied carefully the more difficult books of the Old Testament—Job, Ecclesiastes, Daniel and Ezekiel.

Both classes have paid special attention to the authorship and age of the books studied.

With the limited time at his disposal, he has endeavored to do all that he could in this important study, and he is thankful to state that he has not been interrupted in any of his duties.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

JOSEPH PACKARD.

REPORT OF THE PROFESSOR OF ECCLESIASTICAL HISTORY AND CANON LAW.

To the Board of Trustees

of the Theological Seminary of Virginia:

The Professor of Ecclesiastical History and Canon Law respectfully submits the following report:

The Senior Class has studied and been examined upon the first two volumes of Perry's History of the Church of England, which goes down to 1717 A. D., the silencing of Convocation. Lectures have been delivered by the Professor upon the history of the Church after that date, and the class has been assigned as parallel reading the third volume of Perry, Ryle's Christian Leaders in the Last Century, Seeley's Later Evangelical Fathers, and Tulloch's Religious Thought in Britain during the Nineteenth Century. Time for this reading is gained by abandoning the system of recitation for the last half year. The lectures are general discussions and criticisms of the successive phases of religious life in England, and more particularly in the Established Church, and are meant to be directive of investigation and private study. Each student is requested to select for special study some one movement in the eighteenth or nineteenth century, as for example the Great Awakening of the eighteenth century, or the Evangelical Movement, or the Tractarian Movement, or the Broad Church Movement, or some one representative writer like Wesley, or Coleridge, or Arnold, or Newman, or F. W. Robertson. In some cases the results of these private studies are given to the class in a lecture. The great aim in this part of the course is to incite the students to research, and to introduce more of the co-operative method of historical study. The class is now studying the Constitution and Canons, and hearing lectures on American Church History, and will be occupied in this way until the close of the session, when there will be a general examination upon the whole period, and a more particular examination for each student upon his chosen movement or author.

The Middle Class has studied and been examined upon the two volumes of Smith's Student's Ecclesiastical History, and is at present studying Fisher's History of the Christian Church. It has read as parallel reading

 Abstract of Annual Report to Trustees.

Trench's Mediæval Church History. Essays have been prepared and read upon assigned topics by the members of the class.

The Junior Class has read and been examined upon Smith's Old and New Testament Histories and the Acts of the Apostles in the Greek, which was used as a basis for the discussion of the Constitution and Ordinances of the Primitive Church. The remainder of the session will be devoted to reading in class some of the early uncanonical Christian writings, and in an examination of the light that they throw upon the polity, doctrine, life and worship of the early Church. Essays are read by this class also upon assigned topics. The parallel reading required of it is the Apocrypha.

CARL ECKHARDT GRAMMER.

ABSTRACT OF ANNUAL REPORT TO TRUSTEES (1892).

Right Rev. F. M. Whittle, D. D., LL. D.,

President of the Board of Trustees:

RT. REV. AND DEAR SIR:—As Principal of the Episcopal High School, I have the honor to submit the following report:

The whole number of pupils entered this session is 106, the maximum attendance being 102. It was never but twice before larger—i. e., once in Mr. Pendleton's time and once in mine. The general behavior of the boys has been such as to compare favorably with our best previous years, and the general health of the school was never better.

The improvements in equipment and building so liberally provided by the Trustees during the past vacation have been gratefully appreciated by the boys as well as by myself. No school within my knowledge has better equipped or finer rooms for study and class purposes, or a finer dining-room; while the neat little sleeping apartments (one for each boy, with wardrobe, washstand, etc., complete) give great satisfaction. The steam-heating and bath-room arrangements have proved just what was desired.

There has been no abatement in the endeavor heretofore constantly made to bring the best moral and religious influences to bear upon those committed to my charge, and encouragement has not been wanting. In every such effort the co-operation of Mr. A. H. Mellen, of the Seminary Senior Class, who has the charge of the Friday night meeting, and of my honored friend, the Rev. Professor Kinloch Nelson, who has continued chaplain to the school, have been invaluable. Few boys similarly situated have pastoral oversight so efficient and tender as that afforded here by Dr. Nelson.

Fourteen have been confirmed during the session, and the number of communicants among the boys is forty-two.

Respectfully yours,

L. M. BLACKFORD.

Report of Committee on Vacant Parishes.

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN.

To the Board of Trusteesof the Theological Seminary of Virginia :

The Library has been kept regularly open for consultation on the part of students during the session now current, with due official attendance on the part of the Assistant or Sub-assistant Librarian for two hours daily.

It is gratifying to record the addition to its manifold compartments of a goodly number of valuable books by purchase and by donation. There have been added by purchase one hundred and five (105) volumes ; by gift of the Rev. Charles R. Howard, four hundred and twenty-five (425) volumes ; by gift of the Rev. John A. Greaves (now of England), eighty (80) volumes—an aggregate of six hundred and ten (610) volumes. We are indebted to Mr. James M. Garnett for the gift of a “ Reduced Fac-simile of Folio 40 of the Codex Sinaiticus ; ” and to the Rev. C. H. Thomson, for a “ Chart of the Chinese Pantheon.”

Attention has been heretofore called to the need of ampler shelf-room for new books almost daily coming in. That the shelves are now becoming overcrowded would seem to render the erection of a larger building, or, in default of so much, some suitable additions to the present building, by way of annex, highly desirable.

Respectfully submitted,

J. J. McELHINNEY,
Librarian.

May 10, 1892.

Rev. J. W. Ware offered the following :

Resolved, That the Council declines to receive and enter upon its minutes the report of the Theological Seminary and High School.

The resolution was laid upon the table.

Rev. G. Moseley Murray, from the Committee on Vacant Parishes appointed by the last Council, presented the report.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON VACANT PARISHES.

Special: The committee appointed at the last Council in accordance with the following resolution, viz: “ Resolved, That so much of the report on the State of the Church as applies to the vacant parishes be referred to a special committee of five, who shall take the whole matter into consideration, and devise a scheme which shall meet the need of said parishes, and report to the next Council,” respectfully present their report as follows :

Report of Committee on Vacant Parishes.

Pursuant to call of the Chairman the committee met in Richmond, and after due deliberation unanimously adopted the following resolutions :

Resolved, That this Council request and authorize the several Convocations within the Diocese to thoroughly inform themselves of the condition and needs of the vacant churches and parishes within their several bounds.

Further, That said Convocations shall canvass each of the said parishes and secure from each church or parish an engagement to co-operate, as long as vacant, with the committee's plan, and in earnest of their co-operation to pledge a sum not less than one hundred dollars per annum, the same to be paid in quarterly payments in advance, such payments to be made to the Diocesan Missionary Society towards the support of a minister.

Further, That the several Convocations shall then recommend such combinations of churches as they shall have found practicable to the Diocesan Missionary Society, and ask for their assistance to make up whatever deficiency there may be in the stipends of the several clergymen who shall have the charge of such several combinations, and that the Diocesan Missionary Society render the assistance as asked.

Further, That any vacant parish or church that shall decline to co-operate by payment of not less than one hundred dollars shall not be included within the said combination, and shall not be participator in the benefits arising therefrom.

Your committee offers the above resolution and urgently asks for its adoption—

First. Because we believe that while the evangelists have accomplished a noble work in the Diocese, and have faithfully and zealously discharged their duties, have opened up the way, and have ploughed the ground, and that they have fulfilled their mission; plainly, they have finished their work.

Second. Because as organization is essential to success in all of life's affairs, and being confident of this, we urge organization and system in this matter of supplying the needs of the Church. We believe it is for us to go on now and bring to a successful issue by wise methods what our evangelists have so well begun. We urge the adoption of this resolution.

Third. Because we are convinced that in spite of all that our evangelists have so faithfully done, the vacant parishes for the most part do not prosper under the present system. Occasionally, when the evangelist makes his visit, they rouse themselves to something like life, but they are learning to be satisfied with these occasional services, they show little or no growth, and for the most part they contribute little or nothing to the general work of the Church, and quoting from Our Diocesan Work of April, "with some notable exceptions the vacant churches do very little, though the whole expense of the evangelists is on their account." We urge the adoption of this resolution.

Fourth. Because we are confident that under such a plan of combination the several parishes would wake up to their responsibilities, when they find that they have to pay for their privileges, and because we fully believe that the establishment (under this plan) of a pastorate among the people will give them an incentive to do what they will never do under an evangelistic ministry. We urge the adoption of this resolution.

Fifth. Because we are convinced that co-operation and sympathy between the several Convocations and the Diocesan Missionary Society are in the highest degree desirable.

G. MOSELEY MURRAY,
JOHN K. MASON.

Mr. Joseph Bryan offered the following :

Resolved, That we recommit the report to the Committee, with the request that they present a plan of working the vacant parishes in accordance with Canon law and under the constituted authorities of the Church, and to report to this Council at five o'clock this afternoon.

The motion to recommit was adopted.

Mr. C. M. Blackford, from the Committee on Arrangements Preparatory to the Division of the Diocese, presented the following report :

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON DIVISION OF THE DIOCESE.

Whereas, this Council has, in accordance with the Constitution of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States, given its consent to a division thereof, as set forth in the resolution heretofore adopted, and now wishes to give effect to the said consent and cause said division to be consummated as speedily as possible,

1. Be it resolved, That the Bishop of this Diocese be and hereby is respectfully requested to give his consent to the proposed division.

2. That if the consent of the Bishop be given, then the General Convention is respectfully requested to give its consent to said division; and to that end, should the consent of the Bishop be given, as above requested, the Secretary of this Council is directed to prepare two copies of the resolution in regard to said division adopted on yesterday, of the report of the Committee, which was the basis thereof, and of these resolutions and of the action of the Bishop consenting to the division, and cause the same to be certified by the President of this Council and by himself, and then to forward one copy thereof to the Secretary of the House of Bishops, and the other copy to the Secretary of the House of Deputies, for the consideration of their respective houses.

3. That in case of the consent of the Bishop to such division, the Clerical and Lay deputies from this Diocese to the General Convention be and hereby are instructed, and the Bishop and Assistant Bishop are requested to present the said resolutions, report and action of the Bishop to the General Convention, and for and in behalf of this Diocese ask that the consent of said Convention be given to said division, and at the same time and with the petition making such request, present to said Convention such statistics, duly certified by the President of this Council and its Secretary, being taken from the Parochial reports, as will assure the said Convention that after such division both the old and the new Diocese can easily make a suitable provision for the support of the Episcopate therein, and that in each Diocese there will be more than twelve parishes and more than twelve presbyters who have been for at least one year canonically resident therein, regularly settled in a parish, and qualified to vote for a Bishop.

And the Secretary shall furnish and cause to be printed these and any other statistics which may be requisite to inform the General Convention of the numerical and financial strength, and the territorial extent of both the proposed and the old Diocese, after the new has been separated therefrom, and any other information which may tend to prove that both of said Dioceses conform to the constitutional requirements in case of such division.

The report was received and its resolutions unanimously adopted.

Rev. Dr. Barten presented the report of the Committee on the State of the Church.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON THE STATE OF THE CHURCH.

The Committee would open their report with an expression of their sorrow at the necessary and unavoidable absence of our senior Bishop. Mindful of his great sufferings, and the patience with which he has borne the afflictive dispensation of God's providence, we assure him of our sympathy and our prayers. May God look down from Heaven, behold, visit and speedily relieve His servant; look upon him with the eyes of His mercy; give him comfort and more confidence in Him; defend him from the danger of the enemy, and keep him in perpetual peace and safety.

Your Committee have examined the various papers placed at their disposal and, both from the addresses of our Bishops and such of the Parochial Reports as have been handed in and formulated, may congratulate the Diocese upon the continued growth and prosperity of our Church. It is a steady growth—uniform and healthy—showing in its results the wisdom and zeal of the Clergy and the energy and faithful continuance in well-doing of an earnest and devoted Laity.

The Committee feels that we are meeting this year under peculiar circumstances, and that the Ninety-Seventh Annual Council of the Protestant Report of Committee on the State of the Church.

Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Virginia must be ever memorable in the history of the Diocese. It may be the last time that we meet as one body. Another year may find us two bands, but always one in heart and Christian affection. This great old Diocese, honored and beloved, will always continue one in spirit and, we trust, one in doctrine and practice. In the Providence of God and as an ecclesiastical necessity, forced upon her by a divinely given growth, division has taken place, and may again and again take place, but the great and noble Province of Virginia, enfolding all her children—north and south, east and west—will ever continue an inspiring monument in the Church of the great work done within her borders—done in troublous times—but done well by true and faithful men in the fear of God and the spirit of their Lord ; for let it be remembered, and we may be justly proud of it, this Diocese has always represented, and even in her darkest days has been faithful to, the vital, fundamental conditions of true Apostolic Church growth. She has always been (and may she ever continue) a true Apostolic Church.

We are living in sober, solemn times—the hostile forces of the world and of a highly trained intellectualism are pressing us on every side. Special care and effort and great wisdom are needed, alike in the choice of the means of our defence and the method of an aggressive warfare. God has supplied to us these means, and has provided an instrumentality good and perfect, which cannot fail. It is the Gospel of Jesus Christ—the truth as it is in Jesus, written in scripture and handed down to us by and in the Church. It is pre-eminently God's truth. He prepared it for such a purpose in all its variety of form and beauty, and He inspired holy men to preach it for the regeneration of the world. Gospel truth, that truth which centres in the Cross of Christ, which was all that the Apostles cared to know in their Apostolic work—it alone has power over the human mind, and can rightly move the heart for religious ends. It is sealed upon the heart by the Divine Spirit. This Gospel truth was the strength of the early Apostolic Church. It began to operate with wondrous power as soon as proclaimed after the ascension of Jesus, and the Divine, all potent spell has gone with it ever since. It has not only revolutionized the world's thought and greatly modified and moulded its practice and life on a multitude of subjects connected with morals and religion, but it has savingly affected and has lovingly gathered to Christ an endless harvest of the saved. This it does to-day ! The past is an encouragement to constant and world-wide effort. And nowhere has this truth been more faithfully preached than in our own Diocese, and nowhere have the fruits of such preachings been more conspicuously manifest than in the simple, consistent, almost primitive lives of many of her Clergy and Laity. A blessed experience shows that God is still with His Church as of old—that the Divine presence is both our safeguard and inspiration. It is true, supernatural signs and wonders have ceased. It has pleased the Father, in His infinite wisdom, to withdraw for a time all outward manifestations of wonder and surprise. No inspired Apostle can now vindicate with immediate and visible judgment the sentence of God's wrath upon those who believe not in this sacred presence, and insult it by their manner and conduct, their professions, their offerings and gifts. But God is with us as of old, and we see and feel His presence in many wonderful ways. Still sinners are arrested; souls are converted; men are brought to God; the enemy is put to flight, and believers are built up in their most precious faith; the glory of God is seen and felt in the rapid extension of the Kingdom and the ever stronger spiritual rule of God. The Church is grateful for this fact; she rejoices in what may be truly called the living indications of a speedy victory for Christ. She rejoices in that holy presence and gives it full expression, alike in her teaching, in her worship, and in her daily life she endeavors to serve God acceptably with reverence and Godly fear.

And may not this be the reason of another hopeful sign, most cheering and comforting to us, the constant, steady drift toward this true and Apostolic Church of ours? No one can watch the proceedings of other Christian bodies about us, or scan our confirmation and ordination lists, without feeling convinced that there is a strong inducement which is leading many devout persons nearer and nearer to this Church. In the judgment of large numbers, there really exists no good reason for longer separation, and they are steadily, if slowly, coming back to the Church. The Church should gladly encourage such a movement, and lovingly receive all those who desire to enter and become part of our communion. We should avoid all boastfulness, and, above all, remember that such a state of things imposes upon her great responsibilities and duties. She must emphasize the great churchly principle of the membership of all who are baptized in the name of the Father, the Son and the Holy Ghost, and recognize the manifold gifts of God's grace, working in the hearts of men and setting forth His glory in the world. She must also remain true to her Divine teaching; stand firmly on the three essential signs of a true church: her Apostolic faith, her divinely instituted sacraments, her apostolic ministry.

The attitude of our Church as a body is not one of arrogant indifference to the great religious bodies all around it, but one of tender and loving interest, regarding all who differ kindly, but clinging to the truth with a firm and steadfast grasp, and following a polity which has always existed in the Christian church, and is as old as Christianity itself—which for many centuries was never departed from—which is primitive and Apostolic.

The truth—precious above words—should be carefully and wisely administered. The Committee, therefore, cannot sufficiently emphasize the great need of more carefully training our people in the fuller knowledge of it. It may be questioned whether this matter is pushed as it ought to be, and whether our people are aware of the necessity of a more intelligent, a more thoughtful and a carefully instructed churchmanship. How often do we fail in our efforts to give a satisfactory reason for our faith and our Church, and the distinctive differences that keep us apart from others? There can be no doubt of the fact that, especially in our Sunday-schools and Bible classes, and, later on, in our parochial instructions, much remains to be desired in this direction. Are our children sufficiently trained in the great descriptive truths and duties of our faith? Are these sufficiently pressed home upon the mind, the heart, the conscience of our children? Is there not, perhaps, too much attention paid to a somewhat desultory teaching of the Scriptures; and might not a plainer, simpler plan of combining Bible truth and church doctrine, systematically constructed and carefully presented according to the church year and its teachings, prove more forceful and desirable?

We need more knowledge, more instruction, more skillful training and a higher intelligence to keep us steadfast in the faith, and earnest, devout and wise in Apostolic life and practice.

But as a happy and most grateful offset to any possible deficiency in the line just indicated, we must call your attention to the many indications of a new and vigorous parochial life, felt all through our parishes and churches. The laity has literally, like the sun, come forth as a bride-groom out of his chamber, and rejoiceth as a giant to run his course. There has been a great awakening in our churches—a season of refreshing from on high.

The healthy and most successful work of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, and the earnest efforts and warm and thoughtful aid of the Women's Auxiliary Societies may be a new departure, but it is a departure in the right direction. They are but in their incipency, and yet already so richly blessed, they fill our hearts with joy and gratitude, for we welcome them as the strong signs of God's blessing and the Spirit's presence and operation in the Church, and accepted as pledges of untold blessings still to come.

The Church, then, of Virginia is safe, is prosperous, is divinely blessed, continues true to her high vantage ground, is true and Apostolic—beloved of God. Let the past inspire the future. Separated we may be in name, divided into different separate bands, each marshalled by its own able and devoted head, yet we shall ever continue one in spirit and in love, be only so many parts of one great whole. The Diocese of Virginia may become smaller and smaller—first west, then South—and who knows in coming days how many more partitions and partings may take place, but the great province of Virginia will always remain, will continue to act as one with her many bishops, will for all time show to the Church the power of loyal hearts, knit together in simple faith, in earnest love, and in humble, child-like obedience to God, who doeth all things well.

May God forever bless all our Bishops, all our Clergy, and all our Laity, and keep Virginia as the apple of His eye.

For the Committee.

O. S. BARTEN, Chairman.

The Council then proceeded to ballot for four alternate Clerical Deputies.

Rev. E. L. Goodwin presented the report of the Committee on New Parishes.

Report of the Committee on New Parishes.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON NEW PARISHES.

The Committee on New Parishes respectfully report that they have had referred to them—

First. A petition from the congregation of St. Andrew's Church, a mission church in the parish of Henrico, praying to be admitted into union with the Council as an independent church with representation. The requirements of the Canons have been complied with, and the church is self-supporting. We respectfully recommend that the petition of St. Andrew's Church in Richmond be granted.

Second. A petition from certain members of Mt. Olivet Parish, Roanoke, asking to be set apart and constituted a separate and independent church of said parish, under the name of Christ Church. The requirements of the Canons have been complied with. The congregation is represented as being able to build a house of worship and support a minister. We therefore recommend that the prayer of these petitioners be granted.

Third. A petition from the congregation of Calvary Church, Ridley Parish, Culpeper county, asking that there be set apart from Ridley Parish so much thereof as is contained within the following bounds—to-wit: Beginning at Newman's Ford on Rapidan river, and running thence in an air line through Winston Station on the Richmond and Danville Railroad to the boundary line between Ridley and St. Mark's Parishes; thence with this line to a point where it meets the line between Ridley and Slaughter Parishes; thence with this line to Newman's Ford, the beginning; and that the same be attached to Slaughter Parish.

The Canonical provisions for dividing a parish, requiring three months' notice of the intention to apply for such division to be given to the Bishop and Vestry, have, it appears, been complied with.

The Canons make no provision for detaching a portion of territory, or a church, from one parish and joining it to another. But this has been done we believe, by the Council in the past, and we suppose it is competent for it to do so in this case. We therefore recommend that the prayer of the petitioners of Calvary Church, Ridley Parish, be granted.

In making this recommendation your Committee express no opinion as to any differences which may exist between a majority of this congregation and the rest of their parish. They make it because they think Calvary Church will be an element of weakness rather than of strength if it remains in Ridley Parish, while it may be strong and useful in connection with Slaughter Parish.

Your Committee would, however, earnestly deprecate this proposed action ever being urged as a precedent to encourage or to justify the division of our parishes, or changing their boundaries, on the motion of a small part thereof, or because of unfortunate disagreement between congregations or neighborhoods in a parish. Respectfully submitted,

E. L. GOODWIN,
For the Committee.

The petition of Christ Church, Mt. Olivet Parish, Roanoke, was granted.

Unanimously adopted.

Report of the Committee on Clerical Support.

Mr. John T. Harris, Jr., presented the Report of the Committee on Clerical Support.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CLERICAL SUPPORT.

The Committee on Clerical Support begs to report as follows :

They find from the JOURNAL that there are in the Diocese one hundred and forty parishes and two hundred and forty churches, from which they have received one hundred and thirty-one parish and church Treasurers' reports. Seventy-six churches report having rectories.

The following churches report having paid more to the rector than they promised: St. John's, Elizabeth City; St. Paul's, Hanover; Ritchie Memorial, Prince George, Meade Memorial, Chesterfield; St. Paul's and Grace, Prince William.

One hundred and fourteen report having paid in full.

The following failed to pay all that was promised :

St. Paul's, Albemarle	$ 23 00
Clifton Forge, Alleghany.....	30 00
St. Thomas', Bedford.....	5 00
Emmanuel, Fauquier.....	62 00

St. Paul's Roanoke.....	50 20
Emmanuel, Southampton.....	17 37
St. Paul's, Essex.....	10 00
St. John's, Essex.....	15 00

Your Committee finds that there are fourteen ministers in the Diocese who receive as salary less than five hundred dollars per annum. They regard this support as inadequate, and they earnestly urge that additional provision be made for the support of these clergymen. They also suggest that all the vestries throughout the Diocese so arrange the payment of the rectors' salaries that the end of the year will fall at the same time as the Church Year, and thus avoid much complication in the reports.

Christ Church, Winchester, Va., deserves special mention. From its report it appears that in addition to the full payment of the regular salary of the minister, insurance is carried upon the life of the rector amounting to $7,500. We urge all the churches whose financial strength permits to emulate in this regard the worthy example of Christ Church, Winchester.

JOHN T. HARRIS, JR., Chairman.

Resolutions, Motions, &c.

Mr. H. O. Clagett gave notice that at a meeting of the Finance Committee held this morning, and at their urgent solicitation, the Treasurer, Mr. James T. Gray, consented to withdraw his resignation, and asked leave to take that resignation from the table.

Consent was unanimously given by the Council, and the resignation was withdrawn.

Mr. Joseph Bryan presented the following :

Whereas, it is expedient that special provision be made to secure regular ministrations in the vacant churches of this Diocese in order that the comforts of our religion may be afforded to churchmen who would otherwise be without a pastor—

1. Resolved, That the Bishop is requested to combine, in such convenient association as he may deem wisest, two or more of the vacant churches of this Diocese, or to combine in such associations one or more vacant churches with an occupied church, regardless of parish lines.

2. When there is no vestry elected for any such vacant church, the Bishop is requested to secure the election in due form and order of a vestry for such church.

3. The Bishop is requested to recommend to the vestries of the several churches to be combined in the association, approved by him, of a minister to be the rector or minister in charge of each of said churches; and said minister shall receive such salary as may be approved by the Bishop, to be apportioned among the several churches of said association in such amounts as each church may agree to contribute.

Provided, that if, in the judgment of the Bishop, the several churches shall make a proper contribution to the salary of the minister the deficiency, if any, shall, upon the recommendation of the Bishop, be made up and paid by the Diocesan Missionary Society.

Provided further, the Diocesan Missionary Society shall be under no obligation to make any appropriation for any church which shall fail or refuse to accept the recommendation of the Bishop touching the association of churches herein provided for.

Rev. H. B. Lee moved to continue the Committee, with instructions to report to the next Council. Carried.

On motion, the Council adjourned to meet at 9 A. M. to-morrow.

NOTE.—The Convocations and Evangelists of this Diocese are requested to afford the Bishop all the information and assistance in their power in his effort to fill the vacant churches in this Diocese, and to sustain the ministers thereof.

Annual Report of the Virginia Female Institute.

SATURDAY, May 21st.

The Council met at 9 A. M. for Divine service. Morning prayer was read by Revs. L. R. Mason and C. B. Bryan.

Mr. W. W. Old offered the following :

Resolved, That the members of this Council hereby tender their hearty thanks to the rectors and officers of Epiphany Church, Danville ; to the members of the congregation and citizens generally of the city for their generous and overflowing hospitality to and arrangements for the comfort of its delegates ; to the members of the choir of Epiphany Church, and to the pages who have contributed their assistance during the session of the Council, and to the railroad and steamboat lines for their courtesies to the delegates in attendance ; and, in parting, we wish continued health and strength to the senior rector of this parish. May God continue to bless him and his people.

Carried unanimously.

Mr. T. C. Elder presented the Report of the Trustees of the Virginia Female Institute.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE VIRGINIA FEMALE INSTITUTE.

The Board of Trustees of the Virginia Female Institute beg leave to report to the Council that Mrs. General J. E. B. Stuart, Principal of this school, has recently made to the Board the annual report, giving an account of the condition of the school and its work during the current session, now very near its close. This report of the Principal is herewith submitted.

It appears there have been on the roll this session eighty-five boarders and thirty-one day pupils, making a total of one hundred and sixteen.

Quite a number of applications for the admission of boarding pupils had to be rejected for want of accommodations.

The health of the school has been good ; the deportment of the pupils excellent ; their application praiseworthy.

On the occasion of the recent visit of Bishop Randolph to Trinity Church, Staunton, twelve young ladies of this Diocesan Seminary were presented for confirmation. The Principal and her efficient corps of teachers manifest as much concern in respect to the moral and religious training of the girls under their charge as they do in respect to their application and progress in the different branches of secular learning.

Annual Report of the Virginia Female Institute.

Nor is the physical health and welfare of the inmates of the school neglected. The management and discipline are conducive to the preservation of health; and when a pupil becomes indisposed she receives the most considerate and kindly attention.

Daughters of clergymen of the Church are admitted on most favorable terms, and a certain number of other young ladies whose means are limited receive each year the benefits of this Institution.

The grounds are well kept and present an inviting appearance; the buildings are in thorough repair; and the debt on the property is being reduced. So from a business and financial point of view the condition of the Institute is greatly improved.

Indeed, when its affairs are viewed as a whole, it may justly be claimed to be in a prosperous condition.

The Principal again calls attention to the urgent need of enlarged accommodations, especially in the way of class-rooms and of a hall for public occasions. No one who has attended the commencement exercises of the Institute in late years can have failed to be impressed with the need of a more capacious and better appointed room for the accommodation of public audiences than the one now used for this purpose. The Institute is at present without means to make the suggested improvements that are so much needed.

No better place can be found in this Diocese, or perhaps anywhere in this section of our country, for the exercise of the benevolence of those persons of means who are interested in the education of girls at a church school than here at our Diocesan Female Seminary.

This Board can, without reserve or qualification, recommend to this Diocese and to the Church at large the Virginia Female Institute as a school worthy of the patronage and support of church people.

H. E. C. BASKERVILL, Chairman pro tem.

THOMAS C. ELDER, Secretary pro tem.

To the Board of Trustees:

I am reminded, by the Chairman of the Local Board, that the time is again at hand when my annual report must be made of the condition of your Diocesan school for girls—showing its status for the session now drawing to a close.

We have on our roll eighty-five (85) boarders and thirty-one (31) day pupils, with many States represented. Some fifteen or twenty who desired admission could not be received for want of room. My day school has not been quite so large as usual—a number of the older pupils having finished their scholastic work.

Annual Report of the Virginia Female Institute.

I have again this session had the daughters of seven clergymen, two of whom are again with me at little or no expense, and, in addition to these, I have, as heretofore, granted "Scholarships" to seven others.

Our work done by the pupils has been very good—some making a very high grade—and the conduct and general bearing of all under our care has never been better. Twelve (12) were presented to the Bishop for confirmation, and one was confirmed at her home in Charlottesville.

Notwithstanding the unusually trying winter, the health of our pupils has been good. We have had some sickness, but only in one or two cases did we for a few days use the room set apart as an infirmary. We mourn the loss of one from our midst. She was a delicate girl, and, after being with us only a few weeks, went home, and from acute and severe illness died rather suddenly a short time since.

Our buildings are in excellent repair, and the grounds are the admiration of all. We constantly regret, however, that some large-hearted and wealthy layman does not come to the front, and do for our school what is done for so many and what is so necessary—that is, add to its present well-built buildings a large and attractive hall. In order to have this, on a proper footing with other schools of the same character, it is, I may say, an absolute necessity, and I have more than once called the attention of the Church to it, yet with no effect. May we not be encouraged, this Council, by a renewal of the old interest in their school for girls, and see some active measures taken at once towards the early accomplishment of the work suggested.

Your aid and your prayers are asked for this your Diocesan school, that it may ever be worthy your truest confidence, and that God in His mercy may continue to bless it.

I am, very respectfully,

MRS. J. E. B. STUART.

Rev. Dr. W. H. Meade, from the Committee on the Episcopal Fund, reports the accounts correct and sustained by proper vouchers.

Rev. Dr. Dashiell offered the following :

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed to take into consideration the subject of the finances of the Diocese, and to make a division of the vested and other funds of the Diocese, as proposed in Resolutions 3 and 4 of the report of the Committee on the Division of the Diocese of Virginia.

The resolution was adopted, and following committee appointed:

Report of Committee on the Brotherhood.

Mr. James T. Gray, Mr. Charles E. Whitlock,
" Thomas Potts, " Joseph Bryan,
 Mr. John L. Williams.

Mr. L. M. Blackford offered the following :

Resolved, 1st. That this Council send its love to the dear children of the Church within the Diocese, and thank them for their Lenten contributions to our Diocesan Missionary work.

Resolved, 2d. That the Clergy (or, in vacant charges, Sunday-school superintendents or lay readers) be requested to communicate the foregoing acknowledgement to the children.

The resolutions were unanimously adopted.

Mr. L. M. Blackford presented the report of the Committee on the Brotherhood.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON THE BROTHERHOOD.

The Committee on the Brotherhood beg leave to submit the following report :

Two Clerical members of the Brotherhood—the Rev. Drs. J. Peterkin and R. T. Davis—have entered into rest since the last Council, but, at their earnest request, no assessment in behalf of their heirs will be made.

There is to the credit of the Brotherhood in the Citizens Bank of Richmond, $838.62, besides two six per cent. City of Manchester bonds of $1,000 each.

Your Committee of last year recommended, and the Council ultimately adopted, the report of the Committee (of which Colonel Skinner was chairman) in relation to improvement in the organization of the Brotherhood. Notwithstanding this, no action in pursuance of the resolutions has been taken, and since the resignation by Major D. N. Walker of the presidency a year ago, the organization has been without a head. We recommend that prompt and active measures be taken by the Board of Managers in Richmond to select a President, and otherwise to set in operation the reorganization already approved by the Council.

Respectfully submitted,

L. M. BLACKFORD,
W. W. OLD,
JOSEPH WILMER.

Additions to Proposed Hymnal.

The report was received, and its recommendation adopted.

Rev. R. A. Goodwin offered the following :

Resolved, 1. That the delegates of this Council to the next General Convention be requested to confer with the delegates of the Diocese of West Virginia to the same Convention, and with their aid and consent endeavor to have Canon 7, Title III of the Digest so amended that if at any time it may seem expedient to form a Federate Council in Virginia, the Diocese of West Virginia (which, till the time of the war between the States, was a part of the State of Virginia, and when this Canon was enacted, was part of the Diocese of Virginia) may be included in the same.

Resolved, 2d. That our Bishops be requested to further the same object in the House of Bishops.

The resolution was adopted by a vote of 58 to 27.

Rev. S. A. Wallis presented the following :

The Council of the Diocese of Virginia, sensible of the gravity of the changes in the Proposed Hymnal, set forth by the Committee on Hymnal Revision appointed by the General Convention, which would deprive the Church of many of its most valuable and best loved hymns, respectfully memorialize the General Convention that the following hymns contained in our present Hymnal, but omitted from the Proposed Hymnal, be retained and added to the said Proposed Hymnal set forth in 1889 by the Committee on the Hymnal appointed by the General Convention of 1886, and re-committed to a Hymnal Commission to report for final action at the General Convention of 1892 :

- 54. Sinners turn, why will ye die?
- 66. O, gracious God, in Whom I live.
- 86. Go to dark Gethsemane.
- 87. O, sacred Head now wounded.
- 93. I would not live alway.
- 115. Look, ye Saints, the sight is glorious.
- 163. To Thy temple I repair.
- 177. How bright these glorious spirits shine.
- 178. O, Lord, the Holy Innocents.
- 212. The gentle Saviour calls.
- 224. By cool Siloam's shady rill.
- 236. Jesus, I my Cross have taken.
- 249. Be still, my heart, these anxious cares.

 Additions and Omissions to Proposed Hymnal.

- 250. When gathering clouds around I view.
- 265. Fierce was the wild billow.
- 279. Christ is our corner-stone.
- 290. Ye Christian heralds, go proclaim.
- 318. Forth in Thy name, O Lord, I go.
- 372. To our Redeemer's glorious name.
- 378. Behold the Saviour of mankind.
- 380. When wounded sore, the stricken heart.
- 381. Come, ye sinners, poor and wretched.
- 391. Forever here my rest shall be.
- 398. How firm a foundation.
- 403. From every stormy wind that blows.
- 404. Prayer is the soul's sincere desire.
- 451. As pants the heart for cooling streams.
- 460. My God, how wonderful Thou art.
- 467. O for a heart to praise my God.
- 468. There is a fold whence none can stray.
- 471. Am I a soldier of the Cross.
- 480. Jesus, thy blood and righteousness.
- 485. Hark! hark! my soul.
- 508. The spacious firmament on high.
- 510. In Thee I put my steadfast trust.

General Convention is also memorialized to omit the two following from the Proposed Hymnal, not found in our present one :

- (1.) Thee we adore, O hidden Saviour, Thee; and
- (2.) We love the place, O God.

which is respectfully submitted.

unanimously adopted.

J. J. Clopton offered the following :

Resolved, That the Clerical and Lay Deputies of the Diocese to the General Convention be requested to use all their influence for the enrichment of the Hymnal in respect to children's hymns.

The resolution was adopted.

The motion to postpone was agreed to.

WILLIAM H. PALMER,
Treasurer Disabled Clergy Fund.

RICHMOND, May 2, 1892.

We have examined the securities and the receipts and disbursements of the Treasurer of the Disabled Clergy Fund, to this date, and find them to be correct.

CYRUS BOSSIEUX,

F. H. MCGUIRE,

I concur in the above report, except so far as the appropriation to a clergyman not canonically connected with the Diocese, which was not, in my opinion, within the provisions of the trust.

Rt. Rev. F. M. WHITTLE, D. D.,

MY DEAR BISHOP—I send in brief the following report of my work as Evangelist. The details have been so frequently repeated in our Church papers that it is unnecessary to give them again here.

The summary is—Number of counties visited, 28. Number of sermons preached, 187. Baptisms, 8. Marriages, 1. Funerals, 3. Amount of collections for Diocesan Missionary Society, $383.39. Expenses, $233.30.

There are six counties in my district (comprising forty counties) in which no Episcopal service, as far as I know, has ever been held.

Rt. Rev. F. M. WHITTLE, D. D.,
President of the Board of Trustees of the
Bishop Payne Divinity and Industrial School:

MY DEAR BISHOP—I respectfully report that the Divinity and Normal Departments of this Institution have been in constant operation during the past session. The results have been gratifying in some cases, and discouraging in others. We have had some pupils of good ability, but most with whom we have labored are not strong, so far as we have been able to discover, intellectually, morally or spiritually.

There will be four graduates (all girls) from the Normal Department to-morrow.

Miscellaneous.

Only one student of the Divinity School is ready for ordination to the diaconate, though four applied for the ordination. Neither the Professors nor the Bishop's Chaplains considered the other three sufficiently familiar with the English language to enter the ministry, though strenuous efforts in this direction have been put forth for four years or more.

There have been thirteen students in the Divinity School. One of these is a Methodist minister. There is one young man in the Normal School who expects to enter a Divinity School next session.

Three of our Divinity students will probably take priest's orders.

The matron, Mrs. Martha Payne, and the teachers of the Normal School have been faithful and energetic. Professor Spencer will present his report. Good progress has been made in the Sewing School. The students have done the work assigned them on the grounds.

I have endeavored to give instruction to classes in the Divinity School in Bible History and Introduction, Church History, Apologetics, Homiletics and Pastoral Theology.

In the Normal School, I have met the Senior class regularly, every day, for study in the Prayer-Book, Church History and Logic.

Respectfully submitted,

R. A. GOODWIN.

JUNE 14th, 1892.

To the President and Board of Trustees of the Bishop Payne Divinity and Industrial School:

GENTLEMEN:—I respectfully beg leave to report that during the past session I have taught the Normal School classes on the topics of Mental and Moral Science, and have taught the Divinity School classes in Latin and Greek (two grades each), Elementary Hebrew, Bible Introduction, Theology (two grades), Church Polity, and the Prayer-Book. I regret that there have been frequent interruptions in my work on account of sickness, and thankfully acknowledge the kind assistance of my colleague and Brother, Rev. R. A. Goodwin, and of two of our more advanced students, in supplying my deficiencies.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS SPENCER.

We desire to make a few statements by way of addition and explanation.

When we made our last report there were no organized churches, now there are three; there were six communicants, now there are over fifty; there was one Sunday-school with five teachers, now there are three with eleven teachers ; there was one Parochial school with three teachers and seventy scholars, now there are two with eighty-five scholars and eight teachers ; there were two candidates for orders, now there are three ; there were two presbyters under appointment, now there are four ; there were five workers all told, now there are nine.

Miscellaneous.

In Porto Alegre, since January, eight persons have been admitted to the Holy Communion, and regular collections have been taken. Latterly a Christian society, numbering seven young men and boys, has been formed. It is proposed to make this into a chapter of St. Andrew's Brotherhood.

In the city of Rio Grande do Sul, a small congregation was in June last transferred by the Presbyterian Board of Missions to our care. We stationed there our catechist, Senhor Vicente Brande. He preaches to the congregation under our oversight until a presbyter can be definitely assigned to that important charge.

Last December, at a place called Contracto, some twenty miles from Porto Alegre, eleven persons were, after careful examination, admitted to the Communion. Later, one of our catechists, Senhor Boaventura d'Oliveira, was permanently stationed there with his family. This church has now twenty-three communicants, a regularly elected vestry, and money contributed for extraordinary and current expenses. The Holy Communion is celebrated each month by presbyters from Porto Alegre.

In August of last year the Rev. L. L. Kinsolving, by order of the Society, left for the United States. At the same time a promising young man, Senhor A. V. Cabral, was received as catechist and future candidate for orders. In October, the mission was strengthened by the arrival of Rev. W. C. Brown and wife, Rev. J. G. Meem, and Miss Mary Packard. For awhile Rev. and Mrs. Brown and Miss Packard were stationed at Rio Grande ; but on further consideration, they all were in January of this year settled in Porto Alegre for the study of the language. These brethren have, however, all begun to work. Rev. Mr. Brown and Miss Packard teach regularly in the school, while the Rev. Mr. Meem makes frequent evangelistic tours into the country, either alone or in company with Senhor Cabral.

Miscellaneous.

ENGLISH SERVICES.—The Rev. Mr. Brown, during his stay in Rio Grande, conducted regular services in English on Sunday. These were largely attended. He also officiated at the marriage of the English consul. In Porto Alegre, since January, we have held at our house an English service each Sunday morning. These services have been attended by only three or four persons besides ourselves.

OUR NEEDS—We have written, making three requests of the Society.

1. That a Bishop be sent as soon as possible to visit this mission. We need to have our affairs set in order, our people confirmed, and our candidates ordained.

2. That funds be sent us sufficient to purchase a suitable mission-house. One of the finest houses and most valuable pieces of property in city can be bought just now for about ten thousand dollars. This is about half value, and its purchase would go far to make our mission a great power in this city and State.

3. That we might send two youths to be educated at the Virginia Seminary. Their names are Jose' da Rocha and Alfredo Dias; we have proven them and find them faithful. They are very anxious to preach the Gospel, and they are able to take a thorough education. We need greatly some native Brazilians educated and equipped on the American methods.

Messrs. C. H. Lee and Thomas Semmes have also continued their most useful work in Alexandria among the employees of the Richmond and Danville railroad. The building rented for this purpose has been handsomely refitted, furnished with hot baths and beds, and the reading-room kept supplied with the leading magazines, weeklies and dailies, all at a cost of more than $600.00. Services have also been held regularly, with a growing attendance and increasing interest.

Report of Executive Committee of Diocesan Missionary Society.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The Executive Committee of the Diocesan Missionary Society of Virginia respectfully report :

That up to the time of the organization of the Diocese of Southern Virginia they assisted sixty parishes and two city churches, served by forty-five ministers in the undivided Diocese of Virginia, in sums running from $50 to $300, besides several colored ministers, making an aggregate of between eight and nine thousand dollars. They also paid the salaries of two Evangelists, amounting to $3,000 per annum. Some of these ministers took charge of their work in the summer; two in the Diocese of Virginia have recently resigned and gone, one to a self-supporting Parish in Virginia and one to another Diocese; one Evangelist, Rev. James B. Funsten, resigned in the summer and took charge of Trinity Church, Portsmouth, and another, Rev. J. J. Norwood, is soon to take charge of Whittle Parish, Fauquier county, leaving but one Evangelist, Rev. Ev. Meade, in the field. When the Diocese of Southern Virginia was organized in November, 1892, the stipendiaries of that Diocese were turned over to the Diocesan Missionary Society of Southern Virginia, and a division of the funds in hand was made by the Treasurer, Mr. J. L. Williams, with the new Diocese. Of course our liabilities were diminished by these several causes, and the Treasurer has been able to meet all our engagements without borrowing. The amount received from Churches, Sunday-Schools, other children and individuals, in the Diocese of Virginia since the organization of the Diocese of Southern Virginia, according to the Treasurer's account, is about $6,000, of which the children gave about $1,800. We have in this Diocese twenty-five parishes and one city church, served by twenty two ministers, which receive aid from the Executive Committee Diocesan Missionary Society to the amount of $3,375 per annum. We have also one Evangelist, Rev. Ev. Meade, whom the Executive Committee have engaged for a year, from 1st January, 1893, at a salary of $1,500, and whom we think it important to keep in the field. There are also vacant parishes in Mathews, Middlesex, Essex, Westmoreland, Fairfax, Prince William, Fauquier and Hanover, most of which have heretofore been receiving help from the committee, and almost all of which will probably want help again as soon as they are supplied with ministers. Those that have become vacant in the last two or three years were helped by the committee to the amount of $1,200, and if all of them should be supplied with ministers we should certainly be called upon for at least $1,500; this, added to the Evangelist's salary makes $3,000; this added to the $3,375, now being paid out to the parishes, makes $6,375, besides which there are other incidental expenses, so that we ought to have, in order to do our work properly, at least $7,000 a year. As far as we know, I believe our stipendiaries and Evangelist are doing good and faithful work. None are receiving too much and some are receiving less than they ought to have, if we had it to give them. In some cases results seem to be small, but we cannot always measure work by results any more than we can expect as good a crop from poor land as from rich land.

We have again to express our thankfulness to God, and our obligation to the dear children, to their parents, teachers and friends, for the liberal contributions they have made to the cause of Diocesan Missions, and we again urge the importance of keeping up in the children in Sunday-Schools and in families the habit of giving to Missionary work in some form or other throughout the year; to enable them to do this, we urge the congregations to pay the necessary expenses of the Sunday-Schools, which in most cases will be small, and when they are greater, as in city schools, the ability of the congregation will also be greater. We should be glad to do something more for Foreign Missions and not only for our Mission in Brazil, but for the General Missionary work of the Church of the United States. We see no better way of doing this than through the children, and no better way of training the children who are to be the future men and women of the church, in the habit and the love of giving to the Lord. As to Evangelistic service, we believe that one Evangelist will do for the whole Diocese; visiting only the vacant churches. We believe that too much Evangelistic service tends to paralyze the churches, to make them indifferent about getting a minister and indifferent about giving to Diocesan Missions or any thing else. We believe, also, that if all the ministers of our several Conventions would pledge themselves to give one or two Sundays in the course of the year to vacant churches within their reach, they would help those churches, would help their own congregations by giving them the opportunity of hearing somebody else, and would help themselves by a little rest from sermon writing and pastoral work, and a little change of air and fare and society.

All which is respectfully submitted,

PIKE POWERS,
Secretary Diocesan Missionary Society.

MAY 17th, 1893.

Addresses were made by the Revs. G. W. Nelson, S. S. Ware, H. B. Lee, J. P. Tyler, and B. M. Randolph.

The offerings of the congregation were then taken up for the Diocesan Missionary Society, and the Council adjourned until Thursday at 10:30 A. M.

BISHOP WHITTLE'S ADDRESS.

The Bishop then read his address.

MY DEAR BRETHREN :

We are assembled in this Ninety-Eighth annual Council of our Church under circumstances greatly changed and very sad as compared with those of former years. Not only have several of our number been called to rest from their earthly labors, but one-half of our members, both clerical and lay, belonging now to a separate organization, will meet with us no more. While we can but rejoice at the growth and prosperity of our Church which seemed to make the formation of another Council necessary, we must all ever greatly miss and affectionately remember these beloved brethren, and deeply regret that we can no longer take sweet counsel with them and go to the house of God together.

The Council which met in Danville last year, by a large vote of both orders, cut off sixty-two counties of the State to form what is now the "Diocese of Southern Virginia." Being absent from the Council I did not feel at liberty to withhold my consent to the line adopted, although it seemed to me to be a remarkable and unwise one, as it was hard to see how, with one of the two bishops in each Diocese, there could be, on the whole, any increase of Episcopal services, while nearly all expenses were doubled. The action of the Council having been approved by the General Convention which sat in Baltimore in October, the division of the dear old Diocese of Virginia was completed and the Primary Council of the new Diocese was held under the provisions of the Constitution, in St. Paul's Church, Lynchburg, commencing November 23d, 1893. When the Council was duly organized I made a short address which I here repeat, because I desire that it may be placed on record in your Journal. That address was as follows:

"The Council being now organized and ready to proceed with its business, I have to detain you, dear brethren, while I perform a solemn and distressing duty.

"The time has come when I must declare with which of the two Dioceses into which the Diocese of Virginia has been divided I will cast in my lot for the future, and I ask first to be allowed to make a brief statement, which I desire may be entered on your Journal.

"For nearly twenty-five years I have stood in the closest official and other relations to the clergy of Virginia. During this quarter of a century I have been thus associated with perhaps not fewer than three hundred ministers in the Diocese. It would be strange if, during these years, some of my brethren had not often found themselves unable to approve of my official utterances and actions, and no doubt this has been the case. But I have the satisfaction of feeling assured that in none of them (with a solitary exception) have I excited by what I may have said or done any sentiment of personal hostility towards myself. On the contrary, all these beloved brethren (with the single exception which I have mentioned) in intercourse with me have invariably manifested their affectionate respect and confidence. And I may say the same of my dear brethren of the laity. I have gone in and out amongst them for all these years, and, so far as I know or believe, have never given offence to anyone, but have received from all the greatest kindness and consideration. I rejoice to be able to make this statement, and I do it with a profound sense of gratitude to God and of thankfulness to my brethren, while humbled by the consciousness of my own unworthiness. Whether I have reciprocated your feelings, or have shewn my appreciation of your conduct towards me, it is not for me to say. My whole past intercourse with you is a truer and better answer to this question than any professions on my part could be. And now it is unnecessary for me to add, that all the brethren of the old Diocese are alike dear to me, and it is equally sad to sever the ties which unite me to those on the one side of the dividing line or on the other. But I must choose, and for reasons and in view of existing circumstances which I need not mention, I decide to continue my connection with the Diocese of Virginia. For the new Diocese, and for each one of its members, Clerical and Lay, I can only earnestly invoke God's ceaseless and abundant blessings."

On concluding this address, and by request of Bishop Randolph, I announced to the Council that he elected to be attached to the new Diocese, and thereupon my connection with that Diocese was ended. All this as a matter of history. And I now proceed to give such information in regard to our own Diocese as I am required to lay before you.

In September, 1891, I was stricken down by sickness and since that time, until February last, have been unable to do anything out of my study, consequently there is but little work to report for the past year. But, by God's blessing, I am now so far recovered that I trust, while avoiding the excitement of public speaking, to be able to meet all the requirements of the Diocese for the future.

CHURCHES CONSECRATED.

1893, April 4th.—Olivet, Fairfax county, Rev. Samuel A. Wallis, rector. Rev. Drs. Packard and Suter, and Messrs. Moses H. Hunter and Carl E. Grammer assisted in the service, the latter preaching the sermon. This is a very pretty, commodious, and well-arranged building, erected in place of an old one and on a different and better site. It is in the parish and under the same faithful rector with the famous Pohick Church.

April 9th.—St. Luke's Chapel, Colle, Albemarle county. This is a pretty and appropriate little church in a poor and non-episcopal community, a few miles from Charlottesville, erected by the zealous efforts of Rev. H. B. Lee and a faithful band of lay helpers. Rev. Carter Page assisted in the service and preached.

April 10th.—Assisted by Rev. F. W. Neve, the rector, and H. B. Lee, the preacher on the occasion, consecrated St. Paul's Church, Ivy Depot, Albemarle county. This visit was a great and pleasant surprise. On my last, the church was one of the ugliest of brick buildings and badly constructed, but I now found it replaced by one of the most beautiful and comfortable rural edifices in the Diocese, and all accomplished in a short time by the indefatigable rector, sustained and aided by a like-minded people.

MINISTERS DECEASED.

It is my sad duty to report that three of our clerical brethren have departed this life during the past year.

The Rev. Richard Kidder Meade, son of the late Bishop Meade of Virginia, quietly passed away at his residence in Charlottesville, on the 17th day of November, 1892, in the eighty-first year of his age. He became rector of Christ Church, Charlottesville, (I think his only ministerial charge,) in the spring of 1836, and so continued until 1868, when he was obliged by the failure of his health to resign. He was a man of fine intellect, a good scholar and preacher, of deep and earnest convictions, modest and quiet in manners, and beloved by all who knew him. For many of the last years of his retired but useful life, he was the principal of the Piedmont Female Seminary, a successful school of high grade for girls. He gave two sons to the ministry of our church, Rev. Wm. H. Meade, D. D., and Rev. Frank A. Meade, who are both laboring in their native State.

The Rev. James S. Hanckel, D. D., of South Carolina, became the rector of Christ Church, Charlottesville, in 1868, and continued its able preacher and faithful pastor until his death, August 22d, 1892, in the 77th year of his age. On coming to Virginia, Dr. Hanckel, by his ability and beautiful christian spirit, soon won the admiration, love and confidence of his brethren, and they were ever ready to manifest their appreciation of his character and talents by electing him to places of importance and trust. He was always sent as a deputy to the General Convention, and was an able and faithful examining chaplain of the Diocese from the creation of that office until the close of his useful life. His death is a loss to the Church at large as well as to his family, congregation and Diocese, but we cannot doubt their loss is his own great and eternal gain.

The Rev. Thomas Grayson Dashiell, D. D., was born in Prince William county, Virginia, December 15th, 1830. He was ordained Deacon by Bishop Meade, July 14th, 1854, and Presbyter by Bishop Johns, June 16th, 1855. On his ordination to the diaconate he took charge of Cople Parish, Westmoreland county, where those of his old friends who remain, with their children and grandchildren, still bless the memory of his life and labors among them. He continued in his first charge until January, 1860, when he became assistant of St. James' Church, Richmond, and in 1866 started St. Mark's, in the same city, where by his fidelity, earnestness and zeal he gathered a large congregation. Declining health at length obliged him to give up the active work of his beloved church, and hoping to benefit or restore it, he sailed from New York, in January, for a warm Southern climate; but God had ordered otherwise, and he departed this life at Colon, Colombia, S. A., March 18th, 1893, in the sixty-third year of his age. Dr. Dashiell was, since May, 1863, or for nearly thirty years, the faithful, efficient, and accomplished Secretary of the Council. He was a man of godly character and life, and of great and varied abilities. There is no minister in the Diocese whose place, or I should rather say places—for he occupied a number of important and responsible ones—I think, will be found more difficult to fill. Surely, in view of the departure of three such brethren from among us, we may all beseech our heavenly Father to “grant us grace so to follow these blessed saints in all virtuous and godly living, that we may come to those unspeakable joys which he has prepared for those who unfeignedly love Him; through Jesus Christ our Lord.”

By the death of Rev. Dr. Dashiell, in March, the Diocese was left without a Secretary, and there were important matters to be attended to before his successor could be elected. The Canons make no provision for such an emergency, and I felt that the responsibility and duty of meeting it devolved on me. I therefore engaged Miss Mina Dashiell, a daughter of our late Secretary, who was competent, and had access to her father's papers, to perform the duties of the office. She has done so, I believe faithfully, and I respectfully suggest and request, as a simple matter of justice, that her father's salary be continued up to the meeting of the Council for her benefit.

The vacancies in the office of Examining Chaplains, caused by the death of Rev. Dr. Hanckel, and the connection of Rev. B. D. Tucker with the new Diocese have been filled, and the Board now consists of Rev. Sam'l A. Wallis, of Fairfax county, Rev. L. W. Burton, of Richmond, and Rev. Wm. M. Clark, of Fredericksburg.

I have received from Mr. H. C. Baskervill his resignation as a member of the Board of Trustees of the Virginia Female Institute.

The Rev. Jno. J. Norwood has resigned his office as evangelist or general missionary of the Diocese, which leaves only Rev. E. Meade in that field. The Diocese being so much diminished in size,

Bishop's Address.

Mr. Meade is equal to all its demands in this direction, but, in my judgment, it is very important that he should continue his work. Both he and Mr. Norwood have done good and faithful service during the past year. The division of the Diocese has left us with no young and growing towns, and with few fields of any kind for new church enterprises. But in sustaining and strengthening our many country parishes, we have our hands full of the most important missionary work. We cannot afford to allow these rural churches to languish or die. Not only is a large proportion of the growth of the city churches due to the accessions received from the country, but upon the latter must we chiefly depend to recruit the ranks of the ministry. In illustration of the truth of this statement, I need only mention that of about thirty young men in the Diocese now expecting to enter Holy Orders, nearly three-fourths come from the country, and only a little more than one-fourth from the towns and cities. I am glad to believe that our people generally take the same view of this subject, as is most satisfactorily shewn by the large receipts of our Diocesan Missionary Society during the past year.

The children of the Diocese also are nobly standing by their seniors. I do not know the exact amount they have given, but believe it does not fall short of that of former years. I here take occasion to thank them and bless them for myself and for you.

I wish to warmly commend to all our ministers and people our Diocesan Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Board of Missions, which meets annually with the Council. If our ladies generally would acquaint themselves with its object and work, I am sure it would soon lead to the establishment of a branch in every parish, a result which is very greatly to be desired.

The condition of the Diocese on the whole, is, in my judgment, favorable and encouraging, and there are many reasons why we should bless God for the past and take courage for the future. May we be Divinely guided in all our deliberations, and may we, dear brethren, ministers and laymen, return to our homes resolved more than ever before, by God's grace, to spend and be spent in His service.

REPORT OF TRUSTEES OF THE THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY AND HIGH SCHOOL.

Under the sanction of the Board of Trustees of the Theological Seminary and High School the following report is made:

An examination of the reports of the Professors shows commendable diligence on the part of the students in the Seminary in the prosecution of their studies.

The High School, in addition to its usual property, under the efficient management of its Principal has been the recipient of a scholarship “to be used forever for the support of a son of a Virginia layman.” This scholarship is the gift of Mr. George H. Byrd, of New York, in memory of his son Samuel Wyman Byrd a former student of the Institution.

Another benefaction, for which thanks have been tendered, is the offer of a handsome Commencement Hall, by Mrs. Laura C. Liggett, as a memorial to her husband, Mr. Hiram S. Liggett, of St. Louis.

The abstract from the Principal's report, hereto appended, with that of the Professors of the Theological Seminary, bears witness to the interest manifested in the religious prosperity of the School.

Respectfully submitted,

H. SUTER, Committee.

REPORT OF THE DEAN AND PROFESSOR OF THE ENGLISH BIBLE.

*To the Board of Trustees
of the Theological Seminary of Virginia :*

As Dean, he would report that the present session has been a successful one ; that the attention of the students to their studies has been satisfactory, and we trust the Holy Spirit has been with us.

As Professor of the English Bible, he would report that he has pursued his usual course of instruction with the middle and senior classes.

The Middle Class has studied the Psalms constantly, comparing the different versions, and referring to the Original, the Septuagint, and the Vulgate.

The Senior Class has studied carefully the more difficult books of the Old Testament—Job, Ecclesiastes, Daniel, and Ezekiel.

Both classes have paid special attention to the authorship and age of the books studied.

With the limited time at his disposal, he has endeavored to do all that he could in these important studies.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

JOSEPH PACKARD.

REPORT OF PROFESSOR OF SYSTEMATIC DIVINITY AND HOMILETICS.

*To the Board of Trustees
of the Theological Seminary of Virginia :*

The Professor of Systematic Divinity respectfully reports the following course of studies pursued in his classes during the current session.

The Junior Class, for part of the session reciting once a week, have studied Chadbourne's Natural Theology, and are prepared for their examination.

The Middle Class, reciting five times a week, have studied Butler's Analogy, and Knapp's Theology. The former they have finished, and are in review of the latter. To these have been added, for part of the session, two recitations in the week, on Mead's Supernatural Revelation, being an exhibition of this subject, with reference to its issues, as now up for discussion. With these, essays on topics of Systematic Divinity.

The Senior Class, with three recitations a week and the Wednesday evening exercise, have studied the Articles, with Brown and Boulton, and are now closing the review. They have, also, in Natural Theology, studied Hopkin's "Outline Man," and Homiletics, in Dr. Broadus' book, with exercises. I have also, to this class, given a course of lectures on Christian Ethics.

In connection with the Prayer Book, with lectures on Liturgics, they have studied Butler's History of its origin, formation, and progress; with references to the work of Blakeney on the same subject, also to that of Bishop Barry, especially as to its earlier material, and forms and arrangement. Along with the Revised Book, have been compared, rubically and doctrinally, those of earlier existence and authority.

Respectfully,

REPORT OF THE PROFESSOR OF GREEK LANGUAGE, &C., &C.

To the Board of Trustees

of the Theological Seminary of Virginia:

The Professor of Greek Language, New Testament Literature, Church Polity, and Pastoral Theology respectfully submits the following report:

The Senior Class has read in Greek, along with Ellicott's Series of Commentaries, Ephesians, Philippians, Colossians, the Catholic and Pastoral Epistles and the Apocalypse. They have also read, in the same way, twenty-one chapters of St. Luke's Gospel, with exegetical essays on the same. This completes their course in Greek. In the three years they have read the whole Greek Testament, with the exception of St. Mark, Philemon, the last few chapters of St. Luke, and perhaps a small portion of the Acts.

In Polity they have studied the three books of Hooker that bear on this subject. They have also studied Butler's Protestant Episcopal Doctrine and Church Unity, also Schaff's Companion to the Greek Testament. They are now studying Meade on the Pastoral Office, with parallel references to Bedell.

The Middle Class has read in Greek, with the same series of Commentaries and Beet on Romans, 1st and 2d Corinthians, Galatian's and Romans. They are now reading Hebrews. They also read, in class, frequent exegetical essays.

The Junior Class has read in Greek, with the same Commentaries, St. John and nearly all of St. Matthew, with parallel references to the other Gospels. They will finish St. Matthew and read 1st and 2d Thessalonians. This class also constantly reads exegetical essays.

In accordance with the request of the trustees he attends, at least once a month, the recitations of the Preparatory Department, and takes pleasure in reporting that the classes are efficiently and successfully taught.

REPORT OF PROFESSOR OF HEBREW, ORIENTAL LANGUAGES AND APOLOGETICS.

To the Board of Trustees

of the Theological Seminary of Virginia:

The Senior Class has read critically in Hebrew selected from portions of all the Prophets, analyzing the several books and studying carefully the periods and events of their ministries. The study of Hebrew Syntax continued, and special attention given to the development of Messianic prophecy.

The Middle Class has read eighteen Psalms critically, also selected portions of Proverbs, Ecclesiastes, Song of Songs, and Job, in connection with introduction to the same, special attention being given to the principles of Hebrew Poetry and their application. It has also studied Harper's Syntax.

The Juniors have read in Hebrew portions of Genesis, Exodus, Deuteronomy, and other Historical Books, mastering the elements of Hebrew Grammar and Accentuation, also the elements of Hebrew Syntax. The aim is to familiarize them with the entire range of Historical Hebrew, and for the final examination they are required to read it at sight. The Higher Criticism is thoroughly explained together with its most important application. The usual instruction in Apologetics is given supplemented by lectures.

REPORT OF THE PROFESSOR OF ECCLESIASTICAL HISTORY AND CANON LAW.

To the Board of Trustees

of the Theological Seminary of Virginia:

The Professor of Ecclesiastical History and Canon Law respectfully submits the following report:

The Senior class has studied and been examined upon the first two volumes of Perry's History of the Church of England, which cover the period down to the silencing of Convocation in 1717, A. D. Upon the history after that date lectures have been delivered, and the class has been assigned as parallel-reading the third volume of Perry, Ryle's Christian Leaders of the Last Century, Seeley's Later Evangelical Fathers, the Chapter on Methodism in Lecky's History of England in the Eighteenth Century, and Tullock's Religious Thought in Britain during the Nineteenth Century. The lectures are general discussions and criticisms of the successive phases of religious life, and are meant to be directive of investigation and private study. Each student is required to select for special study some one movement in the eighteenth or nineteenth century, as, for example, the Great Awakening of the Nineteenth Century, or the Evangelical Movement, or the Tractarian or Broad Church Movement, or Dörner's History of Protestant Theology, or some representative writer like Wesley, or Coleridge, or Whately, or Arnold, or Newman, or he may choose for special investigation the History of the Protestant Episcopal Church. In all cases the result of the investigation must be embodied in a satisfactory paper. The class has just completed the Canons of the General Church, and will be occupied until the close of the session with concluding lectures on English and American Church History, when there will be a general examination upon the whole period since 1717.

The Middle Class has studied and been examined upon the two volumes of Smith's Students' Ecclesiastical History, and is, at present, studying Fisher's History of the Christian Church, the Reformation period. It has read as parallel-reading Trench's Mediæval Church History, and the Apostolic Fathers. Special attention is paid in this year to the discussion and criticism of essays that are read by the class upon assigned topics.

The Junior Class has read and been examined upon Smith's Old and New Testament Histories, and half of the Acts of the Apostles in Greek, which last has been used as a basis for the discussion of the constitution, doctrine, life and worship of the Apostolic Church. The remainder of the session will be occupied with reading and criticising some of the early uncanonical Christian writings. Essays are read by the class on assigned topics. The parallel-reading assigned is the Apocrypha.

ABSTRACT OF ANNUAL REPORT TO TRUSTEES (1893).

Rt. Rev. F. M. Whittle, D. D., LL. D.,

President of Board of Trustees:

RT. REV. AND DEAR SIR:—As Principal of the Episcopal High School, I have the honor to submit the following report:

The whole number of pupils entered this session is eighty-three. We have never had any whose conduct was more satisfactory.

Two most gratifying indications of the esteem in which the school is held by surviving friends of former pupils have been afforded since the opening of the present year—gifts which will enure to its advantage and to that of sound learning long after all now connected with it have passed away.

Mr. George H. Byrd, of New York, has placed in the hands of the treasurer of the board, six thousand dollars, the proceeds of which are to be used forever for the support of a scholarship in the school, in memory of his son, Samuel Wyman Byrd, a student here in 1887-90, who died the Report of the Librarian.

17th of last September. The beneficiary must be the son of a layman of Virginia as it was in 1860.

The other benefaction is in the shape of a building, the need of which has been long keenly felt. Mrs. Laura C. Liggett, the widow of Hiram S. Liggett, of St. Louis, a student of the school in 1874-76, who died Christmas day last, proposes to erect here during the coming summer, as a memorial to her husband, a handsome commencement hall.

I cannot forbear expression of the hope that such enlightened liberality as has been displayed by Mr. Byrd and Mrs. Liggett may stimulate other friends of the school to imitation. For scholarships there is, of course, unlimited field; for additional buildings and buildings to take the place of unsuitable ones already here, abundant occasion.

The religious privileges of the school have continued as before and with even more than wonted encouragement. Devotional meetings Friday night in the school chapel have been kept up with great acceptance to the boys by Mr. Walter DeForrest Johnson, of the Seminary Middle Class, and the faithful pastoral care of the Rev. Prof. Kinloch Nelson, D. D., has been extended as before. To these gentlemen, as well as to my excellent corps of assistants, my grateful acknowledgments are due.

Two boys have been confirmed at home, and a class now under instruction await confirmation next month. Exclusive of the latter, the number of communicants is thirty.

Respectfully yours,

L. M. BLACKFORD.

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN.

To the Board of Trustees

of the Theological Seminary of Virginia:

During the past year the goodly number of seven hundred and fifty-four volumes (754) have been added to the Library. Of this number, one hundred and thirty-three (133) have been acquired by purchase; six hundred and twenty (620) are the gift of the widow of the Rev. Frederick S. Wiley, of New York, and one volume, entitled "Oliver Cromwell, by Geo. H. Clark, D. D.," of Hartford, Conn.—the gift of the author.

New and larger windows add greatly to the convenience and comfort of the building. The only improvement further needed is additional room for the daily increasing collection of new books.

Respectfully submitted,

J. J. McELHINNEY,
Librarian.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON DIVISION OF PROPERTY.

The Committee appointed by the Council at Danville last May to divide the vested funds of the Diocese of Virginia, as proposed in Resolutions 3 and 4 of the Committee on Division, beg leave to report:

On the 24th of April, 1893, in the Episcopal Room in Richmond, a meeting of the Joint Committee of the two Dioceses was held, there being

Mr. Potts, of the Committee appointed at the Danville Council, offered a paper showing the condition of the several funds, as reported by the Treasurers, making a total of $104,087.22, face value, of the bonds and stocks, and proposing that the funds be equally divided, each Diocese getting one half in kind of the several bonds, stocks and cash, basing the account on the appendix reported by the Committee on Division of the Diocese, showing the number of White Communicants in the old and in the new Diocese, namely, 9,464 in Virginia, and 9,120 in Southern Virginia, leaving out of the calculation the colored communicants. The Committee from Southern Virginia declined to accept this proposition, claiming under the report made to the General Convention, held in Baltimore, October, 1892, when final action was taken on the Division of the Diocese of Virginia, and signed by Rt. Rev. A. M. Randolph, as president, and Rev. Dr. T. G. Dashiell, as secretary, that the communicants as reported were as follows:

“ “ Southern Virginia, 10,696.

This report made no distinction between white and colored communicants, and the Committee from Southern Virginia claimed, under Resolutions 3 and 4 of the report on Division, a distribution of the funds on the basis of Communicants reported to the General Convention. Resolutions 3 and 4 are as follows:

3. “ That all vested funds of the Diocese of Virginia be divided between the two proposed Dioceses in the ratio of communicants in each, so far as such division may be found practicable and free from legal difficulties.”

4. “ That the title to the Episcopal residence, in the city of Richmond, be vested in the Diocese of Virginia, to be held and used for its purposes; provided, however, that said Diocese shall account for and pay over to the new Diocese its due proportion of the value of said property according to the number of its communicants at the date of division.”

After a full and free discussion of the subject, a large majority of the Joint Committee were of opinion that a division should be made on the basis of the report to the General Convention.

The gross amount of bonds, stocks, and cash, without going into a careful calculation of interest, as reported, was $104,087.22; this amount included Widows and Orphans, Contingent, Episcopal, Bruce, Disabled Clergy, Diocesan Missionary, and the Trustee Funds, the Episcopal residence in Richmond, and a vacant lot in the town of Manchester, but did not include the Brotherhood Funds.

Under the ruling of the Joint Committee, Virginia would get 46.156 per cent., say $48,042 49, and Southern Virginia would get 53.844 per cent., say

The following resolution was offered and adopted :

" It is agreed between the Committees appointed by the Councils of the Diocese of Virginia and Southern Virginia, that the distribution of the funds and securities held by the various Committees and Trustees of the old Diocese of Virginia, shall be made on the basis of the report made by the Rt. Rev. Alfred Magill Randolph, D. D., President of the Council of Diocese of Virginia, and Rev. T. G. Dashiell, D. D., Secretary, presented to the late General Convention in Baltimore, on which the Division of the Diocese of Virginia was made. The report referred to gives the number of communicants as follows :

For the Diocese of Virginia, 9,169,

" " " " Southern Virginia, 10,696.

(See page 42, proceedings of General Convention, 1892.)

" In accordance with these figures, we give to the Diocese of Virginia 46.156 per cent., and to the Diocese of Southern Virginia, 53.844 per cent. of the money and securities belonging to each fund. We appoint W. W. Old, Esq'r, of the Diocese of Southern Virginia, and Thomas Potts, Esq'r, of the Diocese of Virginia, to prepare a schedule of distribution of the funds of the various Treasurers, according to the foregoing agreement, and report the same to their respective committees.

" Further, the valuation of the Episcopal residence having been fixed at $7,000, and approved by the Committee of the Diocese of Southern Virginia, and the valuation of a vacant lot in Manchester, to be conveyed to the Diocese of Southern Virginia, having been fixed at $454.25, and approved by the Committee of said Diocese, it was agreed that in the foregoing schedule of distribution, the said real estate be treated accordingly."

A request was made in writing, by Messrs. Old and Potts, to the several Treasurers, for a full statement showing the condition of each security as to mortgage and rate of interest, so that a market value might be put on each bond and stock, before a final calculation could be made or a division arrived at. Only a few of the reports have been received, and the sub-committee are unable to give a final report as to the current market value of the several funds belonging to the Diocese of Virginia.

This report is made to the Council of Virginia for its action.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS POTTS, Chairman,

CHARLES E. WHITLOCK.

RICHMOND, VA., May 10, 1893.

Resolutions—Evening Session.

Resolved, (1) The resolution in a foregoing report of the Committee, to whom was assigned the Division of Vested Funds of the undivided Diocese, fixing the value of the real estate therein mentioned, and the proportion of the Diocese of Virginia and of Southern Virginia in the vested funds, according to the number of Communicants of the respective Dioceses, as provided for in Section 3 of the Resolutions adopted at the last Council for the Division of the Diocese of Virginia (page 5, of the Journal of 1892), and as reported to the General Convention, be, and is hereby approved.

(2) That a committee of three be appointed, with full power to carry the said division of funds and property into effect, on behalf of this Diocese, in accordance with said resolution.

Rev. H. B. Lee offered the following as an amendment:

Resolved. That the committee call the attention of the authorities of the Diocese of Southern Virginia to the fact that the change in the line, as first proposed by the committee, gives them an undue proportion of the funds, and that they be asked to correct it.

A motion was made to lay this on the table.

Carried.

The resolutions offered by the committee were then adopted.

The Chair appointed Messrs. Joseph Bryan, Thomas Potts and John L. Williams.

Council adjourned.

Carried.

Rev. R. A. Castleman, Chairman of Committee on Parochial Reports, presented the following :

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON PAROCHIAL REPORTS.

Your committee beg leave to report that they have received ninety-four reports from the parishes and missions; that the same are in better form than any of us have ever before seen; they suggest, as an improvement, that those who make out such reports duly endorse them on the back thereof and fold them in a business way.

The thanks of the committee are due to Mr. Woolnough, of Albemarle, a member of last year's committee, who gave them type-written forms for tabulation, which greatly facilitated their work. They suggest that the Secretary provide each year such forms, which take only some six pages of legal cap, and would much relieve this committee in their arduous work.

Rev. L. W. Burton presented the following report on Sunday-schools :

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON SUNDAY-SCHOOLS.

The germ or unit in a Sunday-school is a teacher and a scholar. The most important questions that can arise with reference to this unit are the fitness of the teacher and the method of instruction. The responsibility of answering both these questions rests with the Rector. In most parishes he has no problems that are more perplexing.

The absolute essential to the fitness of a teacher is love for Christ. The Lord solemnly impressed that fact upon Peter.

Your committee have considered the question how to deepen the personal religion of a teacher. They know no better means than for the Rector to meet his teachers monthly, in what may be called a Teachers' Prayer-meeting. Where a school is not followed immediately by a church service, this prayer-meeting could be held briefly after the session of the school. In other cases the Teachers' Prayer-meeting might follow the church service itself. Where a Wednesday-night service is held, the prayer-meeting would best follow it.

Where a weekly Teachers' meeting for the study of the lesson is impracticable, it is possible to adopt such a method of instruction as will supply the place of these meetings. This can be done by putting into the teachers hands a book like "Lessons on the Gospels," by Misses Soames and Cawthorn, or Watson's "Lessons on the Gospel," both published by the Church of England S. S. Institute. Eugene Stock's "Life of Christ" is a similar book for older classes. Watson's book is the simplest of the three, and contains separate lessons for intermediate and primary classes. In these books the material for instruction is prepared for the teacher, but in such a way as to compel the teacher to study the lesson. There can be none of the perfunctory work possible, as under the system of books and leaflets containing alternate questions and answers.

It is necessary to put these books into the hands of the teachers only. The cost of the books is not large. For the children a card can be prepared on the basis of the book adopted. This card will contain, in successive columns, the date, the Sunday of the Church Year, the passage of Scripture appointed for that day's lesson, the place of a text to be learned, and the assignment of a portion of the Catechism to be memorized. A card six inches square will contain the material for a year, and in addition, a brief appeal to parents to co-operate with the school by requiring the children of the family to read over the passage of Scripture, and to learn the text and portion of the Catechism assigned. Bibles, of course, will be distributed among the scholars while the school is in session.

A member of your committee has had this system in practical use for six years and more. It has had the severest test by being applied to nearly fifty classes of different grades; some of them in the parent school, others in missions in different kinds of neighborhoods, one of the missions being a colored Sunday-school. In other words, the one set of books and cards is in joint use by all the schools of his church, except in the primary or infant classes. In all this time there has been no complaint of the system by the teachers. The scholars have done more studying at home than was ever before accomplished in those schools. Such a book as those of Misses Soames and Cawthorn, and the Rev. Mr. Watson, will, under this system, continue interesting for two years each. The texts to be learned can be varied each year. In the schools above referred to, the teachers expressed a desire to return to the use of "Lessons on the Gospels," by Misses Soames and Cawthorn, after an interval of some four years. Thus expense is saved. The Church Catechism, under this system, is gone through twice a year. Interest in the system has been quickened by having the whole school recite the text to be learned and the portion of the Catechism assigned. The boys and the girls alternate in reciting the place and the words of the text, and then the question and the answer in the Catechism.

Your committee have felt that some such practical recommendation as the above, on some one feature of the work, would be more useful than to attempt to theorize and deliver exhortations upon the whole of the very large subject of the Sunday-school.

Your committee are unable to make any use of the figures referring to the Sunday-school in the parochial reports, because, as this is the first year after the division of the Diocese, we have as yet no basis of comparison.

Report of Committee on Memorial of James River Convocation, &c.

Rev. L. W. Burton, from Special Committee on Memorial of James River Convocation, reported as follows :

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON MEMORIAL OF THE JAMES RIVER
CONVOCATION WITH REFERENCE TO VACANT CHURCHES.

As your committee understand this memorial, it seeks to bring before the Council such combinations of adjoining parishes under a joint rector, as have been accomplished within the bounds of the Convocation, and as now exist in the ministries of Rev. S. S. Hepburn, in Hanover and New Kent, Rev. Martin Johnson, in Powhatan and Goochland, and Rev. W. W. Brander, in Fluvanna, Cumberland, and Buckingham. Your committee have also had in mind this whole subject as brought before the last Council of the undivided Diocese. In the first place, your committee recognize some such plan as not only the best, but also the only possible plan for supplying the vacant churches with services under the existing circumstances of diminished population and revenue.

But, in the second place, they would remind the Council that such a combination can only be accomplished by loving persuasion. Even were our organic law different from what it is, churches could not be effectively combined except by their own volition. Your committee would deprecate even the appearance of threatening, and we deem it unwise to ask the Council to bind or hamper the Executive Committee of the Diocesan Missionary Society in any way.

In the third place, we believe the persons best fitted by position to bring about the desired combination of vacant parishes under joint rectors, are the Bishop of the Diocese, the Secretary of the Diocesan Missionary Society, and the Evangelist. By personal interviews with the vestries and congregations concerned, they will be able to overcome the various obstacles to combination that exist in the minds or circumstances of the people concerned. Your committee think that the Council may safely entrust this subject to them, to carry out its ideas as occasion demands or opportunity offers.

It will perhaps be safest to state that this plan suggests not the slightest sacrifice of legal rights or prerogatives now vested in the parochial authorities. The parishes are to retain their individuality and autonomy. It is only participation with other vacant churches or parishes in the call and services of a joint rector that is aimed at.

Your committee recommend the following resolution :

Resolved, That the Bishop of the Diocese, the Secretary of the Diocesan Missionary Society, and the Diocesan Evangelist, be a Committee on Vacant

Annual Report of the Virginia Female Institute.

Churches, and that they be respectfully requested to supply vacant churches by this plan so far as necessary or practicable.

LEWIS W. BURTON,
H. B. LEE,
CARTER PAGE,
DAVID MEADE,
J. C. COOKE,
Committee.

The report of the committee was received, and the resolution was adopted.

Rev. John K. Mason, D. D., moved that the Ninety-ninth session of this Council be held in St. James Church, Richmond.

Carried.

Rev. Dr. Suter offered the following, which was adopted:

WHEREAS the funds of the Theological Seminary of Virginia, because of the many and necessary needs of the Institution are not sufficient to meet the demands upon them. And whereas the interests of the Church in Virginia, as well as elsewhere, are all intimately connected with the life and proper equipment of the Seminary, therefore—

Resolved, That the clergy are earnestly requested to remember the resolution in behalf of its endowment, passed at the last Council in Petersburg.

The following report of Mrs. J. E. B. Stuart, Principal of the Episcopal Female Institute, was then read by the Secretary:

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE VIRGINIA FEMALE INSTITUTE.

STAUNTON, VA., May, 1893.

BISHOP F. M. WHITTLE,
President Board of Trustees,
Virginia Female Institute:

At the meeting of the Board, or of such members as were present, I made a full report of the condition of the school, referring more particularly to its financial status.

The Board expressed entire satisfaction with the present management, and endorsed my appeal for help towards the erection of an addition to the present buildings. It is hard to feel I have only "the endorsement," when the actual and material aid of the Diocese should be given. I therefore appeal once more to the Presbyters and Laymen here assembled for such contributions as should be expected from the old Diocese of Virginia. My earnest desire is to see this work accomplished by June, 1894, when we reach our fiftieth anniversary.

No large gift is looked for, yet in the two Dioceses the $20,000 can be made up if two thousand persons will give $10 each. Let this be considered seriously and each one give something, and at once!

The Bishop has copies of my circular for distribution. These have been sent to personal friends and former pupils. In response, I have already received several sums, the first one from a member of the Presbyterian Church.

The school this session has done the usual amount of faithful work, and the general bearing of the pupils has been excellent.

I have given Scholarships (that is free tuition in English) to fourteen (14) boarders, and to three of these, board, &c., in addition. Among them are six who are daughters, or grand-daughters of Clergymen

The health of the school has never been better, notwithstanding the severe winter, and prevalence of colds, and other diseases in our city.

The Confirmation class numbered thirteen (13); of these, nine (9) were confirmed in Trinity Church, two in their own churches in Virginia, and two to present themselves to their respective Bishops on their return to their homes in North Carolina and Tennessee.

Having renewed my lease of the school for another term of years, I have secured such assistance as will satisfy the most exacting; each department having at its head an able and experienced teacher.

Let me ask for an increase of patronage from our own people, and thus be sustained in a work of great labor and responsibility, second to none in the proper training of the daughters of the South.

With a feeling of truest loyalty to the Old Diocese, give me your prayers and your support.

Very respectfully,

MRS. J. E. B. STUART.

Mr. Rosewell Page made report of Committee on Elections, as follows:

There has been no business referred to this committee.

Respectfully submitted,

J. J. NORWOOD,
ROSEWELL PAGE.

Rev. Dr. Nelson offered the following:

Report of Committee on Clerical Support.

Resolved, That a committee of two clergymen and two laymen be appointed to confer with the proper authorities of the Diocese of Southern Virginia, with reference to the joint control and management of the Virginia Female Institute.

Carried.

The Chair appointed the following as the committee:

Rev. J. B. Newton,

Mr. F. H. McGuire,

" J. K. Mason, D. D.,

" J. Alston Cabell.

Moved by the Rev. L. W. Burton :

That a committee of three be appointed by the Chair to draft resolutions in memoriam of the long, faithful and efficient services of the Rev. T. G. Dashiell, D. D., as Secretary of this Council.

Carried.

The Chair appointed Revs. L. W. Burton, John B. Newton, and Mr. Joseph Bryan.

Mr. F. H. McGuire, of Committee on Clerical Support, made the following report:

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON CLERICAL SUPPORT.

The Committee on Clerical Support submit the following report :

From the sixty-six parishes and one hundred and twenty-six churches and chapels shown by the last Journal to be in the Diocese, only ninety-four reports of church treasurers have been received, and of that number only seventy-four are substantially complete. It is manifestly impossible to base an accurate report, or deduce satisfactory results from such imperfect data. But forty churches report rectories, while in the knowledge of members of the committee, a number of others own them. Many of the reports fail to answer a very important enquiry, viz : whether their churches own rectories or not, and if not, whether steps are being taken to get them. The committee calls attention to the laxness of treasurers in making their reports, and urges more attention, and painstaking attention, to the matter in the future. An order of this Council exists, directing that parishes failing to report shall be returned and published as delinquent. Your committee have not carried out their part of this order in view of the recent death of

Report of Committee on Diocesan Missionary Society.

Dr. Dashiell, the late efficient Secretary of this Council, which event may have occasioned some confusion in the receipt or forwarding of these reports.

From the reports received we find that the following churches have paid to their rectors larger salaries than promised, viz: St. Margaret's Chapel, Caroline; Grace Church, Trinity Church, and Whittle Chapel, Fauquier; St. Paul's, Hanover; St. Stephen's, Fauquier; St. Paul's and Grace Churches, Prince William; Christ Church, Fairfax; and Christ Church, Orange. The following failed to pay all promised, and show the following deficits, viz: St. Timothy's, Fairfax, $68.52; Olivet, Fairfax, $17.02; Emmanuel, Fauquier, $12.50; St. John's, Louisa, $47; Abingdon, Gloucester, $36; Moore Memorial, Henrico, $250; Wicomico, Northumberland, $6.40; St. John's, Albemarle, $34.67; and Vawter's and St. Matthew's, Essex, $32.70. The remaining churches from which reports were received, reported salaries paid in full. Without going into detail, your committee deem it proper to call attention again to the lamentably poor provision made for many of our clergy, and without disparaging the efforts now made in the weaker parishes to pay ministers resident there, the committee appeals to the church, and especially to the laity of the church in the Diocese, to renew their efforts everywhere to increase the salaries paid to their faithful men. In this direction and because they deem it the best form of endowment fund, your committee earnestly urge upon all vestries and congregations to take immediate steps to secure rectories where they are not now owned by the churches. This subject has had, before now, the earnest consideration of this Council, as is shown by the questions above adverted to, and required to be answered in each year's treasurer's report, viz: whether the church owns its rectory, and if not, whether it is taking steps in that direction. That the subject be kept fresh in the minds of all the members of the church, and that answers to these enquiries be hereafter insisted upon, and made full and specific, is, in the judgment of your committee, of prime importance.

Respectfully submitted for the committee,

F. H. MCGUIRE, Chairman.

Rev. G. W. Nelson submitted the following report:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON DIOCESAN MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The Rev. G. W. Nelson, Chairman of the Committee on the Treasurer's Report of the Diocesan Missionary Society, reported that they were unable to reconcile the vouchers and the accounts. And on motion of the Rev. B. M. Randolph, the papers were referred to the Executive Committee of the Diocesan Missionary Society, and Mr. Wm. M. Archer, to confer with the Treasurer, and prepare his report for publication in the Journal.

Motions, Resolutions, &c.

RICHMOND, VA., May 31st, 1893.

Having been appointed by the Executive Committee of the Diocesan Missionary Society a sub-committee to examine the report to the Council by the Treasurer of the Diocesan Missionary Society, we have done the same, and find that the explanations of the Treasurer make the report clear, and that everything is manifestly correct.

LEWIS W. BURTON,
PIKE POWERS.

On motion of Rev. Dr. Powers, it was—

Resolved, That the action of the Bishop, in authorizing the Treasurer of the Council, the Treasurer of the Diocesan Missionary of Virginia, to pay over to the Diocese of Southern Virginia certain sums necessary to the expenses of the Diocese of Southern Virginia till the meeting of their Council, be hereby approved.

Carried.

Rev. John K. Mason, D. D., offered the following :

Resolved, The Rectors of the various parishes of this Diocese be and are hereby earnestly requested to take up each year a special collection for the Diocesan Church Home in Richmond.

Carried.

Mr. Thomas Potts moved that the order of places for meeting of Council be printed in the Journal as follows : Richmond, Charlottesville, Alexandria, Fredericksburg, Winchester.

Carried.

On motion of Mr. Thomas Potts—

Resolved, That the Treasurer be authorized to pay the rent of the Episcopal room in Richmond as heretofore.

Carried.

The following petition was presented by Mr. Thomas Potts :

Report of Committee on the Brotherhood.

RESOLUTION of MAY 2, 1893—WILLIAMSBURG, VA.

We, the Vestry of Bruton Parish, respectfully request the Council of Virginia to assent to having the lines dividing the Diocese of Virginia and Southern Virginia so altered as to retain in the former Diocese the counties of "York" and "James City," as it is the unanimous desire of the Vestry, communicants and citizens, that these counties should remain in the Diocese of Virginia.

J. D. MONCURE,

H. T. JONES,

J. L. HALL.

Committee of Vestry.

On motion of Rev. Dr. K. Nelson—

Resolved, That the Council gives it consent to the petition of Bruton Parish, Williamsburg, and that the Secretary of this Council be instructed to notify the Secretary of the General Convention that such consent has been given.

Report of Committee on the Brotherhood was presented by Prof. James M. Garnett, with a resolution that a Board of Managers be appointed, which was passed:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON THE BROTHERHOOD.

The Committee on the Brotherhood respectfully submits the following report:

During the past year four members of the Brotherhood have died, Rev. J. S. Hanckel, Rev. C. J. Gibson, Rev. R. K. Meade, and Rev. T. G. Dashiell. The committee has not been able to secure any statistics showing the amount collected for the families of these deceased brethren.

The report of the Treasurer, already submitted to the Council, shows that the invested funds consist of four (4) city of Manchester six per cent. bonds of $500 each, equal to $2 000, and there is to the credit of the Brotherhood in the Citizens Bank of Richmond, $806.17.

Since the resignation of the President, Maj. D. N. Walker, in 1891, the Brotherhood has been without an official head. Miss Mary Woodbridge is now the Secretary, and Mr. Cyrus Bossieux the Treasurer.

The committee ascertains that no action has ever been taken on the report of the Committee on Affairs and Organization of the Brotherhood, which was adopted by the Council, and will be found in the Journal of 1891, page 91. The committee therefore recommends the adoption of the following resolution:

Managers of the Brotherhood.

Resolved, That the Bishop be requested to appoint the Board of Five Managers provided for in the said report, in order that the new organization of the Brotherhood may be put into practical operation.

The committee also considers it desirable that a President of the Brotherhood be appointed as soon as possible. It is manifest that the affairs of the Brotherhood need the hand of an efficient officer. The parochial reports show that in 1890 there were 498 members; in 1891, 420; in 1892, 352. for the whole Diocese; and the parochial report of 1893, just read, shows 210 members for the present Diocese. This emphasizes the necessity for a speedy increase in the number of members of the Brotherhood. The payment of $1.10 by each of 210 members, furnishes a very insignificant sum for the family of a deceased clergyman. Up to 1890, $33,561 had been distributed among the families of thirty-five clergymen, giving an average of near $1,000 a piece. (See Journal of 1890, page 95.)

The committee has been unable to secure statistics showing the gradual decline, but the result is painful, for unless there is a very decided increase of membership, each family of a deceased clergyman in this Diocese will hereafter receive but $231. This result also shows the importance of prompt action in accordance with the report adopted by the Council in 1891, which recommended a better system of contributions. The duty and privilege of the laity to aid the families of deceased clergymen are too evident to require comment. A large and well arranged Brotherhood would prove a more efficient organization for this purpose.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES M. GARNETT,
JOHN P. MCGUIRE.

The Bishop appointed the following as Managers of the Brotherhood: Messrs. John F. Glenn, B. B. Valentine, Thomas L. Alfrience, F. H. McGulre, J. Alston Cabell.

Rev. Dr. Nelson offered the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That this Council extends its most cordial thanks to the good citizens of Winchester for their hospitality; to the rector of Christ Church, Winchester, and the committee of hospitality for their admirably planned and executed arrangements, and to the pages for their ready assistance in transacting the business of the Council.

Rev. L. W. Burton offered the following report in regard to Dashiell's death, which was adopted:

Report of Committee on State of the Church.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON REV. T. G. DASHIELL'S DEATH.

WHEREAS, the divine Head of the Church has seen fit, in his wise providence, to remove from his ministry in the Church Militant on earth our dear brother, the Rev. T. G. Dashiell, D. D.—therefore, be it

Resolved, That we desire to put on record our deep sense of loss, in view of his faithful and efficient performance of the duties of Secretary of the Council of Virginia for more than a quarter of a century.

Resolved, That we assure his afflicted family and bereaved congregation of our sincere sympathy, and earnestly commend them to the comfort of God.

LEWIS W. BURTON,
JOHN B. NEWTON,
JOSEPH BRYAN.

Rev. Carl E. Grammer read the following report of Committee on State of Church :

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE STATE OF THE CHURCH.

The Committee on the State of the Church respectfully submit their report :

The division of the old Diocese of Virginia, which has been completed since our last Council, makes the task of your Committee somewhat different from that of their predecessors. There are no statistics of the State of the Church a year ago, in this section of the old Diocese, compiled in such a form that they can be readily referred to. And even if they were at hand there are many reasons why comparisons might prove misleading. Our situation calls for an estimate of our resources, and a pointing out of our possibilities, opportunities, and lines of development, rather than for a calculation of the rate of our progress. We are in many respects a new Diocese, and we can only understand the new career that opens before us by studying carefully our present conditions.

The first feature of our new-old Diocese that strikes us, is that we still have a large missionary field in our own borders. It is true that the chief weight of the work among the colored people has fallen upon the other Diocese—a circumstance by the way which ought to make us emulous to do our less difficult work with the greater zeal. It is true too that we have a general sense of a narrower horizon, and of a loss of inspiration and incentive, now that the Convocations of the Southwest no longer present the needs of their great region; but there is still left within our own borders a work that calls for all the former zeal of our people for the cause of Diocesan Missions—and that has many elements of inspiration. The Tide-water counties cry aloud for the ministrations of our Church. They appeal not to a sentiment however romantic, but to our sense of responsibility for the spiritual training and guardianship of the children of our own household. At the same time they are able to point to the fact that all work done in the Tide-water country is amply repaid by the large number of the young men of that section who take Orders. Tide-water Virginia does nobly in sending men into the ministry, and our Missionary Society could not do a better work than by putting ministers, at almost any cost, in the vacant parishes in that region. The mountain parishes also call for care, and there is much to be done for these people at our doors. The Diocese of Virginia has still a great Diocesan Missionary work. The children of the Sunday-school, who have done so well, must not be allowed for one moment to lose interest.

But even if they should give much more than heretofore, we could not hope to fill all the vacant parishes. The true remedy is for contiguous, feeble parishes to unite in the support of a minister. If this were done an adequate salary could be offered and a minister could be secured and retained. Moreover the minister being freed from any undue anxiety about his support would be able to render more acceptable service. Such an arrangement would conduce to longer and more fruitful pastorates, and is apparently the only feasible method of providing for our vacant parishes. Your Committee suggest that the Diocesan Missionary Society labour to bring about such combinations, and that, in cases where the Bishop and Executive Committee advise such an arrangement, any grant of aid be denied to a parish that refuses to be guided by their counsel.

It is pleasant, at this time when the sense of separation is forced upon us by the absence of accustomed faces, and the loss of former counsellors and friends, to note that unifying influences are busily at work. For, indeed, this is one, and an important, aspect of the work of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, the admirable Christian Social Union, the Woman's Auxiliary and the Girls' Friendly Society and other guilds. Efficient as are these organizations for their special work, they are also powerful to bind us to the whole Church, and to make us realize that we are parts of a larger society. It is, indeed, one of the features of the present state of the Diocese, that the life of the Church without is pressing in upon us. In the past, from various causes, the Diocese of Virginia was a world to itself, with its own ideals of worship, of the ministerial character and of the Christian life, in brief, with its Virginia Churchmanship. But in recent years the walls that separated us from others have become lower. There has been a large migration into our Diocese of people from other regions, who bring with them other ecclesiastical traditions. Our own people, by travel and in other ways, are brought more and more closely in contact with the Church life beyond our borders. On every side and in countless little ways we are reminded of our organic and vital connection with other Dioceses, and our fraternal relationship with the Anglican Communion throughout the world.

This is a feature in the State of the Church that is worthy of the most careful consideration. To some it may seem a matter of unmixed regret. But while the loyal and affectionate feeling, that is at the root of this disposition, may excite our admiration, and at least calls for respectful consideration, it is none the less true that it would be exceedingly unfortunate if this attachment to the past should prevent us from adapting ourselves to new conditions, and from learning any new lessons. A Diocese can never be too old to learn, and no past can be so great that it can set the unchangeable mould in which all our future life must run.

On the other hand there are, of course, great dangers in all transitions. In seeking for new methods and adopting new ideals we may lose some of the precious lessons of our experience, and fail to preserve and use the special charisma, the special gracious gift, that God has bestowed upon us. It is, indeed, quite possible that our Virginia Churchmanship is not without spot or wrinkle, or any such thing; but it is nevertheless true that it would be a great loss not merely to ourselves, but to the whole Church, if the type should be destroyed. The improvement and not the obliteration of the type should be our object.

It is, however, no easy task to separate what is essential or important from the unimportant, merely external and incidental characteristics of our life, worship and doctrinal system. Piety must here be supplemented by learning and trained intelligence. The ministers must be men of generous culture and thorough theological training. In our present state it may safely be said that one of our prime duties is to see to it that our candidates for the ministry receive a collegiate training before entering upon their theological studies. The Presbyterians and Lutherans have long done this, and the custom is steadily growing among the Methodists and Baptists. Our own Church has too great a responsibility in the character of its membership and in the sympathetic attitude that it has always maintained toward the demands of culture to be able to lag behind. The momentous questions which are convulsing at the time we are meeting the General Assembly of a sister church are bound to come upon us. The advance ripples of the great tidal wave that is moving down upon us has already reached our shores. Now, if ever, it is our duty to do all that we can to spread sound doctrine, to train up scribes instructed unto the Kingdom, and to lay broad and deep the foundation of our beliefs. All that is true in the New and all that is true in the Old unite in calling for progressive methods of training and for constant study on the part of the ministry.

It is with pleasure that we notice in this connection the enlargement that has taken place in the Southern Churchman. No one can estimate the value of that paper, not only to our Diocese, but to our whole Church.

The work of the Protestant Episcopal Review, also, it seems to us, has claims upon the support and consideration of the Diocese.

No view of the State of the Church would be complete that did not mention with gratitude to God, for his answers to our prayers, the improved health of our beloved Diocesan. It is a matter of devout thankfulness that he has been restored to his Council and to his work.

The importance of his office cannot be readily over-estimated. Our Church is so constituted that the vigor of our efforts to gather in the wandering and unconverted largely depends upon the frequency and regularity of his visitations. He must be a careless minister, indeed, who does not feel a solemn responsibility laid upon him by the announcement of an Episcopal visitation for the purpose of administering the rite of Confirmation. No one can tell how many a wavering and delaying soul has been brought to a decision by the necessity for immediate determination laid upon it by such an opportunity. We are certain that the Bishop feels this most deeply. The record of his visitations this spring shows how earnestly and diligently he has labored in this great work. Your committee cannot, however, repress an expression of solicitude. It is a painful thing for us to contemplate the possibility that he may be endangering his health and even shortening his life by over-exertion. We are sure that he estimates too lightly our care for him and our appreciation of the value of Episcopal visitations, preaching, and exhortations, if he shrinks from any fear of laying too great a burden upon a small Diocese from asking for an assistant.

So far as your committee can estimate it the general record of the year calls for great thankfulness. God, who has so wonderfully manifested his goodness to this Diocese, has protected us, and been unto us both as a sun and a shield. For the good examples of the godly men who have been taken from us we give Him hearty thanks. May He grant us grace to follow them in all virtuous and godly living. May he raise up unto us men who may carry on their work in their spirit and to the glory of the Master whom they served.

REPORT

Of the Board of Managers of the Widows' and Orphans' Fund of the Diocese of Virginia for the Fiscal Year ending May 11, 1893.

The managers beg leave to report that the income for the past year from contributions of individuals and churches amounted to $904.10, being a decrease of $478.22, caused, doubtless, by the division of the Diocese.

The receipts (interest) from the invested funds amounted to $1,207.97, a decrease of $263.94, caused by default of payment of the January interest on $9,000 of the Richmond & Danville Railroad Company's bonds, but we have reason to hope and believe that this is but a temporary suspension on the part of this railroad, and that payment will be resumed at an early date. The investment is yet considered a safe one by those supposed to know something of the financial status of the company.

There are two vacancies in the Board caused by the deaths of our beloved associates, Rev. Dr. C. J. Gibson, and Rev. Dr. T. G. Dashiell.

Rev. J. B. Newton, D. D., and Rev. John K. Mason, D. D., of Richmond, were nominated by the Board of Managers to fill these vacancies.

Of the eighteen (18) beneficiaries now on our list, but five of them belong to the Diocese of Southern Virginia.

The Board could take no action in distributing the proceeds of the fund in hand at the annual meeting held this day, because of the division of the Diocese, and adjourned to meet again on the 31st inst.

Respectfully submitted,

E. B. ADDISON,
Secretary pro tem.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Rt. Rev. F. M. WHITTLE, D. D.:

Since the last Council I have read the service and preached as often as expedient, and performed such other services as were required in the vacant churches of the three Northern Convocations of the Diocese.

Number of services 267. Baptisms: infants 7, adults 2. Marriages: 1. Funerals: 1.

I do not report collections because they are reported in the Parochial Reports, and I do not think it right to report the same money twice. Owing to the loss of my diary I cannot make a detailed report of these services.

Rt. Rev. F. M. WHITTLE, D. D.,

Dear Bishop—I have preached every Sunday but two since my resignation, in August last, of Whittle Parish, Fauquier.

I have baptized one infant.

Since November last I have been officiating once a month at Amelia Courthouse, and since January, three or four times a month at West Point; at each of these places only as a supply, until they can get settled pastors.

Very respectfully, JAMES GRAMMER.

Miscellaneous.

PETERSBURG, VA., June 15th, 1893.

Rt. Rev. F. M. WHITTLE, D. D.,

President of the Board of Trustees of the

Bishop Payne Divinity and Industrial School:

Rt. Rev. and Dear Bishop—I respectfully report that the Divinity and Normal Departments of this Institution have been in constant operation during the past session.

We have had seven students in the Divinity School. Five of these have been faithful and earnest, so far as we know, and have made good progress in their studies. We hope they will be found fit for Priest's orders. One student, after a month's trial, was sent home, because, in the opinion of the Faculty, he was deficient in spirituality and in mental training. One was expelled for gross immorality.

Two of our last year's students left the Church during the summer, one going to the Methodists and the other to the Baptists.

I would respectfully suggest to the Board the establishment of a Preparatory Department, in which only men who are looking forward to the ministry shall be taught, and where they may be thoroughly tested as to their mental and moral qualifications. Since I have been Principal of the school not a single man has come to us who was prepared to study theology, though several have brought diplomas from institutions whose names would indicate that their graduates were well equipped.

I think some good work has been done in the Normal School. There will probably be four graduates (all girls) at the close of the session. We have had very few boys—only seven out of a total of fifty.

Most of the Normal School pupils have behaved very well. Two of the female boarders have been expelled for immorality.

The Sewing School has been kept up, and the teacher reports good work done.

Our faithful Matron, Mrs. M. Payne, notwithstanding the weight of years and infirmities due to hard work in the past for the negroes, both in Africa and America, has been able to perform her duties, but she has been much saddened by the conduct of the two girls referred to above, to whom she had been a true friend.

Miscellaneous.

The teachers in the Normal School, so far as I can judge, have, in the main, been faithful and conscientious.

Professor Spencer has been a great sufferer during the past spring and winter from rheumatism and from a disease of the eyes. Often, when unable to be at school, he has had the students in his room manfully battling against pain in his efforts to be faithful to his students and to the King. I have been able to render him some little assistance, and Mr. C. L. Avant, a Divinity student, has gladly taught one of his classes when necessary.

I have taught classes during the past session in Bible History, Church History and Homiletics in the Divinity School; and in the Prayer-Book, Church History, Logic and the Church Catechism in the Normal School.

Respectfully, R. A. GOODWIN.

PETERSBURG, VA., June 14th, 1893.

To the President and Board of Trustees

Bishop Payne Divinity and Industrial School:

During the past year I have been exceptionally kept back from my teaching work by serious sickness. This fact no one can regret as much as I do myself. Fortunately for the school, I know of no time in its history at which such interruption in my work could better be borne, the students with whom I was doing most being engaged in review work for the chaplains.

My work has been in Latin, Greek, Hebrew, Bible Introduction and Elementary Theology, together with the teaching of Mental and Moral Science with the Normal Middle class. Progress made by the Divinity students has been very fair, by the Normal scholars very poor.

Yours respectfully, THOMAS SPENCER.

The Report of the Secretary of the Virginia Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary, May, 1892, to May, 1893.

Rt. Rev. F. M. WHITTLE, D. D., President ex-officio:

In offering the third official Report, that sums up the "outward and visible sign" of the growing interest and practical proof of what is made so large a part of Auxiliary work, viz: "boxes and money," the delegates and friends of the Virginia branch must remember, if they contrast last year's receipts, that forty-three branches were then reported, to-day only twenty-two in this Diocese, and some of these recently organized, and from six we have not heard. Yet, we believe that an earnest and onward move in the interests of Mission, at home and abroad, is rousing the Church and bringing its members in touch with the Auxiliary; we repeat "the hope that a branch will soon be formed in every Parish."

The contributions of 1892 were $5,300, a gain of $1,000 over 1891; but though we have lost so heavily, by the division of the Diocese, we aggregate, in money and boxes, from the sixteen branches reporting, $4,462.18, four fifths of the amount reported last year from the entire number. If this generous sum has been given for Christ's sake, and for the glory and extension of His kingdom, we may truly rejoice and boldly undertake great things the coming year. Of this amount, the Junior Auxiliary has contributed, in boxes and money, $268.97 (only three out of seven reporting), and has been sent to Diocesan Missions, Indians and far off Alaska.

"Boxes" have been sent by the Women's Auxiliary to clergymen in Virginia and beyond our border, even to South Dakota, Minnesota and Alaska, in value $500. The gifts "in money" to Foreign Missions prove that Virginia is still true to them, for having given her most precious things, "her sons and daughters," to the work, she cannot withhold the silver and the gold, and $1,336.39 will tell her children in China, Japan, Brazil, that they are lovingly remembered, while Africa, too, shares a part. $427.25 has been given to the domestic work in the Dakota's and other Western and Southern Missionary jurisdictions, while the money for Diocesan Missionary work is $1,846.50, total $4,462.18. These are the material results. but the "high water mark" of the Auxiliary is not to be reached by "money and boxes;" in the work, must come the illumination of the divine purpose, to reveal Christ in us more clearly, so may we give back his light to the work.

Respectfully submitted,

S. STUART, Secretary.

Miscellaneous.

Special reports from the Missionaries in Porto Alegre, Rio Grande and Pelota, giving in detail the needs and prospects of those fields are herewith submitted.

The following facts, selected from these reports, are considered worthy of especial attention.

In the Porto Alegre District by far the best results and most promising openings are offered by the country neighborhoods. The church at Contracto grows and prospers. The brethren there are much rejoiced to hear that friends in Washington propose to build them a chapel. They have recently opened a new station among friends and relatives at a place called Passo Grande, where the gospel has been gladly received. The neighborhood near Viamao, called Estoucia Grande, has manifested great interest in the gospel; many families have definitely declared their intention of uniting with the Church. Snr. Cabral has made frequent tours to the other sections of State, being everywhere cordially received and respectfully heard. This country work, however, has been most imperfectly done, and frequent political disturbances have rendered travelling unsafe and often impossible.

In the city of Porto Alegre no large results can be expected until a suitable chapel has been arranged for the services, and a thorough equipment given to the school. The latter has been so diminished that it may be placed entirely under the direction of Miss Packard. The Missionaries have five youths under their training, while the Rev. Mr. Brown instructs our Catechist, Snr. Gabral, in Theology and in Greek, Hebrew and English.

The Rev. Mr. Kinsolving has succeeded in making Rio Grande the most satisfactory point, perhaps, in the whole Mission. The rented hall has been skilfully made into an attractive chapel, capable of seating two hundred persons. At every service there is a large and devout congregation. The English service, begun by the Rev. Mr. Brown, has been successfully continued. There are two schools, one in the city and the other in an island near by; these, though small, are giving satisfaction.

The Rev. Mr. Meem, accompanied by our appointed Catechist Snr. Antonia Fraga, went to Pelotas in the month of September

Miscellaneous.

Unable at first to rent a commodious house, they began services in a very small and inconvenient hall. These were at once crowded; attracted wide attention and aroused violent temporary opposition. Finally, our Missionaries have secured permanent quarters, and have won the respect and sympathy of the community. Their services are well attended, except in bad weather, and they report a great many souls thoroughly awakened and anxiously enquiring the way of life.

As proofs of our Society's activity, and as evidences of God's gracious response to prayer, we record the following blessings:

1. We have received a Service Book, being a translation into Portugese of the Morning and Evening Prayer, with the Litany and several selections of Psalms. This is now in use in Rio Grande and Porto Alegre.

2. We have been promised the visit of a Bishop at an early date.

3. We have been assured that two of our young men can be educated in the United States, so soon as they are ready to profit by the training.

We would still recommend as highly necessary:

1. A suitable house and property in Porto Alegre, to constitute the centre of educational and evangelistic agencies.

2. A thoroughly equipped school, capable of commanding the patronage of the best classes of the community.

3. A church building in Rio Grande, to accommodate the growing congregation.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES W. MORRIS,
LUCIEN LEE KINSOLVING,
WM. CABELL BROWN,
JOHN G. MEEM.
